Re: Celsius Network LLC et al., Case No. 22-10964 (MG) (Jointly Administered)

Dear Mr. DuChene:

Our firm represents Celsius Mining LLC (“Celsius”). As you may be aware, on July 13, 2022 (the “Petition Date”), Celsius, Celsius Network LLC, and certain of their affiliates (collectively, the “Debtors”) filed petitions for relief under title 11 of the United States Code (the “Bankruptcy Code”) in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York (the “Bankruptcy Court”). I write in regard to Core Scientific’s (“Core”) recent threats to terminate its contractual obligations and failure to otherwise perform under the Master Services Agreement (the “MSA”) and Order #10 to the MSA (“Order #10”) (together, the “Agreement”).¹

Upon the Debtors’ filing of their petitions, all creditors were automatically stayed from taking certain actions against the Debtors pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(a). Specifically, section 362(a)(3) of the Bankruptcy Code prohibits “any act to obtain possession of property of the estate or of property from the estate or to exercise control over property of the estate.” Because the Agreement is an executory contract under which mutual performance remains due, the Debtors’ interest in the Agreement constitutes property of the estate that is subject to the automatic stay. See, e.g., In re Enron Corp., 300 B.R. 201, 212 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2003); In re Drexel Burnham Lambert Group, Inc., 138 B.R. 687, 701 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 1992) (holding that executory contracts are property of the estate).

¹ The MSA is attached hereto as Exhibit A. Order #10 is attached hereto as Exhibit B. Capitalized terms used herein and not otherwise defined shall have the meanings given to them in the MSA or Order #10, as applicable.

It is blackletter law that threats to withhold contractual performance, or the failure to perform under an executory contract, violates the automatic stay. See, e.g., Enron, 300 B.R. at 212 (“[B]y unilaterally seeking to terminate [the agreement] and invoke its damages provisions, the Court finds that Claimant violated the automatic stay.”); In re Broadstripe, LLC, 402 B.R. 646, 657 (Bankr. D. Del. 2009), as amended (Mar. 10, 2009) (“By refusing to perform its obligations under the Member Agreement, NCTC is interfering with Broadstripe’s property rights under the Member Agreement and acting in violation of the automatic stay.”); In re Elder-Beerman Stores Corp., 195 B.R. 1019, 1024 (Bankr. S.D. Ohio 1996) (“Thomasville’s actions in attempting to cancel its contract with Elder-Beerman were in violation of the automatic stay.”).

By its actions, Core has violated the automatic stay in at least the following ways:

- Following the Petition Date, Core has threatened—both during a phone call on August 22, 2022, and in emails (see email attached hereto as Exhibit C)—to terminate the Agreement or withhold performance.
- Under the Agreement, Celsius is entitled to have, and Core is obligated to provide, 71 megawatts as of August 2022 (the hosting capacity to operate at least 22,536 Celsius rigs). But Core is providing Celsius with only 9.8 megawatts (just 2,785 Celsius rigs).
- Core continues to fail to inform Celsius of additional hosting availability, despite its obligation to do so under the parties’ Agreement.

In addition to violating the automatic stay, Core has breached the parties’ Agreement in numerous ways, both before and after the Petition Date. First, Core deviated substantially from the mining rig deployment schedule the parties agreed upon in Order #10. Core delayed deploying Celsius’s mining rigs several weeks—and even months—past the agreed-upon deployment dates. Second, Core failed to notify Celsius of additional hosting availability. Instead, between December 2021 and April 2022 Core increased its own mining fleet from 67,000 to 85,000 mining rigs, while failing to notify Celsius of any additional hosting availability.

Celsius has attempted to amicably resolve these delays with Core, and Core has acknowledged its fault for the delays on several occasions. For example, on May 25, 2022, Core represented to Celsius that it would deploy 8,490 mining rigs by June 2022. Celsius agreed to that representation and relied upon it. But that representation was false, and Core again failed to meet the parties’ agreed-upon deployment schedule.

Core’s refusal to honor the terms of the Agreement violates the Bankruptcy Code, constitutes a breach of contract, and contravenes the representations that Core made to Celsius and that Celsius relied upon. As a result of Core's delays, as of the end of August 2022, Celsius has suffered losses in excess of $20 million, and continues to suffer additional losses with each day that Core refuses to satisfy its contractual obligations and immediately deploy Celsius's mining rigs.

Because Core's actions violate the automatic stay, they are void and without effect, and may necessitate proceedings in the Bankruptcy Court with the attendant possibility of damages, sanctions, costs, and other expenses. See Fidelity Mortg. Inv'rs v. Camelia Builders, Inc., 550 F.2d 47 (2d Cir. 1976), cert. denied, 429 U.S. 1093 (1977); Cent. States, Se. and Sw. Areas Pension Fund v. Slotky, 956 F.2d 1369 (7th Cir. 1992).

The Debtors hereby demand that Core remedy its violations, withdraw its threats to withhold performance, and immediately deploy Celsius's mining rigs pursuant to the terms of the Agreement. If Celsius is not promptly provided written assurance that Core will do so, Celsius is fully prepared to take all actions available to it at law and equity, including seeking expedited relief from the Bankruptcy Court, forcing Core to perform pursuant to the terms of the Agreement, and pursuing claims for any and all damages incurred by Celsius as a result of Core's actions.

Please promptly confirm, in writing, that Core will immediately continue to honor its obligations under the Agreement and make no further attempt to terminate or otherwise fail to perform under the Agreement. If you have any questions or would like to discuss, please let me know. For the avoidance of doubt, the Debtors reserve all rights at law and in equity and waive none.

Sincerely,

/s/ Judson Brown

EXHIBIT A

MASTER SERVICES AGREEMENT

This Master Services Agreement (“Agreement”) effective as of December 18, 2020 (“Effective Date”) is between CORE SCIENTIFIC, INC. (“Company”) and CELSIUS CORE LLC (“Client”).

WHEREAS, Client desires access to locate its Client Equipment (as defined below) at the Company Facility (as defined below) and receive certain Services (as defined below); and

WHEREAS, Company desires to provide such Services at its Company Facility.

The parties agree as follows:

1. AGREEMENT STRUCTURE

a. This Agreement provides general terms applicable to Company’s provision of certain services, including, without limitation, colocation, hosting, rack space, security, monitoring, maintenance, utilities, Client Equipment maintenance and repair, facility management, account management, network and data access, technical support, and heat and thermal management services (“Services”) to Client in a data center owned or operated by Company or its affiliates (“Company Facility”) in mutually agreed transactions described in mutually executed ordering documents in the form of Exhibit A attached hereto that reference and are governed by this Agreement (“Orders”). Each Order will be a separate agreement between Company and Client and will be deemed to incorporate the terms of this Agreement by reference. Company may require Customer to provide evidence of creditworthiness or credit support acceptable to Company in its sole discretion as a condition to accepting any Order. In the event of any conflict or inconsistency between the terms of this Agreement and the specific terms of an Order, the specific terms of the Order govern with respect to such Order.

2. SERVICES AND COMPANY FACILITY

a. Company will provide Client the Services at a Company Facility set forth in an Order. This Agreement is not intended to and does not constitute a lease of any real or personal property or a grant of any other real property interest. Unless otherwise set forth in an Order, Client Equipment is owned by Client will not be construed as fixtures or fittings or otherwise attached to a Company Facility. Company retains title to all racking, connectors, fittings, parts and other materials used or provided by Company at a Company Facility to provide Client the Services. Client acknowledges and agrees that access to a Company Facility may be provided only during Company’s ordinary business hours and only upon Company’s prior written consent, which shall be subject in all events to the terms of this Agreement and may be withheld, conditioned or delayed in Company’s sole discretion.. Client will be liable for the actions of all persons accessing Company Facility on its behalf.

b. Company has the right to review and the sole right to approve any delivery, installation (including, without limitation, the location and position of Client Equipment at the Company Facility), replacement or removal work with respect to Client’s computer hardware or other tangible equipment (“Client Equipment”) at a Company Facility. Client shall be fully responsible for delivering all Client Equipment to Company at a specified Company Facility on or before the applicable scheduled delivery date, each as specified in an Order. Client will be responsible for all risk of loss or damage to Client Equipment at all times until such Client Equipment is accepted by Company at a designated Company Facility.

c. Client Equipment will adhere to Company’s specifications, procedures, rules, and regulations, including, without limitation, equipment labeling and tracking and security practices and policies for the Company Facility, all of which are incorporated herein by this reference. If Company determines in its sole discretion that Client Equipment or related operating software does not conform to its policies or is not suitable for the provision of Services at the Company Facility, Company may suspend installation of Client Equipment and operating software or commencement of the Services until Company approves of the Client Equipment and operating software. Company has no responsibility or liability for any loss or damage to Client Equipment, including without limitation any damage to Client Equipment, failure to adhere to any manufacturer warranty, the voiding of any manufacturer warranty or loss of or inability to collect under any manufacturer warranty, unless directly caused by the gross negligence, bad faith or willful misconduct of Company.

d. Client is responsible for costs and expenses regarding the installation, repair, replacement and removal of Client Equipment and tariffs, taxes, shipping costs or other expenses associated with owning, shipping, importing or transporting Client Equipment. Upon any expiration or termination of an applicable Order, Company will provide Client with a written notice, which may be by email (the "Retrieval Notice"), of the date when Client Equipment is ready to be removed from Company Facility, which will be at Client's sole expense. Such notice will document the condition of Client Equipment being prepared for shipment, any outstanding amounts owed by Client to Company and Client shall have five (5) calendar days from the date set forth in the Retrieval Notice to pay any outstanding amounts owed to Company and remove at Client's sole cost and expense Client Equipment from Company Facility. Client will hold Company harmless from any damage caused to Client Equipment during such pickup and removal of Client Equipment. The failure or delay by Client to retrieve Client Equipment on or before the date set forth in the Retrieval Notice will constitute abandonment of Client Equipment under the laws of the jurisdiction where the Client Equipment is located and Company will be entitled to pursue at Client's sole risk and expense all available remedies, including, without limitation, the actions set forth in Section 4(d), as applicable.

e. In order to continue to provide the Services, from time to time Company may request, and Client shall promptly provide, information regarding Client Equipment, Client's related operating software, Client's systems, and other information reasonably necessary in Company's provision of the Services.

f. If software and services of a third party are requested by Client in conjunction with the Services ("Third Party Services") and identified in an Order, Client acknowledges and agrees that such Third Party Services are the responsibility of the third party, subject to separate terms and conditions between such third party and Client and Company accepts no responsibility for the performance of such Third Party Services or any loss or damage arising from or associated with the provision of such Third Party Services.

3. PAYMENT TERMS AND TAXES

a. Company will invoice Client monthly in advance for all applicable fees for use of Company Facility and provision of Services as set forth in the applicable Order. Client will pay all invoiced amounts in US dollars within ten (10) calendar days of the date of the invoice. All payments must be (i) in US dollars into an ACH account number as set forth in the applicable Order; or (ii) to another account or form of payment directed by Company. Interest shall be charged on past due amounts at the lesser of (A) one and a half percent (1.5%) per month; or (B) the highest rate permitted by applicable law.

b. Client may, in good faith, dispute any invoice or any part thereof (a "Disputed Amount") by submitting a written notice of such dispute along with reasonable supporting documentation within three (3) calendar days of the date of the initial invoice on which the Disputed Amount appears, failing which Client waives all rights to dispute such Disputed Amount and to file any claim. Company will review the Disputed Amount after its receipt of the relevant notice and if Company determines that Client was billed in error, a credit for the amount invoiced incorrectly will be made to the next invoice. If Company determines that the amount was invoiced correctly, Client will pay the amount by the due date of the next invoice. For clarity, Client shall promptly pay all undisputed amounts.

c. All amounts payable to Company under this Agreement exclude applicable taxes. Client is responsible for (i) taxes related to its activities and the ownership and operation of Client Equipment; and (ii) taxes imposed, levied or assessed thereon by any governmental or other authorities. If Client is required to make any deduction, withholding or payment for taxes in any jurisdiction on amounts payable to Company, such amounts will be increased such that after making such deduction, Company receives an amount equal to what it would have received if such deduction, withholding or payment had not been made.

4. TERM, TERMINATION, MODIFICATION AND SUSPENSION

a. This Agreement commences on the Effective Date and continues until terminated as permitted by this Agreement. Each Order commences on the effective date set forth in the Order, has the initial term ("Initial Term") set forth in the Order, and thereafter automatically renews for the additional periods set forth in the Order, or if no renewal period is set forth then one (1) year periods, (each, a "Renewal term" and collectively, the "Term") unless Client notifies Company in writing not less than ninety (90) calendar days before such renewal of its desire for the order not to renew.

b. Either party may terminate an Order upon written notice to the other party and take such other action identified in Section 4 d. below if the other party materially breaches such Order or this Agreement and fails to cure such breach within thirty (30) calendar days (5 days in the case of failure to pay an Unpaid Balance (as defined below) or 2 days in the case of failure to pay an Unpaid Balance two or more times during any twelve month period). If the breach (other than Client failure to pay amounts when due) cannot be cured within thirty (30) calendar days, the breaching party shall be given a reasonable period of time, but not to exceed sixty (60) calendar days after receipt of the notice, to cure the breach, provided that the breaching party acts promptly and diligently to cure such breach.

c. Either party may terminate this Agreement upon written notice to the other party if there have been no Orders in effect for twelve (12) consecutive months.

d. In addition to the remedy set forth in Section 4 b. above if Client fails to pay all invoiced amounts when due (an "Unpaid Balance"), or otherwise fails to perform any of its obligations under this Agreement after opportunity to cure as provided in Section 4 b above Company may, in its sole discretion, take certain actions including, without limitation, the following actions, at Client's sole risk and expense:

- (i) suspend the provision of the Services;
- (ii) disconnect Client Equipment and store it;
- (iii) declare all amounts due under the applicable Order through the balance of the Term to be immediately due and payable;
- (iv) operate Client Equipment for cryptocurrency mining and other activities at Company's sole discretion and direct all resulting proceeds to Company's own account until Company has recovered all amounts due, including, without limitation, any reinstatement, disconnection or storage fees or costs;
- (v) terminate this Agreement and all Orders; and
- (vi) exercise all other rights under this Agreement, at law, in equity or otherwise.

Unless Company has terminated this Agreement, Company will reverse the suspension of the provision of the Company Facility and Services and disconnection of Client Equipment as soon as reasonably practical after it is satisfied Client has cured the acts or omissions giving rise to the suspension and disconnection. In connection with the foregoing, Company may charge a reinstatement fee. Thereafter, Company may, at its sole discretion, require an advance payment equal to the amount of one billing invoice.

e. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, Company may suspend its provision of all or a portion of the Services and disconnect all of a portion of Client Equipment immediately if Company determines in its sole discretion that: Client's use of the Services or Client Equipment (i) may adversely impact or pose a security risk to Company's operation or maintenance of the Company Facility or Company's other clients; (ii) may subject Company to liability; or (iii) is not in compliance with this Agreement or Company's policies. Company will use commercially reasonable efforts to notify Client, which may be via email or telephone, of such suspension or disconnection. Company will use commercially reasonable efforts to reverse such suspension or disconnection as soon as reasonably practical after it is satisfied that Client has cured the acts or omissions giving rise to such suspension and disconnection. In connection with the foregoing, Company may charge a reinstatement fee as set forth in the applicable Order. Further, Company may terminate this Agreement and all Orders if such suspension or disconnection continues for at least two (2) calendar days or occurs more than three (3) times in any twelve (12) month period. For clarity, during the period of suspension or disconnection, Client remains responsible for all fees and charges Client incurs during such period. Further, after the Effective Date, if Company determines in its sole and absolute discretion that as a result of any change in, or interpretation, introduction or administration of, any laws, regulations, statutes, treaties, rules, guidelines, ordinances, codes or the like, or any proposed or anticipated changes in, or interpretations, introduction or administration of the foregoing (a "Change in Law"), has resulted in an increase in Company's cost of compliance with such Change in Law then Company may, in its commercially reasonable discretion, take certain actions, including, without limitation, the following actions, at Client's sole risk and expense: (i) terminate this Agreement, any or all Orders; and/or (ii) modify the Services as may be necessary to account for such Change in Law. Company will use commercially reasonable efforts to notify Client of such Company actions and the effective date of such actions.

f. Further, and notwithstanding the Change in Law related costs above, after the Effective Date, if there are any increases, changes in, or introduction or administration of, any new taxes, levies, tariffs or governmental fees and charges with respect to the provision of Services, Company may, in its sole and absolute discretion, pass through all such amounts to Client ("Increased Costs") and Client shall pay all Increased Costs in accordance with the payment and invoicing procedures as set forth in this Agreement.

g. Company shall not be liable for any Client loss or damage whatsoever as a result of the exercise of its rights under this Agreement. Upon termination of this Agreement or an Order by Company, Company is entitled to recover from Client all loss or damages incurred by Company as a result of such termination, outstanding fees, costs, charges, assessments, reimbursements, and expenses (including, without limitation, costs of collection and reasonable attorneys' fees).

h. In addition to Section 4(f), the Company may terminate or suspend all or a portion of the Services if necessary to be in compliance with applicable law, rules, regulations, administrative or judicial orders or decree. Company will use commercially reasonable efforts to notify Client, which may be via email or telephone, of such suspension. Client agrees that the Company shall have no liability whatsoever to Client for any damage, loss, expense or cost as a result of such termination or suspension.

5. WARRANTIES, LIMITATION OF LIABILITY, INDEMNITY

a. Each party represents, warrants, and covenants that it has full legal capacity, right, power and authority to execute and perform its obligations under this Agreement. Company represents, warrants, and covenants that it will provide Company Facility and perform the Services in a professional and workmanlike manner. Client represents, warrants, and covenants (i) Client owns and has good title to Client Equipment, free and clear of any mortgage, pledge, lien, charge, security interest, claim or other encumbrance or has interest in Client Equipment as part of a financing or other arrangement disclosed and approved by Company; (ii) Client Equipment has no defects, is in good condition and is adequate for the purpose it will be used, and is not in need of maintenance or repair except for ordinary, routine maintenance and repairs that are not material in nature or cost; (iii) Client Equipment has not experienced any failure or outage and has not been modified in any way from its original manufactured condition; (iv) Client Equipment is in a condition suitable for continued optimal cryptocurrency mining operations, including, without limitation, in the same manner as conducted prior to the Effective Date; (v) Client Equipment has been operated at all times indoors in an appropriate temperature-controlled environment and consistent with the manufacturer's recommended temperatures and operating conditions; (vi) Client Equipment has always been transported and/or handled in a protected manner normally expected when transporting and/or handling sensitive computer hardware; (vii) Client will use the Services only for lawful purposes, and Client will not transmit, retransmit or store material with or in Client Equipment or with or in Company Facility in violation of any federal or state law or regulations or local code, rule, regulation or ordinance; and (viii) Client will comply with applicable laws and regulations in connection with this Agreement. Without limiting the foregoing, Client further represents, warrants, and covenants neither Client, any officer, director, employee, partner, controlling shareholder, affiliated entity nor anyone acting on Client's behalf (A) has used or disclosed or will use or disclose non-public information obtained from Company, (B) has violated or will violate applicable anti-bribery or anti-corruption laws, including the U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act and the U.K. Bribery Act 2010, (C) has violated or will violate applicable anti-money laundering statutes, or (D) is a Denied Party or subject to any U.S. sanction imposed by the Office of Foreign Assets Control of the U.S. Department of the Treasury.

b. EXCEPT AS OTHERWISE SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT, COMPANY DOES NOT MAKE AND HEREBY DISCLAIMS ALL WARRANTIES, INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, EXPRESS, IMPLIED AND STATUTORY WARRANTIES THAT COMPANY FACILITY OR SERVICES WILL BE UNINTERRUPTED, ERROR-FREE, OR COMPLETELY SECURE, AND THE IMPLIED WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY OR SATISFACTORY QUALITY, FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE AND NONINFRINGEMENT OF ANY THIRD PARTY'S INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS. ALL COMPANY FACILITY AND SERVICES ARE PROVIDED OR PERFORMED ON AN "AS IS", "AS AVAILABLE" BASIS, AND CLIENT'S USE OF THE COMPANY FACILITY AND SERVICES IS SOLELY AT ITS OWN RISK. CLIENT ACKNOWLEDGES AND AGREES THAT COMPANY DOES NOT AND CANNOT CONTROL THE FLOW OF DATA OR POWER TO OR FROM COMPANY'S NETWORK AND/OR THE INTERNET OR POWER GRID, WHICH ARE PROVIDED OR CONTROLLED BY THIRD PARTIES, AND THAT ACTIONS OR INACTIONS OF THIRD PARTIES CAN IMPAIR OR DISRUPT COMPANY'S CONNECTIONS TO THE INTERNET OR POWER GRID (OR PORTIONS THEREOF) INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, INTERRUPTIONS IN SERVICE CAUSED BY GOVERNMENT REGULATIONS OR ORDERS, SYSTEM CAPACITY LIMITATIONS OR LIMITATIONS IMPOSED BY, OR FAILURES OF, AN UNDERLYING COMMUNICATIONS CARRIER. COMPANY WILL ENDEAVOR TO TAKE ACTIONS IT DEEMS APPROPRIATE IN ITS SOLE DISCRETION TO REMEDY AND AVOID SUCH EVENTS. HOWEVER, COMPANY CANNOT AND DOES NOT GUARANTEE THAT SUCH EVENTS WILL NOT OCCUR, AND COMPANY DISCLAIMS ANY AND ALL LIABILITY RESULTING FROM OR RELATED TO SUCH EVENTS. COMPANY HEREBY DISCLAIMS ALL RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE ACTS OR OMISSIONS BY COMPANY'S OTHER CUSTOMERS AND CLIENTS AND OTHER THIRD PARTIES.

c. NOTWITHSTANDING ANYTHING TO THE CONTRARY IN THIS AGREEMENT, IN NO EVENT WILL EITHER PARTY BE LIABLE TO THE OTHER PARTY FOR (I) LOST PROFITS; (II) LOSS OF BUSINESS; (III) LOSS OF REVENUES (EXCEPT THAT CLIENT SHALL BE LIABLE FOR ANY FEES OR OTHER AMOUNTS OWED TO COMPANY UNDER THIS AGREEMENT); (IV) LOSS, INTERRUPTION OR USE OF DATA OR LOSS OF USE OF CLIENT EQUIPMENT; (V) ANY CONSEQUENTIAL OR INDIRECT DAMAGES; OR (VI) COST OF COVER, ANY INCIDENTAL, SPECIAL, RELIANCE, EXEMPLARY OR PUNITIVE DAMAGES (IF APPLICABLE), EVEN IF ADVISED OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGES.

d. NOTWITHSTANDING ANYTHING TO THE CONTRARY IN THIS AGREEMENT,

COMPANY'S TOTAL LIABILITY TO CLIENT IN THE AGGREGATE FOR THE ENTIRE TERM (REGARDLESS OF WHETHER THE CLAIMS ARE BROUGHT DURING OR AFTER THE TERM) WITH RESPECT TO ALL CLAIMS ARISING FROM OR RELATED TO THE SUBJECT MATTER OF THIS AGREEMENT (INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, ATTORNEYS' FEES) WILL NOT EXCEED AN AMOUNT EQUAL TO ONE (1) MONTHS FEE PAYABLE TO COMPANY PURSUANT TO THE APPLICABLE ORDER.

e. EXCEPT FOR CLIENT'S BREACH OF ITS OBLIGATIONS UNDER SECTIONS 4, 5 a, 5 h AND 6, AND LOSS OR DAMAGE ARISING OUT OF CLIENT'S GROSS NEGLIGENCE, BAD FAITH OR WILLFUL MISCONDUCT, THE LIMITATIONS SET FORTH IN SECTIONS 5 c AND 5 d WILL APPLY TO ALL CLAIMS AND CAUSES OF ACTION, REGARDLESS OF WHETHER IN CONTRACT, TORT, STRICT LIABILITY OR OTHER THEORY.

f. Client hereby waives the right to bring any claim against Company arising out of or in any way relating to an Order more than one (1) year after the date such Order expires or is terminated. Each party recognizes and agrees that the warranty disclaimers, limitations of liability and remedy limitations in this Agreement are materially bargained for by the parties.

g. Client acknowledges that cryptocurrency price movement, cryptocurrency difficulty, and legal and regulatory risks could have a material adverse impact on cryptocurrencies, cryptocurrency mining, Client Equipment, Services, and this Agreement. Client assumes responsibility for all such risks, and Company disclaims all types of liabilities or loss of funds that may arise as a result.

h. Client shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless Company and its affiliates, stockholders, directors, officers, employees, subcontractors and invitees from and against any losses, liabilities, damages, costs and expenses (including, without limitation, reasonable attorneys' fees) arising from or relating to (i) death, personal injury, bodily injury or property damage caused by Client or Client's customers or clients or Client Equipment; (ii) breach of Client's representations, warranties, or covenants in this Agreement or in an Order or Sections 2 or 6; (iii) fraud, bad faith, negligence or willful or reckless conduct of or by Client or Client's customers or clients; (iv) Client's or Client's customers' or clients' use of the Company Facility, Services, or Client Equipment; (v) any claim whatsoever by Client's customers or clients, or any third party related to the Services or Client Equipment; or (vi) any change in, or interpretation or administration of, any laws, regulations, statutes, treaties, rules, guidelines, ordinances, codes or the like, or any proposed or anticipated changes in, or interpretations or administration of the foregoing.

6. CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION

a. Each party acknowledges that it and its employees or agents may, in the course of performing its responsibilities under this Agreement, be exposed to or acquire information which is proprietary to or confidential to the other party, including, without limitation, business plans, strategies, forecasts and projections and information about business structures, operations, systems, finances, assets, investments, investment strategies, software and other technology systems, and personnel, customers and suppliers (collectively, "Confidential Information"). Company's Confidential Information also includes the design, address and location of the Company Facilities (which is deemed to be not publicly known), the Services provided, equipment used at the Company Facilities, the configuration of cables, networks and services at the Company Facilities and the terms of this Agreement. Neither party may use or copy any Confidential Information except to the limited extent necessary to perform its obligations under this Agreement and will not disclose any Confidential Information to any person or entity other than to its employees who have a need to know the Confidential Information or as otherwise expressly permitted by this Agreement. Each party shall use the same measures that it uses to protect its own most confidential and proprietary information to protect the Confidential Information from use or disclosure in violation of this Agreement, but in no event less than commercially reasonable measures.

b. The restrictions on use of Confidential Information do not apply to information if it (i) is known to the receiving party prior to receipt from the disclosing party directly or indirectly from a source other than one having an obligation of confidentiality to the disclosing party; (ii) becomes known (independently of disclosure by the disclosing party) to the receiving party directly or indirectly from a source other than one having an obligation of confidentiality to the disclosing party; (iii) becomes publicly known or otherwise ceases to be confidential, except through a breach of this Agreement by the receiving party; or (iv) is independently developed by the receiving party. For the avoidance of doubt, the mere placement of materials or equipment containing information at a Company Facility does not constitute disclosure of such information to Company.

c. Upon termination or expiration of this Agreement, or at any other time at the request of the other party, each party shall return to the other party, or destroy and delete, as applicable, all Confidential Information and any copies thereof in its possession or control.

d. Neither party may use the other party's trademarks, service marks, trade names, copyrights, other intellectual property rights or other designations in any promotion, publication or press release without the prior written consent of the other party in each case, which consent may be given in an Order.

7. INSURANCE

a. Client agrees to maintain the following insurance, at its expense, during the Term, with insurers having a minimum AM Best rating of A- VII or S&P rating of A: (i) Commercial General Liability or Public Liability Insurance with a limit of US $2,000,000 per occurrence, US $4,000,000 in the aggregate (or the local currency equivalent), provided these limits may be achieved through a combination of primary and excess policies and such insurance will include coverage for bodily injury and property damage.

b. Client will furnish Company with certificates of insurance upon request that evidence the minimum levels of insurance set forth herein, list Company as an additional insured or interested party on the Commercial General Liability or Public Liability Insurance and designate that Client's insurance is primary and non-contributory. Client will provide at least thirty (30) days' prior written notice to Company of any non-renewal or cancellation of the policies referenced above.

8. MISCELLANEOUS

a. Notice. Except where expressly provided in this Agreement or an Order, all notices, consents, or approvals required by this Agreement will only be in writing and sent by overnight courier, certified or registered mail, overnight delivery requiring a signature upon receipt, or delivery by hand to the parties at the respective addresses set forth on the first page of this Agreement. Notice is effective when received.

b. Entire Agreement. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter of this Agreement, and supersedes and replaces all prior or contemporaneous discussions, negotiations, proposals, understandings and agreements, written or oral, as well as any industry custom. Each party acknowledges that, in entering into this Agreement, it has not relied on, and shall have no right or remedy in respect of, any statement, representation, assurance or warranty other than as expressly set out in this Agreement. This Agreement may be executed in two (2) or more counterparts (and the signature pages may be delivered with ink or electronic signature or by e-mail), each will be deemed an original, but all together will constitute one and the same instrument. Except where otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement, this Agreement may be amended only by the written agreement of both parties.

c. Survival. Any provision of this Agreement, which, by its nature, would survive termination or expiration of this Agreement will survive any such termination or expiration, including, without limitation, those provisions concerning confidentiality, indemnification and limitation of liability.

d. Subcontracting and Assignment. Company may permit any affiliate, independent contractor or other third party to perform any of Company's obligations hereunder provided that Company remains primarily liable for the performance of its obligations. Company may assign, delegate, or transfer this Agreement or any of its rights and obligations hereunder without notice to or prior written consent of Client. Client may not assign, delegate or transfer this Agreement or any of its rights and obligations hereunder without the prior written consent of Company. Any assignment or transfer in violation of this Agreement is void. This Agreement will be binding upon and inure to the benefit of all permitted successors and assigns. Nothing in this Agreement is intended to or will confer upon any third party any right, benefit or remedy of any nature whatsoever under or by reason of this Agreement

e. Force Majeure. Except for Client's obligation to pay amounts owed under this Agreement, neither party will be responsible or in any way liable to the other party, and neither party will have any termination or other rights, arising out of or relating to a Force Majeure Event. A "Force Majeure Event" is a failure by the other party to perform any of its obligations under this Agreement if such failure is caused by events or circumstances beyond its reasonable control, including, without limitation, acts of God, war, labor strike, terrorist act, fire, flood, earthquake, landslide, hurricane, typhoon, tsunami, volcanic eruption, inclement weather, health epidemic or any law, order, regulation or other action of any governing authority or agency.

f. Governing Law and Arbitration. Re: Master Services Agreement Between Core Scientific Inc. and Celsius Network LLC, Dated December 18, 2020 (the "Master Services Agreement")

Dear Mr. Brown:

Cooley is counsel to Core Scientific, Inc. ("Core"). In that capacity, I am responding to your letter to Todd DuChene dated September 9, 2022 regarding the above referenced Master Services Agreement (the "Agreement") and various Orders that incorporate the Agreement (the "September 9 Letter"). All capitalized terms have the meanings given to them in the Agreement unless otherwise defined.

Your September 9 Letter accuses Core of "threats to terminate" the Agreement and "failure to otherwise perform under the [Agreement]." These accusations are baseless. The sole evidence cited in support of the alleged "threats to terminate" is an automatically generated message from Core's accounts payable email address. (September 9 Letter, Ex. C.) This automatically generated email cites a list of remedies for non-payment that are standard to Core's service agreements, and which appear in Section 4 of the Agreement between Core and Celsius. Notably, the automated email does not actually invoke any of the referenced remedies, let alone termination. Furthermore, there is no indication that any real person from Core initiated the email transmission to Celsius or had its debtor in possession status in mind. No reasonable person could form a belief that the automated communication constituted a threat to terminate the Agreement.¹ To resolve all doubt, Core disclaims the automated email as an invocation of Section 4 of the Agreement.

Celsius' accusations of breach also lack merit. First, Core is not obligated to "inform Celsius of additional hosting availability." The Agreement contains no such requirement, and Core identifies no provision in the Agreement to support such a claim. Core disputes Celsius' claim that Core has failed to provide Celsius with hosting capacity in accordance with the Agreement or any Order. For example, Celsius does not allege that Core has taken any Client Equipment off-line or refused to install any Client Equipment. Celsius alleges certain delays from earlier in 2022 but does not specify any pending uncured breaches by Core, let alone any threats by Core to breach the Agreement. Moreover, any alleged breaches would be subject to the cure periods set forth in Section 4(b) of the Agreement and subject to the limitation of liability provisions of Section 5.

For these reasons, the authorities cited in the September 9 Letter are inapposite to the facts. Core reserves all of its legal rights, including without limitations, all rights as a creditor under the Bankruptcy Code.

While Celsius prematurely and without basis rushes to judgment that Core has threatened to terminate the Agreement (or is in material uncured breach), the fact remains that Celsius has accrued, and is accruing, post-petition obligations under the Agreement, and it appears that Celsius desires that its contractual arrangement with Celsius be a central piece of its reorganization plans. (See e.g. Ex. C to September 9, 2022 Letter.) If that is indeed the case, and as I'm sure you are aware (i) Celsius must perform its own monetary obligations under the Agreement during the pendency of its chapter 11 proceeding in order to continue to enjoy the benefits of a continuing relationship with Core; and (ii) to the extent it wishes to assume the Agreement, it must make the requisite showing of adequate assurances of future performance and cure its outstanding obligations, including any payments owed to Celsius at this time. Otherwise, Core will have no option but to seek remedies and relief from the Court with respect to the Agreement. The September 9, 2022 Letter is conspicuously silent on those vital issues, which are necessary to continue the current commercial arrangement. As I described in our telephone call on September 14, Core had been expecting the parties to continue in discussions of how they may wish to proceed with their relationship under the Agreement, now that Celsius is a debtor in possession. Core welcomes such discussions and is committed to engaging in good faith and reserves all rights with respect to all of the foregoing.

Sincerely,

MASTER SERVICES AGREEMENT

This Master Services Agreement (“Agreement”) effective as of December 3, 2021 (“Effective Date”) is between CORE SCIENTIFIC, INC. (“Company”) and CELSIUS MINING LLC (“Client”).

WHEREAS, Client desires access to locate its Client Equipment (as defined below) at the Company Facility (as defined below) and receive certain Services (as defined below); and

WHEREAS, Company desires to provide such Services at its Company Facility.

The parties agree as follows:

1. AGREEMENT STRUCTURE

a. This Agreement provides general terms applicable to Company’s provision of certain services, including, without limitation, colocation, hosting, rack space, security, monitoring, maintenance, utilities, Client Equipment maintenance and repair, facility management, account management, network and data access, technical support, and heat and thermal management services (“Services”) to Client in a data center owned or operated by Company or its affiliates (“Company Facility”) in mutually agreed transactions described in mutually executed ordering documents in the form of Exhibit A attached hereto that reference and are governed by this Agreement (“Orders”). Each Order will be a separate agreement between Company and Client and will be deemed to incorporate the terms of this Agreement by reference. Company may require Customer to provide evidence of creditworthiness or credit support acceptable to Company in its sole discretion as a condition to accepting any Order. In the event of any conflict or inconsistency between the terms of this Agreement and the specific terms of an Order, the specific terms of the Order govern with respect to such Order.

2. SERVICES AND COMPANY FACILITY

a. Company will provide Client the Services at a Company Facility set forth in an Order. This Agreement is not intended to and does not constitute a lease of any real or personal property or a grant of any other real property interest. Unless otherwise set forth in an Order, Client Equipment is owned by Client will not be construed as fixtures or fittings or otherwise attached to a Company Facility. Company retains title to all racking, connectors, fittings, parts and other materials used or provided by Company at a Company Facility to provide Client the Services. Client acknowledges and agrees that access to a Company Facility may be provided only during Company’s ordinary business hours and only upon Company’s prior written consent, which shall be subject in all events to the terms of this Agreement and may be withheld, conditioned or delayed in Company’s sole discretion.. Client will be liable for the actions of all persons accessing Company Facility on its behalf.

b. Company has the right to review and the sole right to approve any delivery, installation (including, without limitation, the location and position of Client Equipment at the Company Facility), replacement or removal work with respect to Client’s computer hardware or other tangible equipment (“Client Equipment”) at a Company Facility. Client shall be fully responsible for delivering all Client Equipment to Company at a specified Company Facility on or before the applicable scheduled delivery date, each as specified in an Order. Client will be responsible for all risk of loss or damage to Client Equipment at all times until such Client Equipment is accepted by Company at a designated Company Facility.

c. Client Equipment will adhere to Company’s specifications, procedures, rules, and regulations, including, without limitation, equipment labeling and tracking and security practices and policies for the Company Facility, all of which are incorporated herein by this reference. If Company determines in its sole discretion that Client Equipment or related operating software does not conform to its policies or is not suitable for the provision of Services at the Company Facility, Company may suspend installation of Client Equipment and operating software or commencement of the Services until Company approves of the Client Equipment and operating software. Company has no responsibility or liability for any loss or damage to Client Equipment, including without limitation any damage to Client Equipment, failure to adhere to any manufacturer warranty, the voiding of any manufacturer warranty or loss of or inability to collect under any manufacturer warranty, unless directly caused by the gross negligence, bad faith or willful misconduct of Company.

d. Client is responsible for costs and expenses regarding the installation, repair, replacement and removal of Client Equipment and tariffs, taxes, shipping costs or other expenses associated with owning, shipping, importing or transporting Client Equipment. Upon any expiration or termination of an applicable Order, Company will provide Client with a written notice, which may be by email (the “Retrieval Notice”), of the date when Client Equipment is ready to be removed from Company Facility, which will be at Client’s sole expense. Such notice will document the condition of Client Equipment being prepared for shipment, any outstanding amounts owed by Client to Company and Client shall have five (5) calendar days from the date set forth in the Retrieval Notice to pay any outstanding amounts owed to Company and remove at Client’s sole cost and expense Client Equipment from Company Facility. Client will hold Company harmless from any damage caused to Client Equipment during such pickup and removal of Client Equipment. The failure or delay by Client to retrieve Client Equipment on or before the date set forth in the Retrieval Notice will constitute abandonment of Client Equipment under the laws of the jurisdiction where the Client Equipment is located and Company will be entitled to pursue at Client’s sole risk and expense all available remedies, including, without limitation, the actions set forth in Section 4(d), as applicable.

e. In order to continue to provide the Services, from time to time Company may request, and Client shall promptly provide, information regarding Client Equipment, Client’s related operating software, Client’s systems, and other information reasonably necessary in Company’s provision of the Services.

f. If software and services of a third party are requested by Client in conjunction with the Services (“Third Party Services”) and identified in an Order, Client acknowledges and agrees that such Third Party Services are the responsibility of the third party, subject to separate terms and conditions between such third party and Client and Company accepts no responsibility for the performance of such Third Party Services or any loss or damage arising from or associated with the provision of such Third Party Services.

3. PAYMENT TERMS AND TAXES

a. Company will invoice Client monthly in advance for all applicable fees for use of Company Facility and provision of Services as set forth in the applicable Order. Client will pay all invoiced amounts in US dollars within ten (10) calendar days of the date of the invoice. All payments must be (i) in US dollars into an ACH account number as set forth in the applicable Order; or (ii) to another account or form of payment directed by Company. Interest shall be charged on past due amounts at the lesser of (A) one and a half percent (1.5%) per month; or (B) the highest rate permitted by applicable law.

b. Client may, in good faith, dispute any invoice or any part thereof (a “Disputed Amount”) by submitting a written notice of such dispute along with reasonable supporting documentation within three (3) calendar days of the date of the initial invoice on which the Disputed Amount appears, failing which Client waives all rights to dispute such Disputed Amount and to file any claim. Company will review the Disputed Amount after its receipt of the relevant notice and if Company determines that Client was billed in error, a credit for the amount invoiced incorrectly will be made to the next invoice. If Company determines that the amount was invoiced correctly, Client will pay the amount by the due date of the next invoice. For clarity, Client shall promptly pay all undisputed amounts.

c. All amounts payable to Company under this Agreement exclude applicable taxes. Sales tax on equipment will be billed to the Client, collected by the Company and remitted to the appropriate state tax authority as required, unless Client presents the Company with a valid sales tax exemption certificate. Client is responsible for (i) taxes related to its activities and the ownership and operation of Client Equipment; and (ii) taxes imposed, levied or assessed thereon by any governmental or other authorities. If Client is required to make any deduction, withholding or payment for taxes in any jurisdiction on amounts payable to Company, such amounts will be increased such that after making such deduction, Company receives an amount equal to what it would have received if such deduction, withholding or payment had not been made.

4. TERM, TERMINATION, MODIFICATION AND SUSPENSION

a. This Agreement commences on the Effective Date and continues until terminated as permitted by this Agreement. Each Order commences on the effective date set forth in the Order, has the initial term (“Initial Term”) set forth in the Order, and thereafter automatically renews for the additional periods set forth in the Order, or if no renewal period is set forth then one (1) year periods, (each, a “Renewal term” and collectively, the “Term”) unless Client notifies Company in writing not less than ninety (90) calendar days before such renewal of its desire for the order not to renew.

b. Either party may terminate an Order upon written notice to the other party and take such other action identified in Section 4 d. below if the other party materially breaches such Order or this Agreement and fails to cure such breach within thirty (30) calendar days (5 days in the case of failure to pay an Unpaid Balance (as defined below) or 2 days in the case of failure to pay an Unpaid Balance two or more times during any twelve month period) . If the breach (other than Client failure to pay amounts when due) cannot be cured within thirty (30) calendar days, the breaching party shall be given a reasonable period of time, but not to exceed sixty (60) calendar days after receipt of the notice, to cure the breach, provided that the breaching party acts promptly and diligently to cure such breach.

c. Either party may terminate this Agreement upon written notice to the other party if there have been no Orders in effect for twelve (12) consecutive months.

d. In addition to the remedy set forth in Section 4 b. above if Client fails to pay all invoiced amounts when due (an “Unpaid Balance”), or otherwise fails to perform any of its obligations under this Agreement after opportunity to cure as provided in Section 4 b above Company may, in its sole discretion, take certain actions including, without limitation, the following actions, at Client’s sole risk and expense:

- (i) suspend the provision of the Services;
- (ii) disconnect Client Equipment and store it;
- (iii) declare all amounts due under the applicable Order through the balance of the Term to be immediately due and payable;
- (iv) operate Client Equipment for cryptocurrency mining and other activities at Company’s sole discretion and direct all resulting proceeds to Company’s own account until Company has recovered all amounts due, including, without limitation, any reinstatement, disconnection or storage fees or costs;
- (v) terminate this Agreement and all Orders; and

(vi) exercise all other rights under this Agreement, at law, in equity or otherwise.

Unless Company has terminated this Agreement, Company will reverse the suspension of the provision of the Company Facility and Services and disconnection of Client Equipment as soon as reasonably practical after it is satisfied Client has cured the acts or omissions giving rise to the suspension and disconnection. In connection with the foregoing, Company may charge a reinstatement fee. Thereafter, Company may, at its sole discretion, require an advance payment equal to the amount of one billing invoice.

e. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, Company may suspend its provision of all or a portion of the Services and disconnect all of a portion of Client Equipment immediately if Company determines in its sole discretion that: Client's use of the Services or Client Equipment (i) may adversely impact or pose a security risk to Company's operation or maintenance of the Company Facility or Company's other clients; (ii) may subject Company to liability; or (iii) is not in compliance with this Agreement or Company's policies. Company will use commercially reasonable efforts to notify Client, which may be via email or telephone, of such suspension or disconnection. Company will use commercially reasonable efforts to reverse such suspension or disconnection as soon as reasonably practical after it is satisfied that Client has cured the acts or omissions giving rise to such suspension and disconnection. In connection with the foregoing, Company may charge a reinstatement fee as set forth in the applicable Order. Further, Company may terminate this Agreement and all Orders if such suspension or disconnection continues for at least two (2) calendar days or occurs more than three (3) times in any twelve (12) month period. For clarity, during the period of suspension or disconnection, Client remains responsible for all fees and charges Client incurs during such period. Further, after the Effective Date, if Company determines in its sole and absolute discretion that as a result of any change in, or interpretation, introduction or administration of, any laws, regulations, statutes, treaties, rules, guidelines, ordinances, codes or the like, or any proposed or anticipated changes in, or interpretations, introduction or administration of the foregoing (a "Change in Law"), has resulted in an increase in Company's cost of compliance with such Change in Law then Company may, in its commercially reasonable discretion, take certain actions, including, without limitation, the following actions, at Client's sole risk and expense: (i) terminate this Agreement, any or all Orders; and/or (ii) modify the Services as may be necessary to account for such Change in Law. Company will use commercially reasonable efforts to notify Client of such Company actions and the effective date of such actions.

f. Further, and notwithstanding the Change in Law related costs above, after the Effective Date, if there are any increases, changes in, or introduction or administration of, any new taxes, levies, tariffs or governmental fees and charges with respect to the provision of Services, Company may, in its sole and absolute discretion, pass through all such amounts to Client ("Increased Costs") and Client shall pay all Increased Costs in accordance with the payment and invoicing procedures as set forth in this Agreement.

g. Company shall not be liable for any Client loss or damage whatsoever as a result of the exercise of its rights under this Agreement. Upon termination of this Agreement or an Order by Company, Company is entitled to recover from Client all loss or damages incurred by Company as a result of such termination, outstanding fees, costs, charges, assessments, reimbursements, and expenses (including, without limitation, costs of collection and reasonable attorneys' fees).

h. In addition to Section 4(f), the Company may terminate or suspend all or a portion of the Services if necessary to be in compliance with applicable law, rules, regulations, administrative or judicial orders or decree. Company will use commercially reasonable efforts to notify Client, which may be via email or telephone, of such suspension. Client agrees that the Company shall have no liability whatsoever to Client for any damage, loss, expense or cost as a result of such termination or suspension.

5. WARRANTIES, LIMITATION OF LIABILITY, INDEMNITY

a. Each party represents, warrants, and covenants that it has full legal capacity, right, power and authority to execute and perform its obligations under this Agreement. Company represents, warrants, and covenants that it will provide Company Facility and perform the Services in a professional and workmanlike manner. Without limiting the foregoing, Client further represents, warrants, and covenants neither Client, any officer, director, employee, partner, controlling shareholder, affiliated entity nor anyone acting on Client's behalf (A) has used or disclosed or will use or disclose non-public information obtained from Company, (B) has violated or will violate applicable anti-bribery or anti-corruption laws, including the U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act and the U.K. Bribery Act 2010, (C) has violated or will violate applicable anti-money laundering statutes, or (D) is a Denied Party or subject to any U.S. sanction imposed by the Office of Foreign Assets Control of the U.S. Department of the Treasury.

CLIENT ACKNOWLEDGES AND AGREES THAT COMPANY DOES NOT AND CANNOT CONTROL THE FLOW OF DATA OR POWER TO OR FROM COMPANY'S NETWORK AND/OR THE INTERNET OR POWER GRID, WHICH ARE PROVIDED OR CONTROLLED BY THIRD PARTIES, AND THAT ACTIONS OR INACTIONS OF THIRD PARTIES CAN IMPAIR OR DISRUPT COMPANY'S CONNECTIONS TO THE INTERNET OR POWER GRID (OR PORTIONS THEREOF) INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, INTERRUPTIONS IN SERVICE CAUSED BY GOVERNMENT REGULATIONS OR ORDERS, SYSTEM CAPACITY LIMITATIONS OR LIMITATIONS IMPOSED BY, OR FAILURES OF, AN UNDERLYING COMMUNICATIONS CARRIER. COMPANY WILL ENDEAVOR TO TAKE ACTIONS IT DEEMS APPROPRIATE IN ITS SOLE DISCRETION TO REMEDY AND AVOID SUCH EVENTS. HOWEVER, COMPANY CANNOT AND DOES NOT GUARANTEE THAT SUCH EVENTS WILL NOT OCCUR, AND COMPANY DISCLAIMS ANY AND ALL LIABILITY RESULTING FROM OR RELATED TO SUCH EVENTS. COMPANY HEREBY DISCLAIMS ALL RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE ACTS OR OMISSIONS BY COMPANY'S

c. NOTWITHSTANDING ANYTHING TO THE CONTRARY IN THIS AGREEMENT, IN NO EVENT WILL EITHER PARTY BE LIABLE TO THE OTHER PARTY FOR (I) LOST PROFITS; (II) LOSS OF BUSINESS; (III) LOSS OF REVENUES (EXCEPT THAT CLIENT SHALL BE LIABLE FOR ANY FEES OR OTHER AMOUNTS OWED TO COMPANY UNDER THIS AGREEMENT); (IV) LOSS, INTERRUPTION OR USE OF DATA OR LOSS OF USE OF CLIENT EQUIPMENT; (V) ANY CONSEQUENTIAL OR INDIRECT DAMAGES; OR (VI) COST OF COVER, ANY INCIDENTAL, SPECIAL, RELIANCE, EXEMPLARY OR PUNITIVE DAMAGES (IF APPLICABLE), EVEN IF ADVISED OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGES.

d. NOTWITHSTANDING ANYTHING TO THE CONTRARY IN THIS AGREEMENT, COMPANY'S TOTAL LIABILITY TO CLIENT IN THE AGGREGATE FOR THE ENTIRE TERM (REGARDLESS OF WHETHER THE CLAIMS ARE BROUGHT DURING OR AFTER THE TERM) WITH RESPECT TO ALL CLAIMS ARISING FROM OR RELATED TO THE SUBJECT MATTER OF THIS AGREEMENT (INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, ATTORNEYS' FEES) WILL NOT EXCEED AN AMOUNT EQUAL TO ONE (1) MONTHS FEE PAYABLE TO COMPANY PURSUANT TO THE APPLICABLE ORDER.

e. EXCEPT FOR CLIENT'S BREACH OF ITS OBLIGATIONS UNDER SECTIONS 4, 5 a, 5 h AND 6, AND LOSS OR DAMAGE ARISING OUT OF CLIENT'S GROSS NEGLIGENCE, BAD FAITH OR WILLFUL MISCONDUCT, THE LIMITATIONS SET FORTH IN SECTIONS 5 c AND 5 d WILL APPLY TO ALL CLAIMS AND CAUSES OF ACTION, REGARDLESS OF WHETHER IN CONTRACT, TORT, STRICT LIABILITY OR OTHER THEORY.

f. Client hereby waives the right to bring any claim against Company arising out of or in any way relating to an Order more than one (1) year after the date such Order expires or is terminated. Each party recognizes and agrees that the warranty disclaimers, limitations of liability and remedy limitations in this Agreement are materially bargained for by the parties.

g. Client acknowledges that cryptocurrency price movement, cryptocurrency difficulty, and legal and regulatory risks could have a material adverse impact on cryptocurrencies, cryptocurrency mining, Client Equipment, Services, and this Agreement. Client assumes responsibility for all such risks, and Company disclaims all types of liabilities or loss of funds that may arise as a result.

h. Client shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless Company and its affiliates, stockholders, directors, officers, employees, subcontractors and invitees from and against any losses, liabilities, damages, costs and expenses (including, without limitation, reasonable attorneys' fees) arising from or relating to (i) death, personal injury, bodily injury or property damage caused by Client or Client's customers or clients or Client Equipment; (ii) breach of Client's representations, warranties, or covenants in this Agreement or in an Order or Sections 2 or 6; (iii) fraud, bad faith, negligence or willful or reckless conduct of or by Client or Client's customers or clients; (iv) Client's or Client's customers' or clients' use of the Company Facility, Services, or Client Equipment; (v) any claim whatsoever by Client's customers or clients, or any third party related to the Services or Client Equipment; or (vi) any change in, or interpretation or administration of, any laws, regulations, statutes, treaties, rules, guidelines, ordinances, codes or the like, or any proposed or anticipated changes in, or interpretations or administration of the foregoing.

6. CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION

responsibilities under this Agreement, be exposed to or acquire information which is proprietary to or confidential to the other party, including, without limitation, business plans, strategies, forecasts and projections and information about business structures, operations, systems, finances, assets, investments, investment strategies, software and other technology systems, and personnel, customers and suppliers (collectively, “Confidential Information”). Company’s Confidential Information also includes the design, address and location of the Company Facilities (which is deemed to be not publicly known), the Services provided, equipment used at the Company Facilities, the configuration of cables, networks and services at the Company Facilities and the terms of this Agreement. Neither party may use or copy any Confidential Information except to the limited extent necessary to perform its obligations under this Agreement and will not disclose any Confidential Information to any person or entity other than to its employees who have a need to know the Confidential Information or as otherwise expressly permitted by this Agreement. Each party shall use the same measures that it uses to protect its own most confidential and proprietary information to protect the Confidential Information from use or disclosure in violation of this Agreement, but in no event less than commercially reasonable measures.

b. The restrictions on use of Confidential Information do not apply to information if it (i) is known to the receiving party prior to receipt from the disclosing party directly or indirectly from a source other than one having an obligation of confidentiality to the disclosing party; (ii) becomes known (independently of disclosure by the disclosing party) to the receiving party directly or indirectly from a source other than one having an obligation of confidentiality to the disclosing party; (iii) becomes publicly known or otherwise ceases to be confidential, except through a breach of this Agreement by the receiving party; or (iv) is independently developed by the receiving party. For the avoidance of doubt, the mere placement of materials or equipment containing information at a Company Facility does not constitute disclosure of such information to Company.

c. Upon termination or expiration of this Agreement, or at any other time at the request of the other party, each party shall return to the other party, or destroy and delete, as applicable, all Confidential Information and any copies thereof in its possession or control.

d. Neither party may use the other party’s trademarks, service marks, trade names, copyrights, other intellectual property rights or other designations in any promotion, publication or press release without the prior written consent of the other party in each case, which consent may be given in an Order.

7. INSURANCE

a. Client agrees to maintain the following insurance, at its expense, during the Term, with insurers having a minimum AM Best rating of A- VII or S&P rating of A: (i) Commercial General Liability or Public Liability Insurance with a limit of US $2,000,000 per occurrence, US $4,000,000 in the aggregate (or the local currency equivalent), provided these limits may be achieved through a combination of primary and excess policies and such insurance will include coverage for bodily injury and property damage.

b. Client will furnish Company with certificates of insurance upon request that evidence the minimum levels of insurance set forth herein, list Company as an additional insured or interested party on the Commercial General Liability or Public Liability Insurance and designate that Client’s insurance is primary and non-contributory. Client will provide at least thirty (30) days’ prior written notice to Company of any non-renewal or cancellation of the policies referenced above.

Except where expressly provided in this Agreement or an Order, all notices, consents, or approvals required by this Agreement will only be in writing and sent by overnight courier, certified or registered mail, overnight delivery requiring a signature upon receipt, or delivery by hand to the parties at the respective addresses set forth on the first page of this Agreement. Notice is effective when received.
- b. Entire Agreement. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter of this Agreement, and supersedes and replaces all prior or contemporaneous discussions, negotiations, proposals, understandings and agreements, written or oral, as well as any industry custom. Each party acknowledges that, in entering into this Agreement, it has not relied on, and shall have no right or remedy in respect of, any statement, representation, assurance or warranty other than as expressly set out in this Agreement. This Agreement may be executed in two (2) or more counterparts (and the signature pages may be delivered with ink or electronic signature or by e-mail), each will be deemed an original, but all together will constitute one and the same instrument. Except where otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement, this Agreement may be amended only by the written agreement of both parties.
- c. Survival. Any provision of this Agreement, which, by its nature, would survive termination or expiration of this Agreement will survive any such termination or expiration, including, without limitation, those provisions concerning confidentiality, indemnification and limitation of liability.
- d. Subcontracting and Assignment. Company may permit any affiliate, independent contractor or other third party to perform any of Company's obligations hereunder provided that Company remains primarily liable for the performance of its obligations. Company may assign, delegate, or transfer this Agreement or any of its rights and obligations hereunder without notice to or prior written consent of Client. Client may not assign, delegate or transfer this Agreement or any of its rights and obligations hereunder without the prior written consent of Company. Any assignment or transfer in violation of this Agreement is void. This Agreement will be binding upon and inure to the benefit of all permitted successors and assigns. Nothing in this Agreement is intended to or will confer upon any third party any right, benefit or remedy of any nature whatsoever under or by reason of this Agreement
- e. Force Majeure. Except for Client's obligation to pay amounts owed under this Agreement, neither party will be responsible or in any way liable to the other party, and neither party will have any termination or other rights, arising out of or relating to a Force Majeure Event. A "Force Majeure Event" is a failure by the other party to perform any of its obligations under this Agreement if such failure is caused by events or circumstances beyond its reasonable control, including, without limitation, acts of God, war, labor strike, terrorist act, fire, flood, earthquake, landslide, hurricane, typhoon, tsunami, volcanic eruption, inclement weather, health epidemic or any law, order, regulation or other action of any governing authority or agency.
- f. Governing Law and Arbitration. This Agreement and all claims arising out of or related to this Agreement are governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware without giving effect to any choice or conflict of law provision or rule that would cause the application of the laws of any jurisdiction other than the State of Delaware. Any dispute, claim or controversy arising out of or relating to this Agreement or the breach, termination, enforcement, interpretation or validity thereof, including, without limitation, the determination of the scope or applicability of this Agreement to arbitrate, shall be determined exclusively by arbitration in King County, Washington before three (3) arbitrators. The arbitration shall be administered by JAMS pursuant to its Comprehensive Arbitration Rules & Procedures. Any award, order or judgment pursuant to arbitration ("Award") is final and may be entered and enforced in any court of competent jurisdiction, and each party shall submit to any court of competent jurisdiction for purposes of the enforcement of any Award. The arbitrator may, in the Award, allocate all or part of the costs of the arbitration, including, without limitation, the fees of the arbitrator and the reasonable attorneys' fees of the prevailing party.

g. General. The rights and remedies provided for herein are cumulative and not exclusive of any rights or remedies that a party would otherwise have. The parties are independent contractors, and this Agreement does not establish any relationship of partnership, joint venture, employment, franchise or agency between them. Neither party may bind the other or incur obligations on the other's behalf without the other's prior written consent. There are no third-party beneficiaries to this Agreement. No waiver of any breach of any provision of this Agreement will constitute a waiver of any prior, concurrent or subsequent breach of the same or any other provisions hereof, and no waiver will be effective unless made in writing and signed by an authorized representative of the waiving party.

Hi Dan:

Attached are some pictures of rigs that were moved from Core sites to Global X for cleaning. Rigs that came from ND are particularly dirty and appear to have coal dust, which is the black dust that you will see in the pictures. Since the coal dust is conductive, it is particularly a problem for rigs. Rigs that came from NC have a sticky substance, probably from pollen, which causes dust to stick to the hashboards. Dirt on rigs restricts air flow, which results in the hashboards operating at higher temperatures of about 10F hotter. Operating at hotter temperatures results in rigs burning out faster and operating less efficiently. Less efficient rigs cost more to operate for the same amount of BTC produced.

Along with the pictures, I have attached our contract with GXD for cleaning the rigs.

Best,

Patrick

Case No. 22-90341 (DRJ)

(Jointly Administered)

DEBTORS' OBJECTION TO PROOF OF CLAIM NOS. 425 AND 497 FILED BY CELSIUS MINING LLC

THIS IS AN OBJECTION TO YOUR CLAIM. THIS OBJECTION ASKS THE COURT TO DISALLOW THE CLAIM THAT YOU FILED IN THIS BANKRUPTCY CASE. YOU SHOULD IMMEDIATELY CONTACT THE OBJECTING PARTY TO RESOLVE THE DISPUTE. IF YOU DO NOT FILE A RESPONSE WITHIN 30 DAYS AFTER THE OBJECTION WAS SERVED ON YOU, YOUR CLAIM MAY BE DISALLOWED WITHOUT A HEARING.

Core Scientific Operating Company f/k/a Core Scientific, Inc. (“Core”),² and its debtor affiliates in the above-captioned chapter 11 cases, as debtors and debtors in possession (collectively, the “Debtors”), represent as follows in support of this claim objection (the “Objection”), and request entry of an order, substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A (“the Proposed Order”) disallowing Proof of Claim Nos. 425 and 497 filed by Celsius Mining LLC (“Celsius”, and together with the Debtors, the “Parties”) against Core:

² As discussed in the First Day Declaration (defined below), Core Scientific, Inc. changed its name to Core Scientific Operating Company in January 2022. See First Day Declaration at ¶ 31. Therefore, any claims against Core Scientific, Inc., are more properly claims against Core Scientific Operating Company.

Preliminary Statement

1. In a clear attempt to create shock value and manufacture a presumably stronger negotiating position, Celsius filed proofs of claim against Core Scientific, Inc. relating to the Parties' hosting agreements seeking over $312 million. Even beyond the fact that the Celsius Hosting POC (defined below) is a litigation tactic untethered from the facts and applicable contract provisions, it is a filing that creates a very real and immediate impact on the Debtors and—if not resolved as soon as possible by this Court—threatens to cast a pall over the Debtors' business plan preparations and their relationships with their various stakeholders.

2. More specifically, because proofs of claim are presumptively valid, even if they have no merit, the Debtors have to address the fact that Celsius claims it is allegedly entitled to over $300 million from the estates and its impact on the Debtors' efforts to create a business plan that does not contemplate paying Celsius anything even remotely approaching that figure—if anything at all. There can be little doubt that Celsius's strategy in filing such a large claim was to make a big splash and cause a stir.

3. For a number of reasons, it appears that the amounts reflected in the Celsius Hosting POC are being asserted for some ulterior purpose.

4. First, even though it is impossible to determine how exactly Celsius came up with its over $300 million damages figure, as the Celsius Hosting POC does not explain its calculation, that amount appears to be comprised of amounts for lost profits, lost revenues, special damages and/or consequential damages. Indeed, Celsius appears to suggest as much when it states that it "assume[s]" without any basis that "any limitations of liability in the contracts do not apply."

5. The Parties' contract, however, expressly excludes recovery for lost profits, loss of business, loss of revenues, consequential or indirect damages, and any incidental, special, reliance, exemplary, or punitive damages. Moreover, even for those types of damages the contract may not expressly exclude, the contract further limits the aggregate amount of recovery to which Celsius could ever be entitled to an amount equal to one months fee per applicable order. Therefore, Celsius simply has no basis to assert damages in an amount anywhere close to the numbers in its Celsius Hosting POC.

6. Second, to support to its claims, Celsius merely attached to the Celsius Hosting POC a two-page addendum identifying general categories of claims coupled with amounts; it does nothing to explain how it arrived at its damages figures. Moreover, Celsius simply attached its prior Motion to Enforce the Automatic Stay and For Civil Contempt filed in its own bankruptcy as the basis for its claims—a motion that contains nothing to support alleged damages in the hundreds of millions of dollars. In fact, that motion contained no damages figure at all. This was Celsius’s chance to explain the basis for its alleged right to recover what it claims are damages of over $300 million. Instead, it repeated its prior assertions with nothing new.

7. As noted, the Debtors need to address the filing of the Celsius Hosting POC as soon as possible given its stated damages and its potential impact on the Debtors’ reorganization efforts. As the Court is aware from prior filings in this case, in addition to defenses against Celsius’s claims, Core has claims against Celsius relating to the very same contracts that are at the center of the Celsius Hosting POC. See generally Dkt. No 189, Debtors’ Emergency Motion for Entry of an Order Authorizing Rejection of Executory Contracts with Celsius Mining LLC, In re Core Scientific, Inc., No. 22-90341-11 (Bankr. S.D. Tex., Dec. 28, 2022) at ¶ 13 (the “Rejection Motion”);³ Dkt. No. 5, Declaration of Michael Bros in Support of the Debtors’ Chapter 11

Petitions and First Day Relief, In re Core Scientific, Inc., No. 22-90341-11 (Bankr. S.D. Tex., Dec. 21, 2022) at ¶¶ 73–77 (the “First Day Declaration”).

8. To that end, the Debtors filed an objection to Celsius’s Automatic Stay Motion six months ago, and also filed an affirmative motion seeking, among other things, an order compelling Celsius to pay administrative expenses owed to Core. More recently, Core filed its own proofs of claim in Celsius’s bankruptcy for prepetition claims of at least $3,886,169.41 in liquidated amounts and in excess of $30 million in amounts to be liquidated based on Celsius’s breaches of the same contracts at issue in the Celsius Hosting POC. Taken together with the amounts owed to Core that are postpetition in the Celsius Bankruptcy (as defined below), Celsius owes Core in excess of $11 million in liquidated amounts related to the Hosting Agreements (as defined below), as well as unliquidated amounts.

9. The Celsius Hosting POC also claims Celsius is entitled to an administrative claim against the Debtors of approximately $4.7 million. Contemporaneously with filing the Celsius Hosting POC, Celsius filed a motion seeking to recover on that alleged administrative claim. See Dkt. No. 799, Celsius Mining LLC’s Motion for Entry of an Order (i) Allowing and Directing Payment of its Administrative Expense Claim Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 503(b)(1)(A) and (ii) Granting Related Relief, In re Core Scientific, Inc., No. 22-90341-11 (Bankr. S.D. Tex., Apr. 14, 2023) (the “Celsius Admin Motion”). That administrative claim relates to the same Hosting Agreements that are at issue in the Celsius Hosting POC and the Debtors’ claims against Celsius.

10. The Debtors will be responding separately to the Celsius Admin Motion. Nevertheless, given the interconnectedness of all claims between the Debtors and Celsius relating to the Hosting Agreements, the Debtors submit that all of these claims should be decided in one proceeding before this Court, and the currently scheduled May 22 hearing on the Celsius Admin Motion should be used as a status conference to discuss the most efficient and expedient manner to resolve these claims. This would include summary disposition of key legal issues as may be appropriate, such as the effect of the various limitations of damages provisions in the Hosting Agreements.

11. In addition, given the complexities of the Parties' competing claims against each other, the fact that the Celsius Hosting POC needs to be addressed quickly in order to avoid disrupting the Debtors' reorganization and exit from chapter 11, and the fact that both Parties are debtors, the Debtors submit that this dispute would benefit from a mediation with Judge Isgur or another Judge at the Court's selection. The Debtors believe mediation may help the Parties to resolve their disputes relating to the Hosting Agreements more expeditiously than a costly litigation and benefit their respective chapter 11 estates.

Relief Requested

12. By this Objection, pursuant to sections 105(a) and 502(b) of title 11 of the United States Code (the "Bankruptcy Code"), Rule 3007 of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure (the "Bankruptcy Rules"), and Rule 3007-1 of the Bankruptcy Local Rules for the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of Texas (the "Bankruptcy Local Rules"), the Debtors seek entry of the Proposed Order, disallowing Proofs of Claim Nos. 425 and 497 (together, the "Celsius Hosting POC" or the "Claim") filed by Celsius in their entirety because (i) Celsius is not entitled to any recovery on its Claim; (ii) any amounts to which Celsius may be entitled are subject to the limitations of damages provisions in the Hosting Agreements; and/or (iii) any amounts to which Celsius may be entitled are less than the amounts Celsius owes the Debtors on the same contracts that are the basis for the Celsius Hosting POC. The Debtors further request that the Court use the May 22, 2023 hearing date on the Celsius Admin Motion as a status conference to discuss how best to proceed with resolving the various disputes between the Parties, including directing the Parties to mediation.

Jurisdiction and Venue

13. This Court has jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 157 and 1334. This is a core proceeding pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 157(b). Venue is proper pursuant to 28 U.S.C §§ 1408 and 1409. The relief requested herein is sought pursuant to §§ 105(a) and 502(b) the Bankruptcy Code, Bankruptcy Rule 3007, and Bankruptcy Local Rule 3007-1.

Background

A. The Hosting Agreements

14. On December 18, 2020, Core and Celsius entered into a Master Services Agreement (the “MSA”) for the Debtors to host Celsius’s cryptocurrency mining equipment (the “Miners”) at Core’s data centers and provide certain related services to Celsius. Pursuant to the MSA, the Debtors and Celsius executed ten separate related work orders, which are generally governed by the MSA but also set forth certain terms specific to each purchase order (the “Orders”).⁴ A true and correct copy of the MSA and Order #10 are attached hereto as Exhibit

B.

15. On December 3, 2021, the Debtors and Celsius entered into another Master Services Agreement pursuant to which the Debtors agreed to provide services to Celsius in connection with hosting additional Miners for Celsius (the “2021 MSA”). In connection with the 2021 MSA, the Debtors and Celsius executed Master Services Agreement Order #1-A, dated

⁴ Although Core and the Debtors entered into ten Orders under the MSA, only eight were still in effect at the time of rejection in Core’s Bankruptcy. Order #8 was terminated in May 2021 and Order #9 replaced Order #5. Order #10 is the Order at issue in Celsius’s Automatic Stay Motion and Proof of Claim.

December 3, 2021 (“Order #1-A,” together with the MSA and Orders, and the 2021 MSA, the “Hosting Agreements”).

16. The Hosting Agreements, which are governed by Delaware law, set forth the Parties’ rights and obligations for the Debtors’ provision of hosting services to Celsius.

17. Under the Hosting Agreements, Celsius was obligated to pay a hosting fee rate per Miner, subject to the Debtors’ right to pass through increases in electricity costs as an additional cost to host Celsius’s Miners. In addition, pursuant to Order #10, Celsius was required to prepay certain amounts in advance for hosting services in later months. In return, the Debtors hosted Celsius’s Miners at the Debtors’ data centers and provided certain related services to Celsius.

18. Prior to first raising the argument during its chapter 11 proceedings, and consistent with the unambiguous terms of the Hosting Agreements, Celsius paid the increased electricity costs associated with increased power costs charged by utility companies as passed through by the Debtors. Only during its bankruptcy did Celsius abruptly introduce a new interpretation of the Hosting Agreements and refuse to make such payments owed to the Debtors.

19. Before the Debtors rejected the Hosting Agreements, they continued to perform under these Hosting Agreements with Celsius in the ordinary course of business, and were thus, for several months, left shouldering the burden of the increased electricity costs that the Hosting Agreements required Celsius to pay.

20. Celsius’s failure to pay the amounts it owed to the Debtors had a deleterious impact on the Debtors’ liquidity in the weeks leading up to their chapter 11 cases and helped precipitate their filing, as did the significant litigation costs the Debtors incurred in connection with Celsius’s Automatic Stay Motion.

B. Procedural History

21. On July 13, 2022, Celsius filed voluntary petitions for relief under chapter 11 of title 11 of the Bankruptcy Code in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York (the “Celsius Bankruptcy”).

22. On September 28, 2022, Celsius filed a motion in the Celsius Bankruptcy seeking to hold the Debtors in contempt of court for allegedly violating the automatic stay in the Celsius Bankruptcy (the “Automatic Stay Motion”). The premise for the Automatic Stay Motion was that Core allegedly breached the Hosting Agreements. In short, Celsius sought to convert an alleged breach of contract claim into a violation of the automatic stay.

23. The Debtors disagreed with Celsius’s contentions both as a matter of fact and law and filed an opposition to the Automatic Stay Motion on October 19, 2022. See Dkt. No. 1140, In re Celsius Network LLC, No. 22-10964 (MG) (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. Oct. 19, 2022). Additionally, the Debtors filed their own motions in the Celsius Bankruptcy, seeking, among other things, to compel immediate payment of administrative expense claims for the electricity pass-through charges Celsius ceased paying after it filed for chapter 11. See generally Dkt. No. 1144, In re Celsius Network LLC, No. 22-10964 (MG) (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. Oct. 19, 2022).

24. On December 21, 2022 (the “Petition Date”), the Debtors each commenced with this Court a voluntary case under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtors are authorized to continue to operate their business and manage their properties as debtors in possession pursuant to sections 1107(a) and 1108 of the Bankruptcy Code.

25. On December 28, 2022, the Debtors filed an emergency motion to reject the Hosting Agreements. This Court held a hearing on the motion on January 3, 2023, and ordered the rejection of the Hosting Agreements on January 4, 2023.

26. On January 3, 2023, Core timely filed an initial proof of claim in the Celsius Bankruptcy and reserved all rights in that regard. See Claim No. 17273 filed against Celsius Mining LLC.

27. On February 9, 2023, after the bar date was extended in the Celsius Bankruptcy, Core timely filed an amended proof of claim, which amended and superseded its initial proof of claim in all respects. See Claim No. 23022 filed against Celsius Mining LLC.

C. Celsius's Proof of Claim

28. Celsius filed the Celsius Hosting POC⁵ on April 14, 2023.⁶ Celsius asserts a claim for $312,318,000 plus additional unspecified and unliquidated amounts. In support of its Claim, Celsius repurposed the contentions in its Automatic Stay Motion, without any further context as to its asserted Claim amount. Celsius also included an Addendum in which it identified what it calls a “Prepetition Breach of Contract Claim” for $111,998,000; a “Postpetition, Pre-Rejection Breach of Contract Claim,” in the amount of $1,497,000; and a Contract Rejection Damages Claim for $194,104,000. It also lists an unliquidated “Claim for Damages to Mining Rigs,” without any support other than an email from a Celsius employee and certain attached photos.

⁵ Celsius originally filed Claim No. 425 but subsequently amended that claim with Claim No. 497, to which it added an Addendum and certain other materials and photographs. This Objection relates to both claims to the extent Claim No. 497 does not supersede Claim No. 425. For ease of reference, the two claims combined are referred to herein as the Celsius Hosting POC.

⁶ Celsius US Holding LLC filed additional proofs of claim against certain of the Debtors on April 14, 2023. See Claim No. 428 filed against Core Scientific, Inc.; Claim No. 434 filed against Core Scientific Mining LLC; Claim No. 436 filed against Core Scientific Acquired Mining LLC; Claim No. 439 filed against Core Scientific Operating Company; Claim No. 469 filed against American Property Acquisition, LLC; Claim No. 494 against American Property Acquisitions I, LLC; Claim No. 495 against Starboard Capital LLC; and Claim No. 496 against Core Scientific Specialty Mining (Oklahoma) LLC. This Objection does not relate to the aforementioned claims, and the Debtors reserve all rights to object to such claims.

29. Finally, Celsius also contends that $4,719,000.00 of its Claim is entitled to priority under section 507(a) of the Bankruptcy Code as an administrative expense claim.

30. On the same day, Celsius also filed the Celsius Admin Motion seeking entry of an order (i) allowing and directing payment of its administrative expense claim pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 503(b)(1)(A) and (ii) granting related relief. The Celsius Admin Motion relates to the same approximately $4.7 million priority amount listed in the Celsius Hosting POC. A hearing on that motion is currently set for May 22, 2023.

Basis for Relief

31. As set forth in Bankruptcy Rule 3001(f), a properly executed and filed proof of claim constitutes prima facie evidence of the validity and the amount of the claim under section 502(a) of the Bankruptcy Code. See, e.g., In re Jack Kline Co., Inc., 440 B.R. 712, 742 (Bankr. S.D. Tex. 2010). However, prima facie validity under Bankruptcy Rule 3001(f) “can be overcome by rebuttal evidence” In re Fidelity Holding Co., Ltd., 837 F.2d 696, 698 (5th Cir. 1988). “Upon production of this rebuttal evidence, the burden shifts to the claimant to prove its claim by a preponderance of the evidence.” In re Armstrong, 347 B.R. 581, 583 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. 2006) (citing In re Fidelity Holding, 837 F.2d at 698). And, “the ultimate burden of proof always lies with the claimant.” Id. (citing Raleigh v. Ill. Dep’t of Revenue, 530 U.S. 15 (2000)).

32. Celsius cannot meet its burden here. Celsius has asserted a claim for $312,318,000 and additional unliquidated amounts. Tellingly, nowhere in its Celsius Hosting POC does Celsius detail how it arrived at its damages amount. If the amount is based on an alleged violation of the automatic stay, which argument Celsius appears to have abandoned, it would be disallowed because a breach of contract claims cannot be transmogrified into an automatic stay violation—as discussed below and as this Court has already noted. If the amount is based on alleged breaches of the Hosting Agreements, as appears to be the case, the claims fail because the facts demonstrate that the Debtors did not breach the Hosting Agreements prior to rejection. Moreover, even if Celsius's Claim was based solely on rejection damages and other breaches of the Hosting Agreements, the Hosting Agreements also preclude damages based on, among other things, lost profits, loss of revenues, and consequential and special damages, which, given the amounts Celsius is claiming, must be the alleged basis for its claims. Furthermore, even if Celsius could prove prepetition breach of the agreements and entitlement to damages that are not excluded by the Hosting Agreements, the MSA expressly limits the amount of recoverable damages to an aggregate of one months fee payable pursuant to the applicable order—measured in the single millions of dollars at most, not tens or hundreds of millions as Celsius claims.

33. Finally, in addition to the above, any amounts that Celsius might ever be entitled to recover—and the Debtors submit there is none—would be subject to defenses (including under section 558 of the Bankruptcy Code), set off, and/or recoupment based on the tens of millions of dollars that Celsius owes Core as set forth in Core's proof of claim filed in the Celsius Bankruptcy.

34. Given that Celsius seems to have adopted its Automatic Stay Motion as factual support for its Celsius Hosting POC, the Debtors also incorporate by reference in its entirety—and attach hereto as Exhibit C—Core's Objection to the Celsius Debtors' Motion to Enforce the Automatic Stay and For Civil Contempt. See generally Dkt. No. 1140, In re Celsius Network LLC, No. 22-10964 (MG) (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. Oct. 19, 2022).⁷

⁷ The Debtors also incorporate by reference in their entirety and attach hereto as Exhibits D-F the declarations submitted in connection with their objection to Celsius's Automatic Stay Motion. See generally Dkt. No. 1141, Declaration of Jeff Pratt in Support of Core Scientific, Inc.'s Opposition to Debtors' Motion to Enforce the Automatic Stay and Civil Contempt, In re Celsius Network LLC, No. 22-10964 (MG) (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. Oct. 19, 2022), attached hereto as Exhibit D; Dkt. No. 1142, Declaration of Monica Xia in Support of Core Scientific, Inc.'s Opposition to Debtors' Motion to Enforce the Automatic Stay and Civil Contempt, In re Celsius Network LLC, No. 22-10964 (MG) (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. Oct. 19, 2022), attached hereto as Exhibit E; Dkt No. 1143, Declaration of KC

A. The MSA Limits The Type and Amount of Damages

35. The Hosting Agreements, and more specifically the MSA, expressly limit both the type and amount of damages Celsius could potentially recover even if it could prove a claim.

36. First, although the Debtors cannot be certain of Celsius's damages theories—as Celsius has failed to provide such detail in its Claim—the MSA's broad limitation of liability provisions explicitly bar recovery for lost profits, loss of business, loss of revenues, and any consequential or indirect damages:

NOTWITHSTANDING ANYTHING TO THE CONTRARY IN THIS AGREEMENT, IN NO EVENT WILL EITHER PARTY BE LIABLE TO THE OTHER PARTY FOR (I) LOST PROFITS; (II) LOSS OF BUSINESS; (III) LOSS OF REVENUES (EXCEPT THAT [CELSIUS] SHALL BE LIABLE FOR ANY FEES OR OTHER AMOUNTS OWED TO [CORE] UNDER THIS AGREEMENT); (IV) LOSS, INTERRUPTION OR USE OF DATA OR LOSS OF USE OF [CELSIUS] EQUIPMENT; (V) ANY CONSEQUENTIAL, OR INDIRECT DAMAGES; OR (VI) COST OF COVER, ANY INCIDENTAL, SPECIAL, RELIANCE, EXEMPLARY OR PUNITIVE DAMAGES (IF APPLICABLE) EVEN IF ADVISED OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGES.

See MSA § 5(c) (Emphasis added).

37. The MSA also explicitly limits the Debtors' total liability in the aggregate to Celsius to an amount equal to one months fee:

NOTWITHSTANDING ANYTHING TO THE CONTRARY IN THIS AGREEMENT, [CORE'S] TOTAL LIABILITY TO [CELSIUS] IN THE AGGREGATE FOR THE ENTIRE TERM (REGARDLESS OF WHETHER THE CLAIMS ARE BROUGHT DURING OR AFTER THE TERM) WITH RESPECT TO ALL CLAIMS ARISING FROM OR RELATED TO THE SUBJECT MATTER OF THIS AGREEMENT (INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, ATTORNEYS' FEES) WILL NOT EXCEED AN AMOUNT EQUAL TO ONE (1) MONTHS FEE PAYABLE TO [CORE] PURSUANT TO THE APPLICABLE ORDER.

Mares, In re Celsius Network LLC, No. 22-10964 (MG) (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. Oct. 19, 2022), attached hereto as Exhibit F.

See MSA § 5(d) (Emphasis added). Accordingly, any amounts the Debtors may be found to owe Celsius (and there should be none) would be capped at this amount—not the over $300 million Celsius has asserted.

38. And, for the avoidance of any doubt, the MSA further specifies that “THE LIMITATIONS SET FORTH IN SECTIONS 5 c AND 5 d WILL APPLY TO ALL CLAIMS AND CAUSES OF ACTION, REGARDLESS OF WHETHER IN CONTRACT, TORT, STRICT LIABILITY OR OTHER THEORY.” See MSA § 5(e).

39. The Celsius Hosting POC asserts that “[l]iquidated amounts relating to the applicable contracts assume that any limitations of liability do not apply.” However, Celsius does not provide any justification for simply assuming away contractual provisions that it deems inconvenient.

40. When a debtor rejects an executory contract, rejection damages are measured based on the state law governing breach of contract, here, Delaware law. See In re Pilgrim’s Pride Corp., 467 B.R. 871, 879 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. 2012) (applying the governing state law of the rejected contracts to evaluate and measure damages). Delaware law holds that contracts are enforced as they are written. See eCommerce Indus., Inc. v. MWA Intelligence, Inc., 2013 WL 5621678, at *45 (Del. Ch. Sept. 30, 2013) (enforcing a limitation of liability provision). The language of the relevant contractual provisions is clear and unambiguous and is presented in recognizable capitalized text.

41. Delaware courts routinely enforce limitation of liability provisions, especially where, as here, the limitation is plain and unambiguous. See In re Pilgrim’s Pride Corp., 467 B.R. 871, 881 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. 2012) (applying Delaware law and granting summary judgment to the debtors because the contracts excluded consequential or non-compensatory damages); Iavarone v. Eagle Eye Home Inspections, LLC, 2019 WL 5692265, at *2 (Del. Super. Ct. Nov. 4, 2019) (upholding limitation of liability provision where the plain language of the clause was clear regarding the people and types of conduct to which the limitation applied, the contract was not lengthy, and the limitations' language was clear); eCommerce Indus., Inc., 2013 WL 5621678, at *45 (enforcing a limitation of liability provision and noting that "freedom of contract would suggest that parties ... should be entitled to draft agreements so as to avoid certain duties and liabilities").

42. The Parties plainly agreed upon the express exclusion of certain types of damages and the limitation of damages to one months fee. This is further highlighted by Section 5(f) of the MSA, which explicitly states, "Each party recognizes and agrees that the warranty disclaimers, limitations of liability and remedy limitations in this Agreement are materially bargained for by the parties." (Emphasis added). Celsius cannot now—years later—ignore the Parties' intent and attempt to rewrite the Parties' clear language in order to seek additional damages. These provisions were bargained for by Core in its agreement with Celsius, and are a material component of the MSA.

43. The limitation of liability provisions were negotiated by two sophisticated commercial entities, with equal bargaining power, at arms' length; the provisions should, therefore, be enforced as written. See Progressive Int'l Corp. v. E.I. Du Pont de Nemours & Co., 2002 WL 1558382, at *11 (Del. Ch. July 9, 2002) (upholding the terms of a contract as written because nothing prevented the plaintiff, a sophisticated commercial entity, from refusing to contract if it did not have the leverage to obtain favorable terms); Interim Healthcare, Inc. v. Spherion Corp., 884 A.2d 513, 552 (Del. Super. Ct. 2005), aff'd, 886 A.2d 1278 (Del. 2005) (concluding that sophisticated parties cannot "escape the express language" of a contract).

44. Accepting Celsius's claim for any of these categories of damages would render the Parties' explicit exclusion of such damages in the MSA's limitation of liability provisions meaningless and against the Parties' intent.

45. In addition to being contractually unavailable, the Celsius Hosting POC seeks damages that are highly speculative, as it provides no basis for the claimed amounts. Under Delaware law, recovering for lost profits—which the Celsius Hosting POC presumably seeks—must be “proved [] with a reasonable degree of certainty. No recovery can be had for loss of profits which are determined to be uncertain, contingent, conjectural, or speculative.” Callahan v. Rafail, No. CIV.A. 99C-02-024, 2001 WL 283012, at *1 (Del. Super. Ct. Mar. 16, 2001); see also Pfizer Inc. v. Advanced Monobloc Corp., No. 97C-04-037-WTQ, 1999 WL 743927, at *15 (Del. Super. Ct. Sept. 2, 1999), opinion corrected on denial of reconsideration, No. 97C-04-037-WTQ, 1999 WL 1240864 (Del. Super. Ct. Sept. 24, 1999) (barring recovery of lost profits because lost profits were not contemplated at the time the parties contracted and were too speculative).

B. Core Did Not Breach the MSA Prepetition

46. The purported prepetition breaches of the MSA alleged by Celsius are not supported by the law or the facts. First, the Debtors' right to pass through increased electricity tariffs is not only permitted by the unambiguous terms of the MSA, but is confirmed by industry usage, the commercial context, and the parties' course of dealing. Second, the Debtors had no contractual obligation to deploy Celsius's machines by predetermined dates, but even if they did, strict adherence to any such deadlines would be excused by factors beyond the Debtors' control. Finally, the Debtors' conditional obligation to notify Celsius of additional hosting availability, if available, was not triggered because the condition precedent of there being additional availability did not occur, or if it did, Celsius has suffered no harm as a result of any alleged failure to notify Celsius of such availability.

i. Core's Pass-Through of Increased Electricity Tariffs Comports with the MSA, the Parties' Course of Dealing, Industry Usage, and Commercial Context

47. Contrary to Celsius's contention, the MSA does not contemplate Core bearing the significant risk of energy price increases; it contemplates the opposite.

48. Specifically, Core had a clear and unambiguous contractual right in its "sole and absolute discretion" to "pass through" to Celsius "any increases, changes in . . . tariffs . . . with respect to the provision of Services" by Core under the MSA, and Celsius "shall pay all Increased Costs." See MSA § 4(f). Applying Delaware law, this Court should give effect to the plain meaning of Section 4(f). See Rhone-Poulenc Basic Chems. Co. v. Am. Motorists Ins. Co., 616 A.2d 1192, 1196 (Del. 1992) ("A contract is not rendered ambiguous simply because the parties do not agree upon its proper construction."); Est. of Osborn v. Kemp, 991 A.2d 1153, 1159-60 (Del. 2010) ("When the contract is clear and unambiguous, [Delaware courts] will give effect to the plain-meaning of the contract's terms and provisions.").

49. The MSA comports with industry practice. The crypto mining industry is power-intensive and power reliant. In this industry, where electricity costs incurred by mining machines comprise the majority of input costs, it is standard practice to pass through increases in electricity costs to the entity for whose benefit the miners are operating in search of bitcoin.

50. Celsius has previously understood that it would be responsible for any increase in power costs, and indeed paid for such increased power costs from October 2021 to April 2022. And when Core began charging all customers for these increases in power costs, Celsius paid those costs, beginning in June 2022, before Celsius filed for bankruptcy. Celsius also paid the postpetition charges for these increases in power costs before abruptly changing its position in September 2022.

ii. Core Did Not Unjustifiably Delay Deployment of Celsius's Machines

51. Contrary to Celsius's contention, Order #10 does not provide for a fixed "deployment schedule," but rather provided the expected timeframe for Celsius to deliver its machines to the Debtors for deployment. Celsius's course of conduct confirms this, as it did not even finish delivering its first tranche of machines, scheduled to be delivered in September 2021, until late November 2021, and other deliveries similarly occurred months after the listed dates in Order #10.

52. The MSA provides additional clarity on this point. Section 2(b) of the MSA specifies that Celsius "shall be fully responsible for delivering all [Celsius] Equipment to [Core] at a specified [Core] Facility on or before the applicable scheduled delivery date." In addition, Section 5(b) provides that "ALL [CORE] FACILITY AND SERVICES ARE PROVIDED ON AN "AS IS", "AS AVAILABLE" BASIS." The months listed in Order #10 therefore created an obligation for Celsius, not Core.

53. In addition, any purported delays in deploying Celsius's machines once delivered were attributable to factors beyond Core's control, including, among other things: (i) Celsius's own repeated late deliveries; (ii) significant supply chain disruptions; (iii) construction and permitting delays; (iv) power disruption issues; and (v) an outbreak of COVID-19 among Core's construction staff.

54. Even if Core was obligated to deploy machines by the months listed in Order #10 (which they were not), any breach of such obligation would be excused because Celsius first breached its own related obligation by failing to timely deliver machines for deployment by the Debtors. See Hudson v. D&V Mason Contractors, Inc., 252 A.2d 166, 170 (Del. Sup. Ct. 1969) ("As a general rule the party first guilty of a material breach of contract cannot complain if the other party subsequently refuses to perform."). These failures by Celsius were material, as demonstrated by the fact that Order #10 allows Core to terminate the entire Order if Celsius delivers too late. See Order #10, at 3.

55. Still, Core deployed every cryptocurrency mining machine that Celsius delivered.

iii. Core Did Not Breach the “Notice of Hosting Availability Provision”

56. Core did not have any additional hosting capacity to offer Celsius when the Hosting Agreements were in place.

57. Order #10 provided that Core would notify Celsius as soon as practicable of additional hosting availability, if any, and noted that additional hosting availability if available will be the subject of a separate order. See Order #10, at 4–5. When this clause was included, Celsius knew that Core had a capacity deficit, needed to construct new facilities, and needed to first deploy many of their own machines. The plain language of this clause created a condition precedent of additional hosting capacity even being available. See Cato Cap. LLC v. Hemispherx Biopharma, Inc., 70 F. Supp. 3d 607, 619 (D. Del. 2014), aff’d, 625 F. App’x 108 (3d Cir. 2015) (“A condition precedent [] is an act or event ... that must exist or occur before a duty to perform something promised arises.”). Because the condition precedent never occurred, any obligation to notify Celsius of additional capacity never arose, and, accordingly, Celsius cannot recover damages from this purported breach.

iv. Celsius’s Claim for Damages to Mining Rigs Also Fails

58. In a further attempt to add to its damages claims with unliquidated amounts, Celsius attaches an email with descriptions and photos of mining rigs that were allegedly damaged by Core. Celsius does not specify when this alleged damage occurred. Therefore, the Debtors are left presuming that Celsius is claiming such damage took place during the return process following the rejection of the Hosting Agreements.

59. Celsius's first claim regarding this alleged damage comes approximately four months after the Hosting Agreements were rejected. Celsius never raised this issue with Core prior to filing its Celsius Hosting POC, and certainly not during the months following the rejection of the Hosting agreements and return of the Miners. This is indeed the first Core has heard about such purported damages in connection with the Miners.

60. Celsius also provides no other detail related to this claim, such as when the photos were taken, the location of the Miners when the photos were taken, where and how the Miners were being stored, who took the photos, which alleged damages pertain to which Miners, any elements the Miners may have been exposed to over multiple months, and any information regarding the chain of custody of the Miners before and during the time the photos were taken.

61. Without more information, the Debtors dispute that any Miners were damaged by Core or as a result of Core's conduct and will address this issue during the course of this contested matter, including in any mediation, and reserve all of their rights related thereto.

C. Core Did Not Violate Celsius's Automatic Stay

62. Celsius cannot recover damages for any claim that Core violated the automatic stay in the Celsius Bankruptcy (the "Celsius Automatic Stay") due to Core's alleged non-performance of the MSA, as it asserted in its Automatic Stay Motion. While it appears that Celsius has abandoned this claim, to the extent it is still pursuing this as a basis or support for recovery, the Debtors summarize below their prior arguments opposing the Automatic Stay Motion.

63. First, this Court has already expressed a view rejecting Celsius's theory that the Debtors' purported non-performance of the MSA violated the Celsius Automatic Stay. See Transcript of Motion Hearing, In re Core Scientific, Inc., No. 22-90341-11 (Bankr. S.D. Tex., Jan. 3, 2023) at 20:3-18 (The Court: "It gives rise to a claim perhaps, but tell me what provision of the automatic stay that simple non-performance violates.” Mr. Koenig: “I think it’s an attempt to exercise control over the property –” The Court: “Not even close.”); see also id. at 18:15-25 (The Court: “And so how is it – because the Debtor could – the Debtor could just stop performing and that wouldn’t violate the stay.” Mr. Koenig: “That’s before, Your Honor.” The Court: “Yes. They could just stop performing and it doesn’t violate the stay.”).

64. Core did not exercise control over Celsius’s property, as contemplated by section 362(a)(3) of the Bankruptcy Code.

65. In 2021, the U.S. Supreme Court concluded section 362(a)(3) is only implicated by an “affirmative act that would alter the status quo as of the time of the filing of a bankruptcy petition.” City of Chicago v. Fulton, 141 S. Ct. 585, 590 (2021) (emphasis added). Based on this interpretation, the Supreme Court held that the mere retention of estate property after a bankruptcy filing does not violate section 362(a)(3), explicitly overruling courts that had interpreted it more broadly.

66. Fulton is consistent with other U.S. Supreme Court precedent. In Citizens Bank of Maryland v. Strumpf, the Court held that breaching a “promise to pay” a debtor is not an exercise of control over the debtor’s property and does not implicate or violate sections 362(a)(3) or (a)(6) of the Code. 516 U.S. 16, 21 (1995). The Court rejected as a “false premise” the debtor’s argument that the bank “exercised dominion over property” of the estate, implicating section 362(a)(3), by failing to return deposited funds to the debtor. Id.

67. Moreover, even if the Debtors’ purported failure to perform under the MSA harmed or reduced the value of Celsius’s estate, that still would not violate the Celsius Automatic Stay. See In re Albion Disposal, Inc., 217 B.R. 394, 405 (W.D.N.Y. 1997) (“[S]ection 362(a)(3) does not stay acts that reduce the value of property of the estate; it stays acts to exercise control over estate property.”). The contrary argument “does not find any support in the Bankruptcy Code.” Id. at 406.

68. Section 362(a)(3) of the Bankruptcy Code does not stay all acts concerning estate property, however remote. “The mere fact that the conduct may be wrongful or unlawful does not automatically convert it into a violation of the automatic stay.” Windstream Holdings, Inc. v. Charter Commc’ns Inc. (In re Windstream Holdings, Inc.), No. 21-CV-4552 (CS), 2022 WL 5245633 at *8 (S.D.N.Y. Oct. 6, 2022). Simply put, a purported breach of contract gives rise to a breach of contract claim against the counterparty—not a stay violation.

69. Second, Core fully complied with the MSA prior to rejection. And, even if they are found to have breached the MSA prior to rejection, Core still did not violate the Celsius Automatic Stay because it acted in accordance with its reasonable interpretation of the Hosting Agreements.

70. Courts have held that a contract counterparty does not violate the automatic stay by acting in accordance with its reasonable interpretation of a contract with the debtor. For example, in United States v. Inslaw, Inc., the D.C. Circuit held that a non-debtor did not violate the automatic stay by retaining and using copies of the debtor’s software pursuant to its interpretation of its contract with the debtor, which differed from the debtor’s interpretation. 932 F.2d 1467, 1472–73 (D.C. Cir. 1991). The D.C. Circuit warned against the broad interpretation of section 362(a)(3) that Celsius relies on in its Automatic Stay Motion, and now evidently in its proof of claim:

If the bankruptcy court’s idea of the scope of ‘exercise of control’ were correct, the sweep of § 362(a) would be extraordinary—with a concomitant expansion of the jurisdiction of the bankruptcy court. Whenever a party against whom the bankrupt holds a cause of action ... acted in accord with his view of the dispute rather than that of the debtor-in-possession or bankruptcy trustee, he would risk a determination by a bankruptcy court that he had ‘exercised control’ over intangible rights (property) of the estate.

Id. The court added, “[f]ulfillment of [the] purpose [of § 362] cannot require that every party who acts in resistance to the debtor’s view of its rights violates § 362(a) if found in error by the bankruptcy court.” Id. at 1473; see also In re Mountaineer Coal Co., 247 B.R. 633, 644 (Bankr. W.D. Va. 2000) (“The Court does not believe that Congress intended to convert a matter of contract dispute into a violation of the automatic stay.”). The evidence here demonstrates that Core acted within its reasonable interpretation of the Agreement such that Celsius cannot convert a contract dispute into a stay violation.

D. Celsius’s Own Breaches and Amounts That it Owes the Debtors Further Limit the Amount of Damages it Can Recover from the Debtors

71. Any amounts the Debtors may owe to Celsius must be reduced given Celsius’s own breaches of the Hosting Agreements, and can be set off or recouped against the claims the Debtors have against Celsius. The Debtors retain all defenses available under Section 558 of the Bankruptcy Code.

72. At a minimum, Celsius owes the Debtors approximately $11 million in hosting prepayments and power pass through costs that span Celsius’s pre and postpetition periods. The Debtors also spent tens of millions of dollars building out the infrastructure to host Celsius’s machines. As a result of Celsius’s own breaches of the MSA, Core has suffered damages in an amount to be liquidated at a later date, but believed to be in excess of $30 million. See Claim No. 23022 filed against Celsius Mining LLC and attached hereto as Exhibit G.

73. Obligations performed or services rendered by the Debtors to Celsius pursuant to the Hosting Agreements and other costs incurred after Celsius’s petition date constitute claims entitled to administrative priority in the Celsius Bankruptcy pursuant to section 503 of the Bankruptcy Code. These are amounts Core has sought in Celsius’s bankruptcy case. See generally

(I) To Compel Immediate Payment of Administrative Expenses and (II)(A) For Relief From Automatic Stay to Exercise Rights Under Master Services Agreement and Related Orders or (B) In The Alternative, to Compel Assumption or Rejection of Master Services Agreement and Related Orders, In re Celsius Network LLC, No. 22-10964 (MG) (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. Oct. 19, 2022).⁸

74. The Debtors also reserve all rights to assert claims of equitable subordination of Celsius's claims in these proceedings based on Celsius's misconduct that caused harm to the Debtors and their creditors.

Reservation of Rights

75. This Objection is limited to the grounds stated herein and accordingly is without prejudice to the rights of the Debtors or any other party in interest to object to any claim, including the any of Celsius's claims, on any further grounds, and the Debtors expressly reserve all other substantive or procedural objections that they may have. Nothing contained herein is intended to be or shall be deemed as (i) an admission as to the validity of any claim against the Debtors, (ii) a waiver of the Debtors' or any appropriate party-in-interest's rights to dispute the amount of, basis for, or validity of any claim, (iii) a waiver of the Debtors' or any other party-in-interest's rights under the Bankruptcy Code or any other applicable nonbankruptcy law, or (iv) an approval, adoption, assumption, or rejection of any agreement, contract, program, policy, or lease under section 365 of the Bankruptcy Code.

⁸ The amounts Celsius owes to the Debtors for costs incurred after Celsius's petition date have increased since October 19, 2022.

Notice

76. Notice of this Objection will be provided to (i) any party that has requested notice pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 2002, (ii) the affected claimant, and (iii) any other party entitled to notice pursuant to Bankruptcy Local Rule 9013-1(d).

Exhibit B

MASTER SERVICES AGREEMENT

This Master Services Agreement (“Agreement”) effective as of December 18, 2020 (“Effective Date”) is between CORE SCIENTIFIC, INC. (“Company”) and CELSIUS CORE LLC (“Client”).

WHEREAS, Client desires access to locate its Client Equipment (as defined below) at the Company Facility (as defined below) and receive certain Services (as defined below); and

WHEREAS, Company desires to provide such Services at its Company Facility.

The parties agree as follows:

1. AGREEMENT STRUCTURE

a. This Agreement provides general terms applicable to Company’s provision of certain services, including, without limitation, colocation, hosting, rack space, security, monitoring, maintenance, utilities, Client Equipment maintenance and repair, facility management, account management, network and data access, technical support, and heat and thermal management services (“Services”) to Client in a data center owned or operated by Company or its affiliates (“Company Facility”) in mutually agreed transactions described in mutually executed ordering documents in the form of Exhibit A attached hereto that reference and are governed by this Agreement (“Orders”). Each Order will be a separate agreement between Company and Client and will be deemed to incorporate the terms of this Agreement by reference. Company may require Customer to provide evidence of creditworthiness or credit support acceptable to Company in its sole discretion as a condition to accepting any Order. In the event of any conflict or inconsistency between the terms of this Agreement and the specific terms of an Order, the specific terms of the Order govern with respect to such Order.

2. SERVICES AND COMPANY FACILITY

a. Company will provide Client the Services at a Company Facility set forth in an Order. This Agreement is not intended to and does not constitute a lease of any real or personal property or a grant of any other real property interest. Unless otherwise set forth in an Order, Client Equipment is owned by Client will not be construed as fixtures or fittings or otherwise attached to a Company Facility. Company retains title to all racking, connectors, fittings, parts and other materials used or provided by Company at a Company Facility to provide Client the Services. Client will be liable for the actions of all persons accessing Company Facility on its behalf.

b. Company has the right to review and the sole right to approve any delivery, installation (including, without limitation, the location and position of Client Equipment at the Company Facility), replacement or removal work with respect to Client’s computer hardware or other tangible equipment (“Client Equipment”) at a Company Facility. Client shall be fully responsible for delivering all Client Equipment to Company at a specified Company Facility on or before the applicable scheduled delivery date, each as specified in an Order. Client will be responsible for all risk of loss or damage to Client Equipment at all times until such Client Equipment is accepted by Company at a designated Company Facility.

c. Client Equipment will adhere to Company’s specifications, procedures, rules, and regulations, including, without limitation, equipment labeling and tracking and security practices and policies for the Company Facility, all of which are incorporated herein by this reference. If Company determines in its sole discretion that Client Equipment or related operating software does not conform to its policies or is not suitable for the provision of Services at the Company Facility, Company may suspend installation of Client Equipment and operating software or commencement of the Services until Company approves of the Client Equipment and operating software. Company has no responsibility or liability for any loss or damage to Client Equipment, including without limitation any damage to Client Equipment, failure to adhere to any manufacturer warranty, the voiding of any manufacturer warranty or loss of or inability to collect under any manufacturer warranty, unless directly caused by the gross negligence, bad faith or willful misconduct of Company.

d. Client is responsible for costs and expenses regarding the installation, repair, replacement and removal of Client Equipment and tariffs, taxes, shipping costs or other expenses associated with owning, shipping, importing or transporting Client Equipment. Upon any expiration or termination of an applicable Order, Company will provide Client with a written notice, which may be by email (the "Retrieval Notice"), of the date when Client Equipment is ready to be removed from Company Facility, which will be at Client's sole expense. Such notice will document the condition of Client Equipment being prepared for shipment, any outstanding amounts owed by Client to Company and Client shall have five (5) calendar days from the date set forth in the Retrieval Notice to pay any outstanding amounts owed to Company and remove at Client's sole cost and expense Client Equipment from Company Facility. Client will hold Company harmless from any damage caused to Client Equipment during such pickup and removal of Client Equipment. The failure or delay by Client to retrieve Client Equipment on or before the date set forth in the Retrieval Notice will constitute abandonment of Client Equipment under the laws of the jurisdiction where the Client Equipment is located and Company will be entitled to pursue at Client's sole risk and expense all available remedies, including, without limitation, the actions set forth in Section 4(d), as applicable.

e. In order to continue to provide the Services, from time to time Company may request, and Client shall promptly provide, information regarding Client Equipment, Client's related operating software, Client's systems, and other information reasonably necessary in Company's provision of the Services.

f. If software and services of a third party are requested by Client in conjunction with the Services ("Third Party Services") and identified in an Order, Client acknowledges and agrees that such Third Party Services are the responsibility of the third party, subject to separate terms and conditions between such third party and Client and Company accepts no responsibility for the performance of such Third Party Services or any loss or damage arising from or associated with the provision of such Third Party Services.

3. PAYMENT TERMS AND TAXES

a. Company will invoice Client monthly in advance for all applicable fees for use of Company Facility and provision of Services as set forth in the applicable Order. Client will pay all invoiced amounts in US dollars within ten (10) calendar days of the date of the invoice. All payments must be (i) in US dollars into an ACH account number as set forth in the applicable Order; or (ii) to another account or form of payment directed by Company. Interest shall be charged on past due amounts at the lesser of (A) one and a half percent (1.5%) per month; or (B) the highest rate permitted by applicable law.

b. Client may, in good faith, dispute any invoice or any part thereof (a "Disputed Amount") by submitting a written notice of such dispute along with reasonable supporting documentation within three (3) calendar days of the date of the initial invoice on which the Disputed Amount appears, failing which Client waives all rights to dispute such Disputed Amount and to file any claim. Company will review the Disputed Amount after its receipt of the relevant notice and if Company determines that Client was billed in error, a credit for the amount invoiced incorrectly will be made to the next invoice. If Company determines that the amount was invoiced correctly, Client will pay the amount by the due date of the next invoice. For clarity, Client shall promptly pay all undisputed amounts.

c. All amounts payable to Company under this Agreement exclude applicable taxes. Client is responsible for (i) taxes related to its activities and the ownership and operation of Client Equipment; and (ii) taxes imposed, levied or assessed thereon by any governmental or other authorities. If Client is required to make any deduction, withholding or payment for taxes in any jurisdiction on amounts payable to Company, such amounts will be increased such that after making such deduction, Company receives an amount equal to what it would have received if such deduction, withholding or payment had not been made.

4. TERM, TERMINATION, MODIFICATION AND SUSPENSION

a. This Agreement commences on the Effective Date and continues until terminated as permitted by this Agreement. Each Order commences on the effective date set forth in the Order, has the initial term (“Initial Term”) set forth in the Order, and thereafter automatically renews for the additional periods set forth in the Order, or if no renewal period is set forth then one (1) year periods, (each, a “Renewal term” and collectively, the “Term”) unless Client notifies Company in writing not less than ninety (90) calendar days before such renewal of its desire for the order not to renew.

b. Either party may terminate an Order upon written notice to the other party and take such other action identified in Section 4 d. below if the other party materially breaches such Order or this Agreement and fails to cure such breach within thirty (30) calendar days (5 days in the case of failure to pay an Unpaid Balance (as defined below) or 2 days in the case of failure to pay an Unpaid Balance two or more times during any twelve month period) . If the breach (other than Client failure to pay amounts when due) cannot be cured within thirty (30) calendar days, the breaching party shall be given a reasonable period of time, but not to exceed sixty (60) calendar days after receipt of the notice, to cure the breach, provided that the breaching party acts promptly and diligently to cure such breach.

c. Either party may terminate this Agreement upon written notice to the other party if there have been no Orders in effect for twelve (12) consecutive months.

d. In addition to the remedy set forth in Section 4 b. above if Client fails to pay all invoiced amounts when due (an “Unpaid Balance”), or otherwise fails to perform any of its obligations under this Agreement after opportunity to cure as provided in Section 4 b above Company may, in its sole discretion, take certain actions including, without limitation, the following actions, at Client’s sole risk and expense:

- (i) suspend the provision of the Services;
- (ii) disconnect Client Equipment and store it;
- (iii) declare all amounts due under the applicable Order through the balance of the Term to be immediately due and payable;
- (iv) operate Client Equipment for cryptocurrency mining and other activities at Company’s sole discretion and direct all resulting proceeds to Company’s own account until Company has recovered all amounts due, including, without limitation, any reinstatement, disconnection or storage fees or costs;
- (v) terminate this Agreement and all Orders; and
- (vi) exercise all other rights under this Agreement, at law, in equity or otherwise.

Unless Company has terminated this Agreement, Company will reverse the suspension of the provision of the Company Facility and Services and disconnection of Client Equipment as soon as reasonably practical after it is satisfied Client has cured the acts or omissions giving rise to the suspension and disconnection. In connection with the foregoing, Company may charge a reinstatement fee. Thereafter, Company may, at its sole discretion, require an advance payment equal to the amount of one billing invoice.

e. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, Company may suspend its provision of all or a portion of the Services and disconnect all of a portion of Client Equipment immediately if Company determines in its sole discretion that: Client's use of the Services or Client Equipment (i) may adversely impact or pose a security risk to Company's operation or maintenance of the Company Facility or Company's other clients; (ii) may subject Company to liability; or (iii) is not in compliance with this Agreement or Company's policies. Company will use commercially reasonable efforts to notify Client, which may be via email or telephone, of such suspension or disconnection. Company will use commercially reasonable efforts to reverse such suspension or disconnection as soon as reasonably practical after it is satisfied that Client has cured the acts or omissions giving rise to such suspension and disconnection. In connection with the foregoing, Company may charge a reinstatement fee as set forth in the applicable Order. Further, Company may terminate this Agreement and all Orders if such suspension or disconnection continues for at least two (2) calendar days or occurs more than three (3) times in any twelve (12) month period. For clarity, during the period of suspension or disconnection, Client remains responsible for all fees and charges Client incurs during such period. Further, after the Effective Date, if Company determines in its sole and absolute discretion that as a result of any change in, or interpretation, introduction or administration of, any laws, regulations, statutes, treaties, rules, guidelines, ordinances, codes or the like, or any proposed or anticipated changes in, or interpretations, introduction or administration of the foregoing (a "Change in Law"), has resulted in an increase in Company's cost of compliance with such Change in Law then Company may, in its commercially reasonable discretion, take certain actions, including, without limitation, the following actions, at Client's sole risk and expense: (i) terminate this Agreement, any or all Orders; and/or (ii) modify the Services as may be necessary to account for such Change in Law. Company will use commercially reasonable efforts to notify Client of such Company actions and the effective date of such actions.

f. Further, and notwithstanding the Change in Law related costs above, after the Effective Date, if there are any increases, changes in, or introduction or administration of, any new taxes, levies, tariffs or governmental fees and charges with respect to the provision of Services, Company may, in its sole and absolute discretion, pass through all such amounts to Client ("Increased Costs") and Client shall pay all Increased Costs in accordance with the payment and invoicing procedures as set forth in this Agreement.

g. Company shall not be liable for any Client loss or damage whatsoever as a result of the exercise of its rights under this Agreement. Upon termination of this Agreement or an Order by Company, Company is entitled to recover from Client all loss or damages incurred by Company as a result of such termination, outstanding fees, costs, charges, assessments, reimbursements, and expenses (including, without limitation, costs of collection and reasonable attorneys' fees).

h. In addition to Section 4(f), the Company may terminate or suspend all or a portion of the Services if necessary to be in compliance with applicable law, rules, regulations, administrative or judicial orders or decree. Company will use commercially reasonable efforts to notify Client, which may be via email or telephone, of such suspension. Client agrees that the Company shall have no liability whatsoever to Client for any damage, loss, expense or cost as a result of such termination or suspension.

c. Upon termination or expiration of this Agreement, or at any other time at the request of the other party, each party shall return to the other party, or destroy and delete, as applicable, all Confidential Information and any copies thereof in its possession or control.

d. g. General. The rights and remedies provided for herein are cumulative and not exclusive of any rights or remedies that a party would otherwise have. The parties are independent contractors, and this Agreement does not establish any relationship of partnership, joint venture, employment, franchise or agency between them. Neither party may bind the other or incur obligations on the other's behalf without the other's prior written consent. There are no third-party beneficiaries to this Agreement. Core Scientific, Inc. (“Core”), by and through its undersigned counsel, hereby files this objection (the “Objection”) to the Debtors’ Motion to Enforce the Automatic Stay and for Civil Contempt (D.E. 917) (the “Contempt Motion”) and respectfully states as follows:

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

1. As Core will show using record evidence in opposition to the Contempt Motion and in support of Core’s separately requested affirmative relief, the Contempt Motion is a desperate attempt—in the midst of what appears to be a very challenging chapter 11 process that is far from the Debtors’ hoped-for outcome in these cases—to use the Debtors’ bankruptcy case as a sword to rewrite a hosting contract between Core and Celsius Mining LLC (“Celsius”) and in the process attempt to foist millions of dollars of increased power costs onto Core’s balance sheet instead of their own. Celsius’s attempt is contrary to the contract, the parties’ course of conduct, and the contractual relationship Core has had with virtually every other customer. Quite simply, Core did not violate the stay—it is Celsius that has breached and is breaching the contract. Celsius either needs to adhere to the contract, or Core and Celsius must terminate their relationship before Celsius causes yet another business partner to enter insolvency proceedings.

2. The Debtors’ postpetition interpretation of the contract—that unlike virtually every other Core customer, Celsius did not have to pay the increased tariffs charged by utilities—is unsupported by the plain language of the contract, the general industry understanding of the contract’s terms, and how arrangements between data hosting companies and cryptocurrency miners work. It is also contravened by Celsius’s prepetition course of conduct, in which Celsius has willingly paid these increased power costs (the “PPT Charges”) without objection.

3. The Contempt Motion also claims that Core delayed its implementation of Celsius’s machines and threatened to terminate the contract. Not so. Here, the Lawlor Declaration (D.E. 918) omits critical facts—that Celsius knew all about at the time—which explain the external causes for delays in deployment. And, in any event, it is undisputed that every machine delivered by Celsius so far has been deployed. As for the claimed threat, Jeffrey Pratt, who was at the meeting from Core, explains in his declaration that no such threat was ever made.

4. The Contempt Motion also claims that Core failed to offer additional hosting availability to Celsius. Here again, Celsius is wrong—Core had no “additional hosting availability” to offer Celsius, as that term is used in the contract. Nor has Celsius been harmed by any alleged failure to notify Celsius of purported additional hosting availability.

5. In the end, the Contempt Motion is an aggressive step taken by Debtors facing dropping Bitcoin prices and increasing natural gas prices, looking for a way to have someone else pay for the losses sustained by their investors. But there is simply no basis under the contract or at equity to force Core to subsidize the Debtors’ unprofitable business.

6. Even if Core were not performing its obligations under the contract (though it is), such inaction would not constitute an attempt to “exercise control over property of the estate” in violation of the automatic stay. 11 U.S.C. § 362(a)(3). The Contempt Motion cites older cases to suggest otherwise, while ignoring a recent, on-point U.S. Supreme Court case stating unequivocally that an “affirmative act” is required to implicate section 362(a)(3) of the Bankruptcy Code. City of Chicago v. Fulton, 141 S. Ct. 585, 590 (2021) (“Fulton”). Mere non-compliance with an obligation is insufficient. Celsius has no answer to this.

7. One need look no further than the form of relief the Debtors are seeking to recognize their desperate play. Rather than filing an adversary proceeding on what is essentially a breach of contract claim, the Debtors instead filed a motion for contempt based on an alleged automatic stay violation. The reason, though not apparent from the face of the Contempt Motion, is that the Debtors are attempting to use bankruptcy doctrines to rewrite the contract. Of particular importance, the contract effectively provides Core the right to terminate it for any reason whatsoever by limiting Core's liability for any damages to one month's fee:

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, [Core]'s total liability to [Celsius] in the aggregate for the entire term ... with respect to all claims arising from or related to the subject matter of this Agreement ... will not exceed an amount equal to one (1) months [sic] fee payable to [Core] pursuant to the applicable Order.

Pratt Decl. Ex. A (Master Services Agreement) § 5.d (the “MSA” or, together with Order #10, as amended,² and prior Orders, the “Agreement”). The MSA also eliminates Core's liability for Celsius's lost profits, loss of business, loss of revenues, any consequential or indirect damages, any punitive damages, and the like. MSA § 5.c. Thus, Celsius takes the aggressive position that Core should be held in civil contempt for violating the automatic stay for nonperformance, in order to try to use the happenstance of bankruptcy to tag Core with uncapped damages—Celsius's mining losses, lost profits, etc.—in contravention of the parties' prepetition contract.

8. Along with making baseless factual allegations of breach, the Contempt Motion grounds its theory of relief (contempt) on a single case, Windstream Holdings, where a bankruptcy court found a contract counterparty in contempt for violating the automatic stay by taking actions that impacted the debtors' customers. Contempt Motion ¶ 54 (citing In re Windstream Holdings, Inc., 627 B.R. 32, 47, 49 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2021) (“Windstream I”).

9. Unfortunately for the Debtors, Windstream I is not only distinguishable on the facts, as discussed below, but the case was recently reversed on appeal. Windstream Holdings, Inc. v. Charter Commc'ns Inc. (In re Windstream Holdings, Inc.), No. 21-CV-4552 (CS), 2022 WL 5245633 (S.D.N.Y. Oct. 6, 2022) (“Windstream II”). The District Court held that for a court to find a party in civil contempt for a stay violation against a corporate debtor, the movant must ² See Pratt Decl. Ex. C (December 20, 2021 First Amendment to MSA Order #10).

12. As a result of the precarious position in which Celsius's actions have put Core, contemporaneously with this Objection, Core is filing a motion seeking affirmative relief to ensure that it is not unduly prejudiced as a result of Celsius's chapter 11 case. First, Core is filing a motion for immediate payment of its administrative expense claims, particularly the over $1 million in postpetition PPT Charges Celsius has refused to pay. Second, Core is filing a motion to lift the stay (or confirmation that the stay does not apply) to exercise its termination right, pursue remedies under the Agreement, and/or cease performing under the Agreement and cap any damages at one month of fees pursuant to Section 5.d of the MSA. In the alternative, Core seeks an order compelling Celsius to assume or reject the Agreement as soon as possible.

13. Importantly, Core requests that the Court rule on the disputed contract interpretation issues as quickly as possible, so that Core can consider its options, consistent with its fiduciary duties to its own stakeholders, rather than being kept in limbo regarding whether it needs to continue covering millions of dollars of Celsius's costs. Once again, U.S. Supreme Court precedent rejects any contention that Celsius can continue to receive benefits under the Agreement while not paying for those benefits. See NLRB v. Bildisco & Bildisco, 465 U.S. 513, 531 (1984) ("If the debtor-in-possession elects to continue to receive benefits from the other party to an executory contract pending a decision to reject or assume the contract, the debtor-in-possession is obligated to pay for the reasonable value of those services.").

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

A. Core Agrees to Provide Specific Hosting Services—Not to Insure against the Risk of Rising Electricity Costs

14. On December 18, 2020, Core agreed to provide certain services to Celsius in connection with hosting Celsius's cryptocurrency mining machines, which work to create (or "mine") new cryptocurrency. MSA § 1.a; Mares Decl. ¶ 14; Pratt Decl. ¶ 4.³ These mining machines are powerful computers that solve complex equations associated with the use and creation of cryptocurrency coins. Mares Decl. ¶¶ 12-15. Hosting such machines, as Core does, involves industrial-scale power delivery and cooling systems, trained personnel, and specialized equipment. Id. ¶¶ 16-17, 23. Thus, cryptocurrency mining firms like Celsius often use hosting providers like Core to scale their capacity. Id. ¶¶ 16-17, 30.

15. Cryptocurrency mining machines consume vast quantities of electricity. Pratt Decl. ¶ 5; Mares Decl. ¶ 16 (industry expert explaining that large mining facilities can consume more power than entire cities). Increases in the cost of electricity therefore present a significant financial risk for mining firms like Celsius.

16. The MSA explicitly gives Core the “sole and absolute discretion” to pass through to Celsius “any increases, changes in ... tariffs ... with respect to the provision of Services.” MSA § 4.f. If Core decides to pass through any increased tariffs, the MSA requires that Celsius “shall pay all Increased Costs.” Id. Section 4.f of the MSA, which is incorporated by reference into Order #10 with Celsius, is a standard clause that Core included in its service agreements with all its customers. Xia Decl. ¶¶ 3, 5; Pratt Decl. ¶ 8.

17. “Tariffs,” as used in Section 4.f, include the rates charged by electric utilities to their customers. Xia Decl. ¶ 4; Pratt Decl. ¶¶ 8, 44-45; Mares Decl. ¶¶ 19-20, 24-29. These tariffs are comprised of multiple elements, such as fees for maintaining the utility’s infrastructure and repaying debt, variable rates based on what time of day or season the electricity was consumed, and demand charges. Mares Decl. ¶ 20. One element of an electric utility tariff that accounts for fuel prices is a “Fuel Cost Adjustment,” which automatically adjusts based on fluctuations in the prevailing price of the fuel(s) burned by the utility’s power plants. Id.; see also Pratt Decl. ¶ 44. This is shown by the rate tariff published by the Tennessee Valley Authority, which explicitly includes a fuel cost adjustment as part of its rate formula. Pratt Decl. ¶ 44.

18. In addition to the plain meaning of “tariff” as used in the MSA, industry usage shows that this term includes utility rates. Xia Decl. ¶ 4 (confirming this understanding); Pratt Decl. ¶¶ 8, 44-45 (same); see also Mares Decl. ¶¶ 24-29 (expert testifying that tariffs include fuel adjustments and that pass-through of increased power tariffs is consistent with industry practices).

19. Electricity is by far the largest cost for cryptocurrency mining infrastructure providers like Core, typically comprising 60-75% of total operating costs. Mares Decl. ¶ 18. Thus, it is standard practice for hosting firms like Core to pass through electricity price increases to customers. Id. ¶¶ 24-29; see also Pratt Decl. ¶ 8 (explaining that this is a “cornerstone of Core’s business model”). Fixed-rate service agreements without an option to pass through increased electricity costs would not make business sense. See Pratt Decl. ¶ 8.

B. Core’s Variable Payment Structure

20. Contrary to Celsius’s unsupported assertion that Core agreed to a “fixed rate” for its services (Lawlor Decl., D.E. 918 at ¶ 7), Order #10 provides that Core’s fees:

will be determined initially by reference to the Assumed power consumption per Unit of each deployed Unit, multiplied by the Hosting-Services Rate (each as set forth above in this Order). Subsequent invoices will contain any additional charges incurred by [Celsius] and adjustments resulting from any differences between the Fees for Services invoiced in the preceding month and the Fee for Services based on [Core’s] determination of power utilized by [Celsius] during that month, as well as any adjustments to [Core’s] estimate of power to be utilized by [Celsius] in the upcoming month.

Order #10 (Pratt Decl. Ex. B), page 4 (emphasis added).⁴

21. That is, Order #10 specifically contemplates adjustment of Core’s initially estimated fees to account for “additional charges” such as the increased tariffs in Section 4.f. Id.

22. What's more, Celsius routinely discussed power pricing with Core. Pratt Decl. ¶¶ 46-47. This would be irrelevant if Celsius paid a fixed rate, as it now contends. Id.

23. Order #10 also sets out a prepayment schedule, whereby certain payments are due from Celsius before its machines are deployed. See Order #10, pages 1-3.⁵

24. Core does not receive any of the cryptocurrency coins mined by Celsius's machines or share in any appreciation of such coins. Pratt Decl. ¶ 15.

C. Over the Years, Core Rigorously Deploys Celsius's Machines

25. Once Celsius delivers a cryptocurrency mining machine to Core, Core goes through a process to "deploy" that machine, i.e. render it operational. Pratt Decl. ¶ 6. To deploy a cryptocurrency mining machine, Core must, among other things: (i) provide installation racks; (ii) make power and network connections; (iii) ensure adequate airflow and cooling systems to dissipate the large amount of heat these machines generate; and (iv) secure industrial-scale power supply from the utility. Pratt Decl. ¶ 6; see also Mares Decl. ¶¶ 12-17, 23.

26. As of today, Core has deployed all machines that Celsius has delivered, including 10,885 machines under Order #10 and 26,655 machines total. Pratt Decl. ¶¶ 12, 35.

27. While Celsius now claims that Core unreasonably delayed deployment of some machines, that is not accurate. The "Deployment Month" listed in Order #10 simply indicates when Celsius was expected to deliver its machines to Core for deployment. Pratt Decl. ¶¶ 13-14, 16, 19; see also MSA § 2.b ("Client shall be fully responsible for delivering all Client Equipment to [Core] at a specified Company Facility on or before the applicable scheduled delivery date, each as specified in an Order."); Order #10, page 1.

⁵ If Celsius does not timely make payments, "Interest shall be charged on past due amounts at the lesser of (A) one and a half percent (1.5%) per month; or (B) the highest rate permitted by applicable law." MSA § 3.a.

28. Core's rights regarding deployment are set forth in Section 2.b of the MSA—it “has the right to review and the sole right to approve any ... installation [of Celsius's equipment at its facility].” It is in Core's interest to deploy customer machines, because Core earns hosting services fees based on the actual operation of customer machines.

29. When Celsius entered Order #10, Core discussed with Celsius that it had limited hosting availability, was just beginning to construct additional facilities, and needed to deploy numerous machines of its own that it had already purchased. Pratt Decl. ¶¶ 16-17, 36. Despite the significant challenges discussed below, Core diligently deployed Celsius's machines. Id. ¶ 16; see also Mares Decl. ¶ 23 (expert discussing disruptions to the cryptocurrency mining industry caused by COVID-19, including labor shortages, supply chain issues, and health restrictions). Core also kept in regular communication with Celsius regarding the challenges it faced in deployment. Pratt Decl. ¶¶ 18, 34 & Exs. D, O-Q. It is surprising that Celsius could argue Core delayed deployment of its machines while omitting the reasons for any delays, which it knew about at the time. Each of the three tranches delivered by Celsius is discussed below.

30. First tranche of machines. The first machine delivery date in Order #10 was September 2021. Pratt Decl. ¶ 20. First, Celsius did not meet that date, but rather delivered the machines beginning in late November 2021. Id. Second, there was a COVID-19 outbreak as well as a severe winter storm at the facility where machines in this tranche were to be deployed, which unavoidably impacted deployment. Id. ¶ 24. Third, Celsius delivered several types of machines that Core had never installed before, which caused additional delays as Core had to learn how to deploy these machines. Id. ¶ 21 & Ex. E. Fourth, there were significant supply chain delays affecting parts and materials necessary for machine deployment. Pratt Decl. ¶ 23 & Exs. F-I. Finally, there was a delay associated with receiving a governmental certificate of occupancy at the

33. Third tranche of machines. The third delivery date was April 2022, but Celsius did not deliver those machines until June 2022. Pratt Decl. ¶ 30. Deployment was delayed by a regulatory change on March 25, 2022, which prevented the relevant utility from supplying the quantity of power it had previously agreed to provide Core. Id. ¶ 31 & Exs. L-M. This, in turn, prevented Core from fully energizing two of its brand-new facilities. Id. Core continued to diligently pursue power for the facilities and remained in regular contact with the utility. Id. ¶¶ 32-

E. Electricity Costs Spike, Causing Core to Pass Through Increased Tariffs to All Its Customers

41. While Core had previously decided not to exercise its discretion to pass through minor increases in electricity tariffs, this major, sudden increase in tariffs was too great for Core to absorb. Xia Decl. ¶ 14. As a result, in June 2022 Core exercised its unequivocal right under its customer agreements—including the MSA with Celsius—to pass through these increased tariffs. Id. ¶¶ 13-14; see also Pratt Decl. ¶ 48.

42. Core issued the first affected invoice in June 2022. See supra ¶¶ 38-39. Celsius did not object and paid the June 2022 invoice, including the PPT Charge, in full. See id.

43. Celsius also initially paid $598,743.20 of postpetition PPT Charges invoiced in August 2022. Xia Decl. ¶ 18 & Ex. G. The next month, however, Celsius offset this payment as a credit against payment then due under the September 2022 invoice. Id. at ¶ 18 & Ex. H. Celsius did not pay any prepetition PPT Charges invoiced postpetition. Id. at ¶ 18.

44. All but one of Core's 33 other cryptocurrency mining customers paid the increased electricity tariffs, which were due under substantially similar contracts. Xia Decl. ¶ 19. The one exception was a very small customer with only 60 units, where Core had previously notified that it was ending its relationship with that customer. Id. Core did not agree to provide continued services without payment of increased tariffs—as Celsius now demands—to any of its customers.

F. Core Never Threatened to Terminate the MSA—Though It Does Have a Termination Right

45. Core has not threatened to terminate the MSA, either through the automated email or the phone call cited by Celsius.

46. Since November 2020, Core has used an accounting system called NetSuite to automatically send form emails to its customers regarding payment. Xia Decl. ¶ 20. Core automatically sends such emails to customers at various points before a payment is due, and, if the payment is missed, at various points after as well. Id. These emails serve as payment reminders to customers and facially do not purport to terminate any agreement. See id. & Ex. J (examples).

47. Core sent Celsius NetSuite automated emails regarding past-due payments long before Celsius filed for bankruptcy. For example, Core sent Celsius at least four prepetition emails regarding three-day-overdue invoices, which are dated between October 3, 2021 and June 23, 2022. Xia Decl. ¶ 21 & Ex. K. Celsius never contended that any of these prepetition emails constituted threats to terminate the MSA—though they are the same type it now complains of. Id.

48. On August 29, 2022, a NetSuite automated email was sent to Celsius, reminding it of a three-day-overdue invoice. Xia Decl. ¶ 21 & Ex. J. Like its predecessors mentioned above, this form email stated, “We remind you of the following penalties for non-payment,” and then listed rights and remedies under the MSA—without purporting to exercise any. Xia Decl. Ex. J.

49. Core subsequently disabled the NetSuite automated payment reminder system as to Celsius on September 12, 2022. Xia Decl. ¶ 22.⁷ Core also disclaimed that this email indicated any intent to terminate the MSA, a point that Celsius concedes. See Contempt Motion ¶ 25.

50. Celsius also cites a call on August 22, 2022, during which it alleges that “a representative for Core Scientific stated that no new deployments would go forward until Celsius caught up on its payments.” Contempt Motion ¶ 25; see also id. ¶ 46. In fact, Mr. Pratt—who was the Core representative on the call—simply said that Core would not deploy new machines until Celsius paid its outstanding balance on post-petition amounts. Pratt Decl. ¶ 49.

51. Notwithstanding that Core has not threatened to exercise its termination right, it does have such a right.

- a. Section 4(d) of the MSA provides: “[I]f [Celsius] fails to pay all invoiced amounts when due (an ‘Unpaid Balance’) ... after opportunity to cure as provided in Section 4b above⁸ Company may, in its sole discretion, take certain actions including ... (v) terminate this Agreement and all Orders.” As discussed above, Celsius has failed to pay (and continues to fail to pay) invoiced amounts for postpetition services. See supra ¶¶ 43, 61-63.
- b. The MSA also provides a dispute-resolution mechanism, and that mechanism requires Celsius to pay disputed amounts if Core determines the amounts were invoiced correctly. MSA § 3.b. Celsius did not adhere to this dispute-resolution mechanism and has withheld disputed postpetition amounts. Xia Decl. ¶ 18.

52. In these circumstances, a termination by Core will occur “at [Celsius’s] sole risk and expense.” MSA § 4.d. Core may also exercise other remedies for nonpayment, including (but not limited to) suspension of services and shutting off Celsius’s machines. Id.

53. On the other hand, Core’s total liability for all claims arising from or related to the Agreement is limited to “an amount equal to one (1) months [sic] fee payable to [Core] pursuant to the applicable Order.” MSA § 5.d.⁹ This provision is important to Core’s business, as it provides a safety net for Core to effectively buy its way out of a failed business relationship; it is standard in Core’s customer agreements. Pratt Decl. ¶ 9.

G. Core Did Not Have Additional Hosting Availability

54. Hosting availability refers to an infrastructure company’s ability to provide machines with (i) electrical power, and (ii) the infrastructure needed for operation, including cooling, rack space, and so on. See Mares Decl. ¶¶ 15-17, 22-23. Without these things, a cryptocurrency mining machine cannot operate.

55. Under Order #10, Core “will notify [Celsius] as soon as practicable of additional hosting availability, if any,” up to 10 additional megawatts, and provide such additional availability on a priority basis “if available” as “the subject of a separate order.” Order #10, pages 4-5 (emphasis added). This clause was included at a time when, as Celsius knew, Core had limited availability, was in the process of building new facilities, and already had over 100,000 of its own machines to deploy on a priority basis.¹⁰ Pratt Decl. ¶¶ 10, 36.

¹⁰ Core’s typical practice is to deploy machines on a “first in time” basis, meaning they are deployed in the order received from a customer or purchased by Core. Pratt Decl. ¶ 7. Celsius was familiar with this typical practice. Id.

56. In negotiating this clause, Celsius had sought more and specifically asked to receive priority over any additional hosting availability—without limitation. Pratt Decl. ¶ 37. Core did not agree to such a term, as reflected in the text of Order #10. Id.

57. Celsius infers that Core had additional hosting availability because Core announced a larger machine fleet in April 2022 as compared to December 2021. Contempt Motion ¶ 24.

58. This apparent fleet expansion resulted from two factors not related to additional customer hosting availability. Pratt Decl. ¶ 40. First, Core and a client, Argo Blockchain, agreed to a fleet swap whereby Core exchanged machines it had previously ordered (but not deployed) with machines owned by Argo. Id. ¶ 41 & Ex. V. Core’s aggregate customer hosting availability remained unchanged as a result. Id. ¶ 41. Second, Core temporarily expanded its fleet to test new mobile hosting containers called “antboxes.” Id. ¶ 42. The testing was not successful, and the antboxes are being decommissioned. Id. (noting that testing did not impact availability).

59. Similarly, in late July 2022, Core and a major existing customer, Bitmain, agreed to allow certain Bitmain machines to take the place of machines that Core had previously ordered for itself before executing Order #10 but had not yet deployed, and for Bitmain to provide funding to Core in exchange, among other things. Pratt Decl. ¶ 43. Under a new and unique hosting model, exclusive-use facilities would also be built for a number of Bitmain machines, with Bitmain technicians at those facilities. Id.

60. Since Order #10, Core has not had additional customer hosting availability across its data centers. Pratt Decl. ¶ 38. This is demonstrated by the fact that Core has yet to deploy over 10,000 of the machines that Core purchased for itself before Order #10. See id. ¶ 39.

H. Core’s Ongoing Losses Stemming from Celsius

61. Core has suffered, and is suffering, serious losses from Celsius’s refusal to honor the Agreement. These losses call into question Core’s own ability to continue as a going concern.

62. Celsius owes Core $598,743.20 for postpetition PPT Charges related to the August 2022 invoice. Xia Decl. ¶ 18 & Ex. G. Celsius owes Core another $1,505,940.08 for postpetition PPT Charges related to the September 2022 invoice. Id. This yields a grand total of $2,104,683.28 in postpetition PPT Charges just for these two invoices.

63. Core continues to lose approximately $53,000 per day to cover the postpetition increased electricity tariffs that Celsius refuses to pay. Pratt Decl. ¶ 50.

ARGUMENT

64. The Court should deny the Contempt Motion. The Debtors have the burden of proving that Core violated the automatic stay, and they must prove their case by clear and convincing evidence. In re Bennett, 135 B.R. 72, 76 (Bankr. S.D. Ohio 1992).

65. Core has not violated the automatic stay because it has fully complied with the terms of the Agreement. Moreover, even if Core had not fully performed (which it has), Core has relied on its reasonable interpretation of the Agreement, and the Code does not transform a legitimate contract dispute into a stay violation. In addition, non-performance of a contract does not constitute a violation of the automatic stay because passively failing to perform does not constitute an affirmative act to exercise control of estate property as required under Fulton.

66. The Debtors are left with their weak arguments that Core violated the automatic stay based on (i) automated emails sent by a Core computer, which were quickly disclaimed by Core; (ii) a single conversation between the parties' employees, wherein Core disputes what was said; and (iii) the PPT Charges being an attempt to set off prepetition amounts, which is a ridiculous argument given that Celsius paid similar charges prepetition, as have other customers.

67. Lastly, even if Core breached the contract (it did not), none of the alleged violations rise to the level necessary to hold Core in civil contempt. There is, and was, at least a reasonable doubt as to whether the alleged contractual non-performance and invoicing of the PPT Charges constitute a stay violation. It is, at worst, a “close call.” They are certainly not the egregious types of behavior for which the contempt power is reserved. And at all times, Core diligently attempted to comply with the stay. Moreover, ordering uncapped damages under a contempt standard would impermissibly rewrite the Agreement.

I. EVEN IF A BREACH OF CONTRACT CLAIM COULD BE AN AUTOMATIC STAY VIOLATION, CORE DID NOT BREACH THE AGREEMENT

68. The three purported breaches of the Agreement alleged by Celsius are not supported by the law or the facts. First, Core’s right to pass through increased electricity tariffs is not only permitted by the unambiguous terms of the Agreement, but it is confirmed by industry usage, the commercial context, and the parties’ course of dealing. Second, Core had no contractual obligation to deploy Celsius’s machines by predetermined dates, but even if it did, strict adherence to any such deadlines would be excused by factors beyond Core’s control. And at any rate, Core has now deployed every machine Celsius delivered. Finally, Core’s conditional obligation to notify Celsius of additional hosting availability, if available, was not triggered because the condition precedent of there being additional availability did not occur, or if it did, Celsius has suffered no harm as a result. Moreover, Order #10’s vague reference to a possible future order for such hosting, if available, is an unenforceable agreement to agree.

A. Core’s Pass-Through of Increased Electricity Tariffs Comports with the MSA, Industry Usage, Commercial Context, and the Course of Dealing

69. Core did not breach the MSA by passing through PPT Charges to Celsius. “When the contract is clear and unambiguous, [Delaware courts] will give effect to the plain-meaning of the contract’s terms and provisions.” Est. of Osborn v. Kemp, 991 A.2d 1153, 1159-60 (Del. 2010).¹¹ “A contract is not rendered ambiguous simply because the parties do not agree upon its

¹¹ The MSA is governed by Delaware law. MSA § 8.f.

70. “Tariff” is not defined in the MSA, and thus should be given its plain and ordinary meaning as understood by those in the industry. Although Celsius selectively cites a dictionary definition of “tariff” in order to claim that it does not encompass electric utility rates (Contempt Motion ¶ 50), a full review of the term’s definitions—including from one of the very dictionaries cited by Celsius—demonstrates that it clearly does include such rates. Merriam-Webster’s defines “tariff” as “a listing or scale of rates or charges for a business or a public utility.” Merriam-Webster’s Unabridged Dictionary, “Tariff,” <https://unabridged.merriam-webster.com/unabridged/tariff> (last visited Oct. 17, 2022) (emphasis added); see also Oxford English Dictionary, “tariff, n.,” <https://www.oed.com/—view/Entry/197851?rskey=wYwHeD&result=1&print> (last visited Oct. 18, 2022) (defining “tariff” as “A classified list or scale of charges made in any private or public business; as, a hotel tariff, a railroad tariff”). The Court need look no further than the plain meaning of “tariff” to resolve this straightforward issue. See Lorillard Tobacco Co. v. Am. Legacy Found., 903 A.2d 728, 740 (Del. 2006) (“When a term’s definition is not altered or has no ‘gloss’ in the [relevant] industry it should be construed in accordance with its ordinary dictionary meaning.” (citation omitted)).

71. In addition to its dictionary definition, the industry usage of “tariff” confirms that it encompasses electric utility rates. Industry usage can aid in interpreting an unambiguous contract term. See Aleynikov v. Goldman Sachs Grp., Inc., 765 F.3d 350, 361-62 (3d Cir. 2014). Here, multiple declarants, including an expert with decades of experience concerning data centers, have testified that “tariff” is commonly understood in the industry to include electric rates. See supra ¶¶ 17-19. In fact, the rate tariff published by the Tennessee Valley Authority explicitly confirms this—it includes a fuel cost adjustment as part of its rate formula. Pratt Decl. ¶ 44.

72. The commercial context and relationship of the parties further support Core’s unambiguous right to pass through PPT Charges. Delaware courts read contracts “in full and situated in the commercial context of the parties,” such that the “basic business relationship between parties must be understood to give sensible life to any contract.” Chi. Bridge & Iron Co. v. Westinghouse Elec. Co., 166 A.3d 912, 926-27 (Del. 2017). Here, the commercial context is a power-intensive industry where the electricity costs incurred by cryptocurrency mining machines comprise the majority of input costs. See supra ¶¶ 14-15, 19. It is standard practice in this industry for infrastructure providers like Core to pass through increases in electricity costs—indeed, it would be economically irrational for them to bear the significant risk of energy price increases while forfeiting the fruits of mining. See supra ¶¶ 14, 19, 24.

73. The “basic business relationship” in this case tasks Core with hosting the machines, whereas Celsius owns them and obtains the valuable cryptocurrency they mine. In this context, it would make no sense to read “tariff” to exclude increased fuel costs that comprise a portion of electric utility rates—which are far and away the most relevant, impactful “tariff.” Such a reading must be rejected. See Osborn, 991 A.2d at 1160 & n.21 (courts will not adopt “[a]n unreasonable interpretation [that] produces an absurd result or ones that no reasonable person would have accepted when entering the contract”); Wilmington Firefighters Ass’n, Local 1590 v. City of Wilmington, 2002 WL 418032, at *8-9 (Del. Ch. Mar. 12, 2002) (rejecting a party’s interpretation as unreasonable when viewed in the context of the contract).

74. Celsius’s other textual arguments are unavailing. First, it claims that pass-through was inappropriate because Core has a “fixed-rate pricing structure” under Order #10. Contempt Motion ¶ 50. That is false. Order #10 makes clear that while there is an initial estimated service charge, that will be adjusted to include “additional charges incurred by [Celsius] and adjustments....” Supra ¶ 20. And, as already noted, Section 4.f of the MSA allows Core to pass through various “Increased Costs,” including tariffs. Thus, the parties’ Agreement expressly contemplates “additional charges” and “adjustments” on an invoice to the initial estimated pricing—exactly what the increased electricity tariffs were. Second, Celsius seizes on the word “new” in Section 4.f to argue that an increased electricity tariff is not covered because it is not new. Contempt Motion ¶ 50.¹³ But if the word “new” in Section 4.f were read as Celsius now proposes, it would render the preceding phrase “any increases, changes in” entirely superfluous, because there can only be an “increase” or a “change in” an existing tariff—not an entirely new one. And that outcome would violate a fundamental principle of contract interpretation. See NAMA Holdings, LLC v. World Mkt. Ctr. Venture, LLC, 948 A.2d 411, 419 (Del. Ch. 2007), aff’d, 945 A.2d 594 (Del. 2008) (“Contractual interpretation operates under the assumption that the parties never include superfluous verbiage in their agreement, and that each word should be given meaning and effect by the court.”); Osborn, 991 A.2d at 1159 (similar).

¹³ Specifically, Celsius focuses only on the bolded part of Section 4.f, while ignoring the italicized part: “...if there are any increases, changes in, or introduction or administration of, any new taxes, levies, tariffs or governmental fees and charges with respect to the provision of Services...”

75. Even if Section 4.f’s use of the term “tariff” were ambiguous—and it is not—the parties’ course of dealing strongly supports Core’s pass-through of PPT Charges. “It is hornbook law that the contracting parties’ course of conduct may be considered as evidence of their intended meaning of an ambiguous contractual term.” AT&T Corp. v. Lillis, 970 A.2d 166, 172 (Del. 2009); see also Eagle Indus., Inc. v. DeVilbiss Health Care, Inc., 702 A.2d 1228, 1232-33 (Del. 1997) (relevant extrinsic evidence includes “prior agreements and communications of the parties as well as ... course of dealing”). Celsius repeatedly paid for increased electricity tariffs without objection. From October 2021 to April 2022, Celsius paid increased tariffs related to utility curtailment, and its Chief Operating Officer agreed that it “ma[d]e sense” to pay “increased power fees.” See supra ¶¶ 35-37. Beyond that, Celsius paid the exact kind of increased tariff at issue here on its June 2022 invoice. See supra ¶¶ 38-39. Indeed, the email from Core attaching this prepetition invoice explicitly referenced Section 4.f and explained that the invoice included increased energy costs. See supra ¶ 38. These facts also belie Celsius’s claim that pass-through of the increased tariffs only began postpetition. See Contempt Motion ¶ 49; Lawlor Decl., D.E. 918 at ¶ 21. And, with only one exception, every other Core customer paid these increased tariffs—further evidence that the MSA permits pass-through of PPT Charges. See supra ¶ 44.

76. Thus, Core’s decision to pass through PPT Charges to Celsius did not breach the MSA and could not have violated the automatic stay. Though Celsius may wish postpetition to escape the increased tariffs it agreed to in Section 4.f of the MSA and repeatedly paid, sophisticated parties cannot “escape the express language” of a contract. Interim Healthcare, Inc. v. Spherion Corp., 884 A.2d 513, 552 (Del. Super. Ct. 2005), aff’d, 886 A.2d 1278 (Del. 2005).

B. Core Did Not Unjustifiably Delay Deployment of Celsius’s Machines

77. Celsius is also incorrect that Core breached the Agreement by not deploying machines as quickly as Celsius wished. Contempt Motion ¶¶ 43-44. Celsius offers two arguments:

(i) that Core breached by not adhering to the so-called deployment schedule in Order #10; and
 (ii) that Core breached by not deploying machines “in a professional and workmanlike manner” under Section 5.a of the MSA. Id. Both are wrong.

78. First, Celsius is mistaken that Order #10 institutes a fixed “deployment schedule.” The months listed on page 1 are simply the expected timeframe for Celsius to deliver its cryptocurrency mining machines to Core for deployment. See supra ¶¶ 27-28. This is borne out by the fact that Celsius did not even finish delivering its first tranche of machines, scheduled to be delivered for deployment in September 2021, until late November 2021, and other deliveries likewise occurred after the months listed in Order #10. See supra ¶¶ 30, 33. The months listed in Order #10 therefore create an obligation for Celsius, not for Core. Core cannot have breached any of its obligations by deploying machines later than Celsius’s expected delivery date. Core’s rights regarding deployment are set forth in Section 2.b of the MSA—it “has the right to review and the sole right to approve any ... installation [of Celsius’s equipment at its facility].”

79. Second, Celsius’s barebones argument that Core did not perform “in a professional and workmanlike manner” under Section 5.a falls flat. Celsius conspicuously fails to explain what this standard means or how Core failed to abide by it. See Contempt Motion ¶ 43.

80. Any delays in deploying Celsius’s machines had nothing to do with an alleged lack of professionalism or workmanship on Core’s part, and everything to do with outside factors beyond Core’s control. Core experienced unavoidable delays in the deployment of some machines due, among other things, to: (i) Celsius’s own repeated late deliveries; (ii) significant supply chain disruptions; (iii) construction and permitting delays; (iv) power disruption issues; and (v) an outbreak of COVID-19 among Core’s construction staff. See supra ¶¶ 29-33. Celsius knows this

82. Alternatively, even if Celsius were correct about supposed deployment obligations created by either of these contract terms (and it is not), Core’s strict adherence to them would be excused due to impracticability. Under Delaware law, the defense of impracticability requires: “(1) the occurrence of an event, the nonoccurrence of which was a basic assumption of the contract; (2) the continued performance is not commercially practicable; and (3) the party claiming impracticability did not expressly or impliedly agree to performance in spite of impracticability that would otherwise justify nonperformance.” Chase Manhattan Bank v. Iridium Africa Corp., 474 F. Supp. 2d 613, 620 (D. Del. 2007). Each element is met here. First, to the extent Core had an obligation to deploy machines by a specific date, any such obligation would have assumed the nonoccurrence of Celsius’s own delivery delays and unprecedented supply chain shortages, among other things. Second, in these circumstances, strict adherence to deployment by a specific date would not be commercially practicable—Core could not deploy machines that Celsius had not yet delivered, nor could it build a building without steel, nor could it violate governmental health restrictions. Third, Core did not agree to deployment by a specific date at all, let alone in spite of impracticability.¹⁵

83. Similarly, even if Core were obligated to deploy machines by the months listed in Order #10 (it is not), any breach of such obligation would be excused because Celsius first breached its own related obligation to timely deliver machines for deployment by Core. “As a general rule the party first guilty of a material breach of contract cannot complain if the other party subsequently refuses to perform.” Hudson v. D&V Mason Contractors, Inc., 252 A.2d 166, 170 (Del. Sup. Ct. 1969). Celsius repeatedly delivered machines months after these supposed deployment deadlines passed. See supra ¶¶ 30, 33. These failures were material, as demonstrated by the fact that Order #10 allows Core to terminate the entire Order if Celsius delivers too late. See Order #10, at page 3. In these circumstances, Celsius “cannot complain” of any alleged missed deadlines for deployment. Hudson, 252 A.2d at 170.

84. Finally, even if this Court were to find that Core breached by not deploying machines quickly enough, there is no “ongoing failure to perform its deployment obligations” as Celsius alleges. Contempt Motion ¶ 43. Despite all the recent challenges—including a pandemic and associated supply chain disruptions—Core has deployed every cryptocurrency mining machine that Celsius has delivered to it. See supra ¶ 26. Thus, any breach has been cured.¹⁶

¹⁵ For substantially the same reasons, strict adherence by Core to purported deployment deadlines would be excused under the MSA’s force majeure clause. That clause excuses Core’s failure to perform any of its obligations under the Agreement “if such failure is caused by events or circumstances beyond its reasonable control, including, without limitation ... inclement weather, health epidemic or any law, order, regulation or other action of any governing authority or agency.” MSA § 8.e.

¹⁶ Celsius’s speculative theory that its motion prompted machine deployment is incorrect. 10/10/22 Celsius Letter to the Court, D.E. 1003 at page 2. The deployment timeline is, and has always been, dictated by practical considerations such as the timing of Celsius’s deliveries, hosting availability, power availability, and other factors discussed above.

C. Core Did Not Breach the “Notification of Hosting Availability” Provision, But Even If It Did, Celsius Has Suffered No Harm

85. The other purported breach alleged by Celsius is that it “has never once been notified of additional hosting availability.” Contempt Motion ¶ 45. Order #10 (at pages 4-5) states that Core will “notify [Celsius] as soon as practicable of additional hosting availability, if any, and provide Client up to 10 additional [megawatts] per month at a hosting services rate of $0.0625 per KWh. Additional hosting availability if available will be the subject of a separate order and provided to [Celsius] on a priority basis, subject to [Celsius’s] acceptance.” When this clause was included, Celsius knew that Core had an availability deficit, needed to construct new facilities, and planned to first deploy many machines of its own. See supra ¶ 55.

86. The plain language of this clause indicates that Core’s notification obligation arises if, and only if, the condition precedent of additional hosting availability is satisfied. “A condition precedent [] is an act or event ... that must exist or occur before a duty to perform something promised arises.” Cato Cap. LLC v. Hemispherx Biopharma, Inc., 70 F. Supp. 3d 607, 619 (D. Del. 2014), aff’d, 625 F. App’x 108 (3d Cir. 2015) (citation omitted and alteration adopted). The clause here states that notification will occur as to additional hosting availability, “if any,” and then goes on to refer to a possible future order regarding additional hosting availability, “if available.” This confirms that the existence of additional hosting availability is a condition precedent to any notification obligation. See id. (“Words such as ‘if, provided that, on the condition that’ can be useful to establishing that the parties intended a condition, ... but any phrase that conditions performance suffices.”). Because the condition precedent of additional hosting availability did not occur, see supra ¶¶ 58-60, the obligation to notify Celsius never arose. See Cato Cap. LLC, 70 F. Supp. 3d at 619.

87. While Celsius speculates that Core had additional hosting availability based on a superficial comparison of fleet counts in two press releases (Contempt Motion ¶ 45; Lawlor Decl., D.E. 918 at ¶ 19), Celsius’s counting exercise is flawed. This seeming fleet expansion was no expansion at all but actually resulted from Core swapping machines with an existing customer, and from performance-testing new antbox containers for mining machines. See supra ¶ 58. Neither of these events involved Core expanding its customer hosting availability or failing to notify Celsius of additional customer hosting availability.

88. Similarly, Core’s agreement with Bitmain did not implicate “additional hosting availability” within the meaning of Order #10. That agreement also involved Core agreeing to allow an existing customer to deploy machines in place of Core’s machines that it had previously ordered for itself (before Order #10) but not yet deployed. See supra ¶ 59. And the new, exclusive-use Bitmain facilities contemplated by that agreement cannot logically be construed as “additional hosting” that could be “available” for Celsius—these special facilities would be exclusively for Bitmain and not any other customer. Order #10, pages 4-5. Nor could Core preempt Bitmain in these exclusive-use facilities by providing them to Celsius “on a priority basis.” Id.

89. To the extent Celsius contends that Core breached because it was obligated to enter an agreement regarding additional hosting availability—notwithstanding the nonexistence of such availability and the failure of that condition precedent—such an interpretation would be an unenforceable agreement to agree. Delaware courts have a “general aversion to enforcing agreements to agree,” Centreville Veterinary Hosp., Inc. v. Butler-Baird, 2007 WL 1965538, at *8 (Del. Ch. July 6, 2007), and “will not enforce a contract that is indefinite in any of its material and essential provisions.” Omega Cap. Mgmt. Partners, LLC v. Schrage, 2021 WL 2036672, at *2 (D. Del. May 21, 2021) (citation omitted); see also id. (“Delaware law requires that, to be enforceable, a contract to enter into a future contract must specify all its material and essential terms, and leave none to be agreed upon as the result of future negotiations.” (citation omitted and emphasis added)). The reference in this clause of Order #10 (at page 5) to agreeing on additional hosting as “the subject of a separate order” is a classic agreement to agree. Among other missing material terms, it does not specify what this possible future order would include regarding the number or type of mining machines; assumed power consumption; delivery date; and prepayment schedule—all essential terms included prominently in Order #10. See Pratt Ex. B at page 1. Thus, Core was not bound to enter any such inchoate agreement.

90. Finally, even if the Court were to find (i) that Core had additional hosting availability within the meaning of Order #10, and (ii) that the clause at issue is not an unenforceable agreement to agree, Celsius suffered no harm as a result and therefore cannot establish a claim for breach. The clause does not reference any terms of the yet-to-be-negotiated “separate order” by which additional availability would be provided to Celsius, except the base hosting services rate and a 10-megawatt capacity cap. See Order #10, pages 4-5. In negotiating the terms of such an order, Core would insist, among other things, on pass-through of PPT Charges—which Celsius has already made abundantly clear it will not pay. Thus, the parties’ positions in the current dispute prove that there would be no meeting of the minds, and no such order would ever be executed. Celsius cannot have suffered harm from the purported lost opportunity to participate in utterly futile negotiations, and absent harm cannot establish a breach of contract claim. See Connelly v. State Farm Mut. Auto. Ins. Co., 135 A.3d 1271, 1279 n.28 (Del. 2016) (“Under Delaware law, the elements of a breach of contract claim are: 1) a contractual obligation; 2) a breach of that obligation by the defendant; and 3) a resulting damage to the plaintiff.” (citation omitted)).

II. CORE DID NOT VIOLATE THE AUTOMATIC STAY

A. Core Did Not Violate the Automatic Stay Because It Acted on Its Reasonable Interpretation of the Contract

91. As discussed above, Core fully complied with the Agreement. Even if this Court were to disagree with that conclusion, Core still did not violate the automatic stay because it acted in accordance with its reasonable interpretation of the Agreement.

92. Courts have held that a contract counterparty does not violate the automatic stay by acting in accordance with its reasonable interpretation of a contract with the debtor. For example, in United States v. Inslaw, Inc., the D.C. Circuit held that a non-debtor did not violate the automatic stay by retaining and using copies of the debtor's software pursuant to its interpretation of its contract with the debtor, which differed from the debtor's interpretation. 932 F.2d 1467, 1472-73 (D.C. Cir. 1991). The D.C. Circuit warned against the broad interpretation of section 362(a)(3) that the Contempt Motion now advocates:

If the bankruptcy court's idea of the scope of 'exercise of control' were correct, the sweep of § 362(a) would be extraordinary—with a concomitant expansion of the jurisdiction of the bankruptcy court. Whenever a party against whom the bankrupt holds a cause of action ... acted in accord with his view of the dispute rather than that of the debtor-in-possession or bankruptcy trustee, he would risk a determination by a bankruptcy court that he had 'exercised control' over intangible rights (property) of the estate.

Id. The court added, "[f]ulfillment of [the] purpose [of § 362] cannot require that every party who acts in resistance to the debtor's view of its rights violates § 362(a) if found in error by the bankruptcy court." Id. at 1473; see also In re Mountaineer Coal Co., 247 B.R. 633, 644 (Bankr. W.D. Va. 2000) ("The Court does not believe that Congress intended to convert a matter of contract dispute into a violation of the automatic stay."). The evidence here demonstrates that Core acted within its reasonable interpretation of the Agreement. The Court should not permit Celsius to convert a contract dispute into a stay violation.

B. Core Did Not Exercise Control over the Debtors' Property, Thus Section 362(a)(3) of the Bankruptcy Code Is Not Implicated

(i) Stay Violation under Section 362(a)(3) Requires That a Counterparty "Exercise Control" Over Estate Property

93. Section 362(a)(3) of the Bankruptcy Code does not stay all acts concerning estate property, however remote. "The mere fact that the conduct may be wrongful or unlawful does not automatically convert it into a violation of the automatic stay." Windstream II, 2022 WL 5245633, at *8. Indeed, section 362(a)(3) is limited to acts undertaken by third parties "to obtain possession of property of the estate or of property from the estate or to exercise control over property of the estate." Id. at *4 (citation omitted and emphasis added). The Code does not define "control." Consequently, when determining whether particular conduct could "be regarded as an act to exercise control, [courts have been] left with the language of the statute and the manner in which other courts have construed section 362(a)(3)'s control provision." In re Albion Disposal, Inc., 217 B.R. 394, 405 (W.D.N.Y. 1997).

94. Last year, the U.S. Supreme Court concluded that section 362(a)(3) is only implicated by an "affirmative act that would alter the status quo as of the time of the filing of a bankruptcy petition." Fulton, 141 S. Ct. at 590 (emphasis added). Based on this interpretation, the Supreme Court held that the mere retention of estate property after a bankruptcy filing does not violate section 362(a)(3), explicitly overruling courts that had interpreted it more broadly.

95. Fulton is consistent with other U.S. Supreme Court precedent. In Citizens Bank of Maryland v. Strumpf, the Court held that breaching a "promise to pay" a debtor is not an exercise of control over the debtor's property and does not implicate or violate sections 362(a)(3) or (a)(6) of the Code. 516 U.S. 16, 21 (1995).¹⁷ The Court rejected as a "false premise" the debtor's argument that the bank “exercised dominion over property” of the estate, implicating section 362(a)(3), by failing to return deposited funds to the debtor. Id.

96. Courts in this District have likewise concluded that a contract counterparty’s breach of contract is not an attempt to exercise control of estate property in violation of § 362(a)(3). For example, in In re Golden Distributors, Ltd., Judge Schwartzberg of this Court held that:

the fact that the defendants may have breached the restrictive covenants in their employment contracts ... for which the defendants might ultimately be liable to the debtor for damages or enjoined from engaging in such improper conduct, does not mean that the defendants attempted to obtain possession or control of property of the estate in violation of 11 U.S.C. § 362(a)(3).

122 B.R. 15, 19-20 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 1990) (cited approvingly in Windstream II, 2022 WL 5245633, at *8).¹⁸ A breach of contract gives rise to a breach of contract claim against the counterparty—not a stay violation.

97. Like the U.S. Supreme Court in Fulton, other courts have drawn a distinction between “affirmative acts,” which violate the stay, and passive inaction, which does not.¹⁹ did not violate the automatic stay. In addition to that issue, the Court in Strumpf squarely addressed, and rejected, the debtor’s alternative contention that the bank’s actions violated 362(a)(3). Id. at 21. The Court first noted that money in a bank account is not legally a debtor’s property, just “a promise to pay from the bank to the depositor,” and it therefore concluded that “petitioner’s temporary refusal to pay was neither a taking of possession of respondent’s property nor an exercising of control over it, but merely a refusal to perform its promise.” Id. The Court’s discussion of the section 362(a)(3) “exercise control” provision was independent of its discussion of the “setoff” provision in section 362(a)(7), and courts have applied Strumpf’s holding on section 362(a)(3) outside the setoff context. See, e.g., In re Calvin, 329 B.R. 589, 603 (Bankr. S.D. Tex. 2005) (applying Strumpf to determine whether § 363(a)(3) was violated outside a setoff context); In re Brown, 210 B.R. 878, 884 (Bankr. S.D. Ga. 1997) (same).

¹⁸ See also In re APF Co., 2001 Bankr. LEXIS 1298, at *16 (Bankr. D. Del. Aug. 31, 2001) (“[T]he mere breach of the contract itself is not a violation of the stay.” (citing 1 DAVID G. EPSTEIN ET AL., BANKRUPTCY, § 3.14 at 174 (West, 1992) (“Nothing is lost by failing to stay a breach of contract. The cause of action for the breach belongs to the estate. It can remedy the wrong by any appropriate means as in any other action for breach of contract.”)); In re Wilkinson, 2003 WL 25273854, at *8 (Bankr. D. Idaho Nov. 10, 2003) (“Even assuming [the counterparty’s] actions constituted a breach of the contracts with Debtor, a continuing breach that does not effect a termination of the contract does not amount to a violation of the automatic stay.”).

¹⁹ See, e.g., In re Denby-Peterson, 941 F.3d 115, 125-26 (3d Cir. 2019) (“[T]he text of section 362(a)(3) requires a post-petition affirmative act to exercise control over property of the estate.”); In re Cowen, 849 F.3d 943, 948-50 (10th Cir. 2017) (distinguishing between active and passive actions, and holding that only the former violates § 362(a)(3)); In re Boy Scouts of Am. & Del. BSA, LLC, 642 B.R. 504, 578 n.362 (Bankr. D. Del. 2022) (“The Supreme Court’s most recent pronouncement instructs that § 362(a)(3) prohibits affirmative actions, not passive actions such as non-

A counterparty's failing to perform under an executory contract is not an affirmative act and does not violate section 362(a)(3). After Fulton, this point can no longer be seriously debated.

(ii) Core Did Not "Exercise Control" over Celsius's Property

98. The main thrust of the Contempt Motion is that Core is violating the automatic stay by "failing to perform its obligations under the Agreement," specifically failing to deploy Celsius's machines quickly enough and failing to notify Celsius of purported additional hosting availability (allegations Core disputes). Contempt Motion ¶¶ 42-44. Under Fulton, however, a party's failure to do something is not an "affirmative act" that constitutes an exercise of control under section 362(a)(3). 141 S. Ct. at 590. Celsius cannot explain how Core's alleged failure to act "alter[ed] the status quo" that existed on the Petition Date. Id. The alleged failure of Core to notify Celsius of additional hosting availability is certainly not an affirmative act, as it is premised on Core not taking action. Similarly, the alleged failure of Core to deploy additional machines cannot be said to be an affirmative act, as it also is premised on Core not taking action.

99. The result would be no different if Core's failure to perform harmed or reduced the value of Celsius's estate. In Albion, the bankruptcy court rejected the argument that a town violated the automatic stay by enacting a law that greatly reduced the value of the debtors' property. 217 B.R. at 405. Stated plainly, "section 362(a)(3) does not stay acts that reduce the value of property of the estate; it stays acts to exercise control over estate property." Id. at 405-06. The contrary argument "does not find any support in the Bankruptcy Code." Id. at 406.

performance."); In re Lucre, Inc., 339 B.R. 649, 658-60 (Bankr. W.D. Mich. 2006) (holding there is no stay violation where the debtor's sole complaint is nonperformance by executory contract counterparty).

Windstream II is in accord. In that case, the District Court concluded that the debtor's competitor did not violate the automatic stay by advertising to the debtor's customers, and that the bankruptcy court abused its discretion in holding the competitor in civil contempt therefor. 2022 WL 5245633, at *4-9. The District Court's rationale was that the counterparty did not "exercise control" over estate property, a necessary component of a stay violation. Id. at *9.

102. Furthermore, the Debtors falsely allege that Core is attempting to “siphon ‘possession of property of the estate’ without any lawful basis” pursuant to section 362(a)(3), and to “modify its contractual obligations.” Contempt Motion ¶ 48. But Core has a lawful basis—i.e., the Agreement—to charge the Debtors for such amounts, and all of its other hosting customers but one (with which Core is terminating its relationship) paid such charges pursuant to the commercially reasonable interpretation of the Agreement. Thus, the allegation that Core is attempting to modify its contractual obligations falls flat, and the Debtors’ reliance on AMR is misplaced. See id. (citing In re AMR Corp., 730 F.3d 88, 102 (2d Cir. 2013) (“[A]n attempt to modify contract rights [is] subject to the automatic stay.”)).

103. The cases the Debtors cite acknowledge that it is permissible to invoice a debtor for postpetition services rendered. See, e.g., Bildisco, 465 U.S. at 531 (“If the debtor-in-possession elects to continue to receive benefits from the other party to an executory contract pending a decision to reject or assume the contract, the debtor-in-possession is obligated to pay for the reasonable value of those services, which, depending on the circumstances of a particular contract, may be what is specified in the contract.”); Monarch, 163 B.R. at 907-08 (“The bankruptcy estate, on the other hand, can require the nondebtor to continue performance, so long as the estate performs.”). Thus, this line of argument fails.

104. Celsius also points to the inclusion of prepetition PPT Charges in two postpetition invoices—one of which was sent a mere two days after the petition date. See supra ¶ 43. However, it is not uncommon for vendors to chapter 11 debtors to send invoices in the days following the petition that may also include the prepetition period. And Celsius did not actually pay any prepetition PPT Charges invoiced postpetition, so Celsius has suffered no harm based on this inadvertence. See supra ¶ 43. Celsius’ desperate attempt to paint common, innocent occurrences as nefarious stay violations fails.

B. Neither Core’s Automated Emails Nor Conversations with Celsius Constitute Stay Violations

105. The Debtors allege that Core violated the automatic stay by threatening to terminate the Agreement and to withhold performance due to Celsius’ outstanding prepetition debts. See Contempt Motion ¶ 25. Specifically, the Debtors’ declaration alleges that on an August 22, 2022 phone call, a representative for Core “stated ... that no new deployments would go forward until Celsius caught up on its payment schedule.” Lawlor Decl., D.E. 918 at ¶ 17. This is incorrect. The evidence shows that Mr. Pratt simply stated that Core would not deploy new machines until Celsius paid post-petition amounts owing under the Agreement (now over $1 million). See supra ¶¶ 50, 62-63. No threat was made. Because it is neither an automatic stay violation to fail to perform (Fulton) nor to request payment of amounts owed for postpetition services, it cannot be an automatic stay violation to condition future postpetition performance on payment of past-due obligations for postpetition performance. Thus, the Debtors’ theory must fail. And regardless, the evidence is that Core did not stop performing even though Celsius still has not paid.

106. The Debtors also point to an unintentional, harmless automated email sent by Core’s accounting system, programmed nearly two years ago to remind customers of their bills. The Debtors exaggerate the automated email as a “threat to terminate the MSA.” Contempt Motion ¶ 46. Core did not intentionally send the emails and disclaimed them, which the Debtors do not contest, id., and the automated email system was disabled after Core was made aware of the issue. See supra ¶¶ 46-49. Celsius should not have been surprised by the receipt of these automatic emails—it received similar emails prepetition and never once suggested it thought Core was threatening to terminate the Agreement, another set of facts omitted from Mr. Lawlor’s declaration. See supra ¶ 47. And in the end, given that Core rescinded and disclaimed the emails, whether or not the emails constituted a stay violation is now moot.

107. Finally, Core understands the serious nature of attempts in individual bankruptcy cases to collect on prepetition obligations. Indeed, the harassment of individual debtors by debt collectors and other bad actors adds to an already stressful situation that individuals may find themselves in when they have to file a bankruptcy petition.²¹ However, this case is markedly different. Core was not willfully, intentionally, and maliciously attempting to collect on a prepetition claim. Furthermore, Celsius is a large, complex business entity with sophisticated leaders at the helm and competent financial and legal advisors. Not only can Celsius not legitimately claim that the invoices constituted harassment, but there is also no evidence of any resulting harm or economic damages. Automated emails and invoices that mistakenly and innocently include prepetition amounts do not rise to the level of an egregious attempt to collect prepetition amounts owed. Common sense should prevail, and Celsius's request to hold Core in violation of the automatic stay for these discrete past (and void) events should be rejected.

108. Finally, even if Core violated the Agreement, there is no ongoing stay violation. Indeed, as explained above, Core has deployed all machines delivered by Celsius to date. See supra ¶ 26. Thus, there is no ongoing stay violation and nothing to remedy.

IV. EVEN IF THE COURT WERE TO FIND THAT CORE VIOLATED THE STAY, CONTEMPT IS INAPPROPRIATE

109. The Debtors' contempt argument cites but a single case, Windstream I. That case is no longer valid, as the District Court just reversed it on appeal in Windstream II. Of particular importance, the District Court disagreed with the standard the bankruptcy court had applied to impose contempt as a remedy for an automatic stay violation. It held that the contempt standard is higher than the Windstream I court stated—one that, as discussed below, is not met here. The Debtors’ already-weak position cannot stand after Windstream II.

110. The burden to prove all elements of contempt falls on the movant. See In re DiBattista, 615 B.R. 31, 39 (S.D.N.Y. 2020). A contempt order may be issued only where “(1) the order the contemnor failed to comply with is clear and unambiguous, (2) the proof of noncompliance is clear and convincing, and (3) the contemnor has not diligently attempted to comply in a reasonable manner.” In re Blair Ventures, LLC, 581 B.R. 728, 732 (S.D.N.Y. 2017).

111. Under U.S. Supreme Court precedent, a bankruptcy court may hold a party in civil contempt pursuant to section 105 only “if there is no fair ground of doubt as to whether the order barred the creditor’s conduct.” Taggart v. Lorenzen, 139 S. Ct. 1795, 1799 (2019). The Taggart standard “reflects the fact that civil contempt is a severe remedy and that principles of basic fairness require that those enjoined receive explicit notice of what conduct is outlawed before being held in civil contempt.” Id. at 1802 (citation omitted and emphasis added).²² “[C]lose questions of interpretation are resolved in the defendant’s favor in order to prevent unfair surprise.” Schering Corp. v. Ill. Antibiotics Co., 62 F.3d 903, 906 (7th Cir. 1995).

112. Although Taggart concerned holding a creditor in contempt for violating a discharge order, recent courts have applied Taggart when deciding civil contempt actions pursuant to section 105 for automatic stay violations. See, e.g., Windstream II, 2022 WL 5245633, at *9-

12 (applying the “fair ground of doubt” standard to determine whether a creditor should be held in contempt for an alleged violation of a corporate debtor’s automatic stay);²³ In re GYPC, Inc., 634 B.R. 983, 991 (Bankr. S.D. Ohio 2021).

113. In reversing and vacating Windstream I’s contempt finding, the Windstream II court held that the lower court “erred” by reasoning that “it is logical to require those in doubt whether the stay applies to seek clarification from the court or be sanctioned for shooting first and aiming later.” 2022 WL 5245633, at *10-11. It found this standard, which is more in line with “the standard applicable to individual debtors under § 362(k),” at odds with Taggart. Id. What’s more, the court reiterated that “close calls” on stay violations do not merit contempt:

[T]he Bankruptcy Court’s conclusion that there could have been objectively “no fair ground of doubt” on [defendant’s] part that its advertisements would violate the automatic stay was outside the permissible range of decisions and thus an abuse of discretion. The Bankruptcy Court’s conclusion that [defendant’s] advertising campaign “exercises control” over estate property is at least highly debatable. The plain language of the automatic stay does not clearly proscribe the conduct here Even if I were to accept the theory of the stay violation here – that because the advertisements were false, they were improperly influential – it is not an objectively obvious reading of the statute or the caselaw. Particularly under the more searching standard that I must apply in assessing sanctions awarded under 11 U.S.C. § 105(a), see In re Blair Ventures, 581 B.R. at 732, the Bankruptcy Court abused its discretion in holding [defendant] in civil contempt.

Id. at *11-12. Simply put, the Debtors cannot establish the necessary elements of contempt here.

114. First, as explained above, Core did not violate the automatic stay.

115. Second, even if the Court finds that Core breached the Agreement, there is a fair ground of doubt as to whether such alleged breaches are barred by the automatic stay. See Fulton, 141 S. Ct. at 590. Core had at least a reasonable contractual basis for its conduct. Because “the plain language of the automatic stay does not clearly proscribe the conduct here,” and failing to perform (inaction) “is not typically understood to exercise control over property,” Core’s alleged breach premised on a failure to perform cannot “clearly” be an act to “exercise control over property of the estate.” Windstream II, 2022 WL 5245633, at *10-11. “Even if [this Court] were to accept the theory of the stay violation here ... it is not an objectively obvious reading of the statute or the caselaw.” Id. Thus, the Debtors’ Contempt Motion must fail.

116. Furthermore, Core was not required to first prove in this Court its good-faith, logical interpretation of the Agreement prior to acting in accordance with its view, because “there is no requirement that the would-be violator move to lift the stay prior to acting.” Id.

117. Third, Core has not terminated the Agreement but continues to perform despite losing approximately $53,000 per day based on running Celsius’s machines, without Celsius paying the postpetition PPT Charges. See supra ¶ 63.

118. Nor is this a case where sanctions are necessary to ensure compliance with the automatic stay due to repeated and ongoing stay violations. See, e.g., In re Ionosphere Clubs, Inc., 171 B.R. 18, 20 (S.D.N.Y. 1994) (awarding damages to compensate the Trustee for prosecuting a motion and fining the contemnor $750 for each day he failed to withdraw claims in a bankruptcy case). Accordingly, Core submits that the Court should exercise its broad discretion to deny any damages arising from such alleged violations. See In re Lehman Bros. Holdings Inc., 2013 WL 6283572, at *4 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. Dec. 3, 2013), aff’d, 526 B.R. 481 (S.D.N.Y. 2014) (“Courts are ‘vested with wide discretion’ to fashion a proper remedy to achieve future compliance.”).

119. Finally, the Court should not permit the Debtors to shoehorn Celsius’s breach of contract claim against Core into an automatic stay/contempt theory and thus effectively rewrite the parties’ agreement on damages. Celsius agreed to limit any damages for breach to one month’s fees, which was an important element of the bargain. See supra ¶¶ 7, 53. By attempting to avoid this key provision of the Agreement while seeking to enforce the Agreement, Celsius is improperly and unfairly weaponizing the automatic stay. See In re Scarborough St. James Corp., 535 B.R. 60, 67 (Bankr. D. Del. 2015) (“The [automatic] stay is not meant ... to be used by a debtor to pursue its creditors, as more litigation is hardly consistent with the concept of a breathing spell for the debtor. Instead, the stay is a shield, not a sword.”).

120. Celsius’s attempt to rewrite its Agreement in this manner is contrary to the vast body of case law holding that “filing of a bankruptcy petition does not alter a debtor’s contractual rights or obligations.” In re Penn Traffic Co., 2005 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 20407, at *20 (S.D.N.Y. Sept. 16, 2005) (citing In re M.J. & K. Co., 161 B.R. 586, 593 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 1993)); see also Mission Prod., 139 S. Ct. at 1662.²⁴

CONCLUSION

WHEREFORE, Core respectfully requests that the Court deny the Contempt Motion.

DECLARATION OF JEFF PRATT IN SUPPORT OF CORE SCIENTIFIC, INC.'S OPPOSITION TO DEBTORS' MOTION TO ENFORCE THE AUTOMATIC STAY
AND FOR CIVIL CONTEMPT

¹ The Debtors in these chapter 11 cases, along with the last four digits of each Debtor's federal tax identification number, are: Celsius Network LLC (2148); Celsius KeyFi LLC (4414); Celsius Lending LLC (8417); Celsius LLC (1387); Celsius Network Inc. (1219); Celsius Network Limited (8554); Celsius Networks Lending LLC (3390); and Celsius US Holding LLC (7956). The location of Debtor Celsius Network LLC's principal place of business and the Debtors' service address in these chapter 11 cases is 121 River Street, PH05, Hoboken, New Jersey 07030.

I, Jeff Pratt, declare:

1. I am the Senior Vice President, Partnerships, of Core Scientific, Inc. (“Core”). I submit this Declaration in support of Core’s Opposition to Celsius Mining LLC’s (“Celsius”) Motion to Enforce the Automatic Stay and for Civil Contempt and Core’s Motions for Affirmative Relief.

2. My responsibilities as Senior Vice President, Partnerships include managing client relationships, developing new business, overseeing sales deals, and purchasing mining hardware. With respect to Celsius, one of Core’s top five accounts, I managed the relationship with Core’s sales team, growing the Celsius fleet hosted at Core. In this capacity, I was in regular contact with Celsius.

3. As Senior Vice President, Partnerships, I am familiar with Core’s contracts with Celsius and the relationship between them from the time periods before and after the Debtors’ chapter 11 filings on July 13, 2022 (the “Petition Date”). The facts set forth in this declaration are based on my personal knowledge and experience, and my review of relevant documents and Core’s books and records that are maintained and used in the ordinary course of Core’s business.

I. THE MASTER SERVICES AGREEMENT

4. On December 18, 2020, Core and Celsius entered into a Master Services Agreement whereby Core agreed to provide Celsius certain services in connection with hosting its digital-asset-mining machines. MSA (Ex. A), § 1(a). Core and Celsius supplemented the agreement with several “Orders” that incorporate the MSA and specify, among other things, the quantity of digital-asset-mining machines that Core will host for Celsius. On September 20, 2021, Order #10—the order most relevant here—commenced. Order #10 (Ex. B).

5. Digital asset mining is the process of securing new digital cryptocurrency “coins” (like Bitcoin, Ethereum, Litecoin, Zcash, etc.) by continuously running digital-asset mining machines (also called “rigs,” “miners,” or “units”) to crack a cryptocurrency code, which is rewarded with a cryptocurrency coin. These machines process data extremely quickly, consume a large amount of power, and need to operate in a data center designed to maximize performance and machine longevity. Core currently has eight data-center facilities, where it hosts machines that are mining for cryptocurrency, and is in the process of building out certain of these facilities to further expand Core’s hosting availability.

6. The MSA that Core and Celsius executed is a standard agreement that Core used with all of its customers. At a high level, the way it works is that a customer either buys machines from Core that Core then “deploys” or a customer delivers machines to Core for deployment. Order #10 is the first order where Celsius purchased its own data-mining machines and delivered them to Core for deployment. In all previous orders, Celsius purchased machines directly through Core. Once Core receives the machines, it goes through several steps before the machines are online at the hosting facility and considered fully “deployed.” To deploy the data-mining machines, in addition to identifying an adequate site and securing industrial-scale power, Core must, among other things: provide installation racks; make power and network connections; and ensure adequate airflow and cooling systems to dissipate the large amount of heat these machines generate.

7. As a general rule, Core deploys machines received from customers, like Celsius, as soon as practicable and in accordance with our guiding “first in time” principle, which dictates that machines are deployed in chronological order based on when they are received from the customer or purchased by Core, who also hosts its own machines for cryptocurrency mining. This is all consistent with the MSA, which states in § 2(b) that Core has “the right to review and sole right to approve any delivery, installation (including without limitation, the location and position of Client Equipment at the Company Facility). . . .” Core has always followed this “first in time” principle, which Celsius—as a long-standing customer that has over 26,655 miners deployed across Core’s data-center facilities—is familiar with.

8. Another provision of the MSA that is particularly important to Core and included in all of Core’s service agreements with its customers provides that Core has the “sole and absolute discretion” to charge for “any increases, changes in . . . tariffs.” MSA (Ex. A), § 4(f) (defining “Increased Costs.”). This provision is essential because it allows Core to pass through increased power costs—which fall within the definition of tariffs—and requires that the customer (here, Celsius) “pay all Increased Costs.” See id. Because power costs are a key component in the profitability of cryptocurrency mining and can vary widely, the ability to pass through increases in power costs to customers is an absolute cornerstone of Core’s business model, without which Core would be exposed to energy spikes and a level of volatility that does not make any business sense to assume. Core never agreed to undertake the risk of spikes in energy prices with Celsius or any other of its customers.

9. The MSA also provides that Core’s liability to Celsius for “all claims arising from or related to the subject matter of this agreement . . . will not exceed an amount equal to one (1) months fee.” MSA (Ex. A), § 5(d). This provision is important from Core’s business perspective because it provides Core with the safety-net option of effectively buying its way out of a failed business relationship. Core insists on including this safety-net provision in all of its agreements.

10. The relevant Order that I understand is most at issue in this matter is Order #10. When Core and Celsius executed Order #10, Core had extremely limited hosting availability and was in the process of building additional data-center facilities. Core also had purchased thousands of its own machines that it had yet to deploy. Core communicated these points to Celsius, who therefore knew that Core had very limited hosting availability and thousands of its own machines in the queue to deploy first. In this context, and after discussions and negotiations with Celsius, Core agreed to “notify [Celsius] as soon as practicable of additional hosting availability, if any, and provide [Celsius] up to 10 additional MW per month at a hosting services rate of $0.0625 per KWh. Additional hosting availability if available will be the subject of a separate order and provided to Client on a priority basis, subject to Client acceptance.” Order #10 (Ex. B) at p. 4-5; Am. to Order #10 (Ex. C). After Order #10 was executed, Core had no additional hosting availability.

11. Additional hosting availability aside, my understanding is that Celsius was planning to phase-out Core and host machines at its own data-center facilities, believing that it would be more lucrative. I first learned about this plan at a lunch with Celsius’s Chief Operating Officer Patrick Holert in July 2021. A few months later, in November 2021, Celsius General Counsel Ron Deutsch confirmed that Celsius intended to shift to a self-hosting business model that excluded Core.

II. DEPLOYMENT

12. Celsius contends that Core failed to deploy its machines. This is incorrect. As of today, Core has deployed all machines that Celsius has delivered.

13. The way delivery works under Order #10 is that Celsius should deliver machines to Core by the target “Deployment Month” listed in Order #10:

| Deployment Month | Quantity & Type of Unit (the "Units") | Assumed power consumption per Unit (KWh): |
|------------------|--|---|
| SEP 2021 | 2,250 - M30S+ or Equivalent | 3.57 |
| MAR 2022 | 3,530 - M30S+ or Equivalent | 3.57 |
| APR 2022 | 4,710 - M30S+ or Equivalent | 3.57 |
| MAY 2022 | 2,350 - M30S+ or Equivalent | 3.57 |
| JUNE 2022 | 2,350 - M30S+ or Equivalent | 3.57 |
| JUL 2022 | 2,350 - M30S+ or Equivalent | 3.57 |
| AUG 2022 | 2,350 - M30S+ or Equivalent | 3.57 |
| SEP 2022 | 2,350 - M30S+ or Equivalent | 3.57 |
| OCT 2022 | 2,350 - M30S+ or Equivalent | 3.57 |
| NOV 2022 | 2,350 - M30S+ or Equivalent | 3.57 |
| DEC 2022 | 2,350 - M30S+ or Equivalent | 3.57 |

14. The dates set forth above are target dates for when Celsius was expected to deliver machines to Core for deployment. See MSA § 2(b). As of today, Celsius has delivered only the first three tranches of machines set forth in the chart above.

15. The way payment works under Order #10 is that Celsius must pay certain prepayments set forth in Order #10 in full prior to deployment by Core. Specifically, Celsius owed 35% of the prepayment for all units on September 20, 2021; another 35% six months before deployment; and the final 30% one month before deployment. Core must receive payment in full before deployment. After deployment, Celsius pays a hosting services rate in an amount set forth in the Order that may be adjusted in Core's "sole and absolute discretion" pursuant to Section 4(f) of the MSA. Aside from prepayments, Core receives from Celsius only the hosting services rate and does not share in any upside on the coins that Celsius mines.

16. Once Celsius delivers machines to Core, Core then deploys them. As noted above, although Core seeks to deploy the machines as soon as practicable after they are delivered, there is no requirement in the agreement governing Core's deployment of the machines. And as Celsius knew when entering into Order #10, Core needed to build new data-center facilities to house machines, including the Celsius machines set forth in Order #10.

17. Because construction timelines are subject to external variables, Celsius also knew that Core's timeline for deployment could vary. Indeed, Core communicated to Celsius the possibility of delay in deploying machines when the parties executed Order #10.

18. After the parties executed Order #10, Core continued communicating with Celsius about external factors affecting the deployment schedule, including those closely tied to the Covid-19 pandemic. Attached as Exhibit D is a true and correct copy of an email thread dated January 3, 2022, where I update Celsius on external factors affecting deployment, including a grounded cargo fleet, surging cases of Covid-19, non-existent commercial flights to/from Asia, and customs overload.

19. Despite this knowledge, Celsius now complains that Core did not deploy the machines quickly enough. But the fact is that Celsius was not entitled to any specific deployment timeline and, in any event, all delays were justifiable and not within Core's control:

First Tranche of Machines

20. Under Order #10, Celsius was targeting to deliver the first tranche of machines in September 2021. But Celsius did not begin rolling deliveries of these machines until late November 2021, around Thanksgiving. Once the machines were delivered, Core faced significant hurdles in preparing them for deployment at our data-center facility in Grand Forks, North Dakota.

21. The first challenge that Core faced was that Celsius had delivered several types of machines that Core had never installed before. This caused us to lose about two weeks on the front end as our engineers had to learn how to deploy these new machines, obtain the proper equipment needed to deploy them, and input them into our system, which is a tedious and time-consuming task. To accomplish this, we needed Celsius to provide specific information for each machine: the miner type/firmware, processing speed, power consumption, fan speed/airflow, and pool configuration. Without this information, Core could not energize the machines. Attached as Exhibit E is a true and correct copy of an email thread dated November 23, 2021, between Core and Celsius where Mitch Livingston and myself seek information from Celsius needed to deploy the first tranche of machines and explain to Celsius why preparing this first tranche of machines for installation is time consuming.

22. Core diligently pressed through these changes and deployed machines, on a rolling basis, as they became available. These rolling deployments began in early December 2021, only a few weeks after Celsius first delivered the machines.

23. Unfortunately, due to supply chain delays in sourcing materials like power distribution units (PDUs), dampers, and switchgears, we did not yet have sufficient availability at the new facility to deploy all Celsius machines that were ready for deployment. See, e.g., Exhibit F (June 22, 2021 emails documenting delay in delivering switchgears); Exhibit G (July 23, 2021 email concerning delivery delays of PDUs); Exhibit H (September 14, 2021 email reporting damper shortage); Exhibit I (November 10, 2021 email concerning delivery delays of PDUs). Although these material delays predated Celsius's delivery of machines, they had a cascade effect on the deployment timeline because construction is a sequential process. In other words, if Core experiences a month-long delay in obtaining the materials necessary to ready its facilities for rig deployment, that delay in turn prevents it from beginning other preparatory steps and sets back the entire timeline.

24. Then, around December 15, 2021, before deployment was complete, a Covid-19 outbreak left the facility without its crew of electricians, who are essential to deployment. Once the electrician team returned to work, a severe winter storm shuttered the entire facility for a week. As a result, Core could not resume deploying any machines until January 1, 2022.

25. Once deployment resumed on a rolling basis, delays in receiving a certificate of occupancy for one of the new-construction buildings—there are currently two buildings at the Grand Forks facility and we deployed Celsius machines across both—limited availability and slowed the rate of deployment. Once the building was ready to go online around the middle of January 2022, we immediately began deploying Celsius machines.

26. Because of these external circumstances, which were entirely outside Core's control, the Celsius machines could not be fully deployed until late January 2022.

Second Tranche of Machines

27. After the issues with the various machines provided by Celsius in connection with the first tranche, Celsius decided to deliver different machines with lower power for the second tranche, which Celsius was targeted to deliver in March 2022. Celsius did not deliver the machines until late March 2022. Even though the Deployment Schedule for the March 2022 tranche listed only 3,530 machines, Core agreed to house additional machines from Celsius so that Celsius would be able to obtain the same amount of overall power (3.57 KWh) as set forth in the Schedule. Thus, the second tranche actually consisted of 3,780 machines, which meant that Celsius's machines took up more space at our facility than as set forth in the contract. Core agreed to accommodate Celsius once again in connection with the third tranche, with Celsius delivering 4,860 machines as compared to 4,710 in Order #10.

28. The machines for the second tranche were slotted to be deployed at Core's new data-center facility in Denton, Texas. Deployment was delayed for two primary reasons. First, Core faced an unexpectedly prolonged timeline in securing building permits from the City of Denton, which further delayed the facility's opening. Attached as Exhibit J is a true and correct copy of an email thread with the City of Denton between December 20, 2021 – January 28, 2022 regarding building permits for the Denton data-center facility. Generally, securing building permits from the city is routine and takes only a week or so, but here, we had to work diligently with the City of Denton for thirty-nine days before the permits finally issued in January 28, 2022. Because any delays to the project timeline have a cascading effect, as discussed above, this contributed to deployment delays overall. Second, supply-chain disruptions and shortages caused by the Covid-19 pandemic that affected steel, network equipment, and electrical equipment pushed the construction timeline, which in turn delayed deployment of the machines. Due to these compounding delays, the Celsius machines were not deployed until July 2022.

29. Mr. Lawlor states in paragraph 14 of his declaration that, “after the March rigs were deployed—between July 21, 2022, and September 16, 2022—Core Scientific had the March rigs online for a total of approximately eight days.” Mr. Lawlor omits the reason why, which Celsius was fully aware of at the time: the forty transformers at Core’s facility failed and were deemed a life-safety risk, and we could not use the facility until they were replaced. Attached as Exhibit K is a true and correct copy of a letter dated August 18, 2022, from a consulting engineer stating that a manufacturing defect is causing transformer failures and recommending that Core replace those affected transformers. This caused a 78-day delay that impacted all machines hosted at the Denton facility. Once the transformers were replaced, the facility was back online by September 16, 2022.

Third Tranche of Machines

30. Under Order #10, Celsius was targeting to deliver the third tranche of machines in April 2022. Celsius did not deliver these units until June 2022.

31. Once received, Core worked to deploy these machines at its Cottonwood, Texas facility, aiming for a July 22, 2022 deployment date. Deployment was delayed, however, because on March 25, 2022, the Electrical Reliability Council of Texas implemented a state-wide regulatory change that prevented Texas-New Mexico Power (“TNMP”) from supplying the amount of power that Core had already contracted with TNMP to receive. See Exhibit L (ERCOT Notice dated March 25, 2022, re: “Interim Large Load Interconnection Process”); Exhibit M (August 2021 energy contracts executed between Core and TNMP to secure energy for the Cottonwood and Cedarvale data-center facilities). This regulatory shift left Core unable to fully energize either of its brand-new Texas facilities for about six-months, impacting our power capacity and profitability overall.

32. We therefore worked urgently and persistently to have power implemented at our Texas data-center facilities. Carol Haines, Core Senior Vice President of Power and Sustainability, had at least weekly conversations with ERCOT, advocating for the immediate release of full power to our facilities. Attached as Exhibit N are true and correct copies of email threads between Core and the power company regarding power at Core’s Texas facilities.

33. Finally, after our diligent efforts, on September 28, 2022, TNMP provided energy to the Cottonwood facility, albeit with a fraction (approximately 20%) of the power that we anticipated. Once the facility received power, we diligently prepared to deploy the machines that had been in line for deployment at the Cottonwood facility, including the Celsius machines. On October 6, 2022, about a week after Cottonwood received power, all machines at the facility, including the Celsius machines, were powered on.

* * * * *

34. Mr. Lawlor’s declaration states that Celsius delivered machines to Core but that Core just did not deploy them for several months. Celsius knows that this is not the case. Deployment is a standing topic at Core’s weekly meeting with Celsius. And throughout the deployment process, Core regularly discussed in detail with Celsius the schedule and delays, which were caused by external factors, as described above. See e.g., Exhibit O (May 24, 2022 email thread between me, Mr. Holert, and Celsius Chief Executive Officer Amir Ayalon scheduling time to discuss deployment schedule); Exhibit P (August 10, 2022 email thread between me, Mr. Holert, Mr. Ayalon, Core Chief Executive Officer Mike Levitt, and Core Executive Vice President of Client Services, Russell Cann scheduling time to discuss deployment schedule); Exhibit Q (non-exhaustive compilation of invitations confirming discussions with Celsius regarding deployment schedule).

35. As of today, Core has deployed all of the machines that Celsius has delivered. This amounts to 26,655 Celsius machines deployed in total, including the 10,885 machines deployed under Order #10.

III. ADDITIONAL HOSTING AVAILABILITY

36. When Core and Celsius entered into Order #10, Core had very little hosting availability to offer Celsius. Celsius was aware of this but decided to enter into the Order anyway, fully understanding that Core was in a power-capacity deficit and early in the process of constructing new data-center facilities. Core also told Celsius that over 100,000 machines that Core had just purchased had to be deployed before Core would have any additional hosting availability to offer Celsius beyond the number of units set forth in Order #10. Attached as Exhibits R-U are true and correct copies of the contracts documenting Core's purchase of 108,900 machines between March and May 2021, before we executed Order #10.

37. Against this backdrop, when executing Order #10, Celsius also wanted to add a clause that it would be entitled to priority over any additional hosting availability. Core, however, did not want to promise Celsius priority over an unlimited amount of availability. We both compromised, agreeing to add a "Notification of Hosting Availability" provision to the MSA, providing that “Company will notify Client as soon as practicable of additional hosting availability, if any, and provide Client up to 10 additional MW per month at a hosting services rate of $0.0625 per KWh. Additional hosting availability if available will be the subject of a separate order and provided to Client on a priority basis, subject to Client acceptance.” Order #10 (Ex. B) at 4-5.

38. Celsius now claims that Core violated Order #10 by failing to notify Celsius of additional hosting availability. Celsius Mot. ¶ 19. But that is not correct: since the commencement of Order #10 on September 20, 2021, Core has not had any additional hosting availability.

39. This lack of additional hosting availability is demonstrated by the fact that Core has still yet to deploy at least 14,513 of the 108,900 machines that Core purchased before Order #10 commenced. Until these machines are deployed, Core will not have any additional hosting availability.

40. Celsius argues that Core must have failed to offer it additional hosting availability because we expanded our fleet by at least 18,000 machines between December 2021 and April 2022. But the fact that Core expanded its fleet has nothing to do with whether Core has additional hosting availability.

41. For example, what Celsius claims was fleet expansion is in fact a fleet swap that Core agreed to with its largest client, Argo Blockchain. Core and Argo agreed to exchange Argo’s mining fleet—which is hosted at Core—for some data-mining machines that Core previously ordered but never deployed. Attached as Exhibit V is a true and correct copy of an email dated August 1, 2022, confirming the Argo fleet swap. This swap had no impact on hosting availability across Core’s data-center facilities.

42. Core's fleet also expanded due to a decision to test the usability of "antboxes," which are portable containers used to host data-mining machines. After a brief testing period, Core has decided that these antboxes are not suitable hosting options and is working to decommission them across the board. This likewise had no impact on hosting availability across Core's data-center facilities.

43. Finally, in late July 2022 (after the Petition Date), Core executed a hosting agreement with a major existing client, Bitmain, from which Core purchases machines. In exchange for significant funding and a substantial credit on machines, Core agreed, among other things, to deploy a limited set of Bitmain machines in place of machines that Core had purchased for itself before executing Order #10. Other Bitmain machines will be housed in new "exclusive-use" facilities constructed for Bitmain machines only and run by Bitmain technicians. This is a novel hosting model that Core has not previously used.

IV. POWER COST PASS-THROUGHS

44. Section 4(f) of the MSA gives Core the right to pass through increases in tariffs to its customers. In the data-mining industry, the term "tariffs" includes the rates charged by utility companies. These rates are impacted by several different factors, including the cost of fuel. A document prepared by the Tennessee Valley Authority ("TVA")—one of the utility companies that provides power to certain of Core's data-center facilities—demonstrates this point, stating that base power rates are subject to a "Fuel Cost Adjustment" that impacts monthly fuel costs. Attached as Exhibit W is a true and correct copy of the TVA's "Large Direct Service Manufacturing Power Rates." Consistent with this, the invoices that Core receives from the TVA are broken down to include line items for fuel and other adjustments that impact monthly power costs. Attached as Exhibit X is a true and correct copy of an October 3, 2022 power invoice for one of Core’s data-center facilities.

45. Mr. Lawlor implies that the power costs that Core passed through to Celsius are not “tariffs” within the meaning of Section 4(f) of the MSA. Lawlor Decl. ¶¶ 25-26. Mr. Lawlor also suggests that Celsius enjoys a fixed power rate free from fuel-cost volatility. Id. Celsius knows that neither is true. Not only are these positions contrary to the industry standard and utility documents themselves, but Core’s business communications with the Celsius team make clear that Celsius very well knew that power costs are tariffs that Core can pass through to Celsius.

46. For example, as a general matter, Core is in frequent communications with its customers regarding power prices and the monthly power-cost rate. Power prices are a central topic of conversation because operating the data-mining machines consumes such a tremendous amount of power that high power prices can undercut profitability. If Celsius were entitled to a fixed power rate, as Mr. Lawlor suggests, Celsius would have no reason to care about the monthly power-cost rate.

47. Additionally, prior to filing for bankruptcy, Celsius paid power cost pass-throughs to Core, with Mr. Holert, acknowledging in writing that the costs “make sense.” Attached as Exhibit Y is a true and correct copy of an email dated November 20, 2021 from Mr. Holert to myself and Core’s Accounting Manager, Monica Xia. This all directly undermines Mr. Lawlor’s statement that Celsius’s contract with Core is a fixed-fee contract or that the power cost pass-through charges “suddenly [arose] after the Petition Date.” Lawlor Decl. ¶ 25. They did not.

48. Finally, Core charges the power cost pass-through to all of its customers. This makes clear that Core did not single out Celsius and that its decision to invoice its customers when power costs are high has nothing to do with Celsius's decision to file for bankruptcy; it is Core's standard business practice.

V. CORE DID NOT THREATEN CELSIUS POSTPETITION

49. Celsius claims that, during an August 22, 2022 telephone call, I threatened to withhold deploying new data-mining machines until Celsius made its outstanding prepetition payments. See Celsius Mot. at ¶¶ 25, 46. This is false. In response to Celsius requesting that Core consider deploying new data-mining machines beyond those that Celsius had paid for prepetition, I told Celsius that Core would not deploy any new data-mining machines until Celsius paid its outstanding balance on amounts that have accrued postpetition.

50. Celsius appears to be attempting to renegotiate the MSA and extract postpetition benefits from Core that we are not obligated to provide. It would not make any business sense for Core to voluntarily deploy new Celsius data-mining machines when we are currently losing approximately $53,226 per day, or around $1.65 million a month to cover the postpetition power cost pass-through amounts that Celsius refuses to pay. With these losses continuing to accumulate daily, Core cannot afford to keep funding Celsius's operations.

VI. POSTPETITION RELATIONSHIP

51. After the Petition Date, Core continued business with Celsius in the ordinary course. This has benefitted Celsius's estate, as Celsius is generating revenue from data mining through the machines hosted at Core's data-center facilities. Despite reaping this benefit, Celsius has refused to pay the power cost pass-through amounts that have accrued postpetition. Because Celsius has not paid these outstanding amounts, Core is currently covering these costs to keep the Celsius machines running (and profitable for Celsius). This is tying up Core's working capital and preventing us from using that capital to create the infrastructure that we need to host more machines, including our own machines. Covering these costs for Celsius thus poses a serious threat to Core's own financial stability.

52. Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746, I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct. Executed on October 19, 2022, at Bellevue, Washington.

MASTER SERVICES AGREEMENT

This Master Services Agreement (“Agreement”) effective as of December 18, 2020 (“Effective Date”) is between CORE SCIENTIFIC, INC. (“Company”) and CELSIUS CORE LLC (“Client”).

WHEREAS, Client desires access to locate its Client Equipment (as defined below) at the Company Facility (as defined below) and receive certain Services (as defined below); and

WHEREAS, Company desires to provide such Services at its Company Facility.

The parties agree as follows:

1. AGREEMENT STRUCTURE

a. This Agreement provides general terms applicable to Company’s provision of certain services, including, without limitation, colocation, hosting, rack space, security, monitoring, maintenance, utilities, Client Equipment maintenance and repair, facility management, account management, network and data access, technical support, and heat and thermal management services (“Services”) to Client in a data center owned or operated by Company or its affiliates (“Company Facility”) in mutually agreed transactions described in mutually executed ordering documents in the form of Exhibit A attached hereto that reference and are governed by this Agreement (“Orders”). Each Order will be a separate agreement between Company and Client and will be deemed to incorporate the terms of this Agreement by reference. Company may require Customer to provide evidence of creditworthiness or credit support acceptable to Company in its sole discretion as a condition to accepting any Order. In the event of any conflict or inconsistency between the terms of this Agreement and the specific terms of an Order, the specific terms of the Order govern with respect to such Order.

2. SERVICES AND COMPANY FACILITY

a. Company will provide Client the Services at a Company Facility set forth in an Order. This Agreement is not intended to and does not constitute a lease of any real or personal property or a grant of any other real property interest. Unless otherwise set forth in an Order, Client Equipment is owned by Client will not be construed as fixtures or fittings or otherwise attached to a Company Facility. Company retains title to all racking, connectors, fittings, parts and other materials used or provided by Company at a Company Facility to provide Client the Services. Client acknowledges and agrees that access to a Company Facility may be provided only during Company’s ordinary business hours and only upon Company’s prior written consent, which shall be subject in all events to the terms of this Agreement and may be withheld, conditioned or delayed in Company’s sole discretion.. Client will be liable for the actions of all persons accessing Company Facility on its behalf.

b. Company has the right to review and the sole right to approve any delivery, installation (including, without limitation, the location and position of Client Equipment at the Company Facility), replacement or removal work with respect to Client’s computer hardware or other tangible equipment (“Client Equipment”) at a Company Facility. Client shall be fully responsible for delivering all Client Equipment to Company at a specified Company Facility on or before the applicable scheduled delivery date, each as specified in an Order. Client will be responsible for all risk of loss or damage to Client Equipment at all times until such Client Equipment is accepted by Company at a designated Company Facility.

c. Client Equipment will adhere to Company’s specifications, procedures, rules, and regulations, including, without limitation, equipment labeling and tracking and security practices and policies for the Company Facility, all of which are incorporated herein by this reference. If Company determines in its sole discretion that Client Equipment or related operating software does not conform to its policies or is not suitable for the provision of Services at the Company Facility, Company may suspend installation of Client Equipment and operating software or commencement of the Services until Company approves of the Client Equipment and operating software. Company has no responsibility or liability for any loss or damage to Client Equipment, including without limitation any damage to Client Equipment, failure to adhere to any manufacturer warranty, the voiding of any manufacturer warranty or loss of or inability to collect under any manufacturer warranty, unless directly caused by the gross negligence, bad faith or willful misconduct of Company.

d. Client is responsible for costs and expenses regarding the installation, repair, replacement and removal of Client Equipment and tariffs, taxes, shipping costs or other expenses associated with owning, shipping, importing or transporting Client Equipment. Upon any expiration or termination of an applicable Order, Company will provide Client with a written notice, which may be by email (the "Retrieval Notice"), of the date when Client Equipment is ready to be removed from Company Facility, which will be at Client's sole expense. Such notice will document the condition of Client Equipment being prepared for shipment, any outstanding amounts owed by Client to Company and Client shall have five (5) calendar days from the date set forth in the Retrieval Notice to pay any outstanding amounts owed to Company and remove at Client's sole cost and expense Client Equipment from Company Facility. Client will hold Company harmless from any damage caused to Client Equipment during such pickup and removal of Client Equipment. The failure or delay by Client to retrieve Client Equipment on or before the date set forth in the Retrieval Notice will constitute abandonment of Client Equipment under the laws of the jurisdiction where the Client Equipment is located and Company will be entitled to pursue at Client's sole risk and expense all available remedies, including, without limitation, the actions set forth in Section 4(d), as applicable.

e. In order to continue to provide the Services, from time to time Company may request, and Client shall promptly provide, information regarding Client Equipment, Client's related operating software, Client's systems, and other information reasonably necessary in Company's provision of the Services.

f. If software and services of a third party are requested by Client in conjunction with the Services ("Third Party Services") and identified in an Order, Client acknowledges and agrees that such Third Party Services are the responsibility of the third party, subject to separate terms and conditions between such third party and Client and Company accepts no responsibility for the performance of such Third Party Services or any loss or damage arising from or associated with the provision of such Third Party Services.

3. PAYMENT TERMS AND TAXES

a. Company will invoice Client monthly in advance for all applicable fees for use of Company Facility and provision of Services as set forth in the applicable Order. Client will pay all invoiced amounts in US dollars within ten (10) calendar days of the date of the invoice. All payments must be (i) in US dollars into an ACH account number as set forth in the applicable Order; or (ii) to another account or form of payment directed by Company. Interest shall be charged on past due amounts at the lesser of (A) one and a half percent (1.5%) per month; or (B) the highest rate permitted by applicable law.

b. Client may, in good faith, dispute any invoice or any part thereof (a "Disputed Amount") by submitting a written notice of such dispute along with reasonable supporting documentation within three (3) calendar days of the date of the initial invoice on which the Disputed Amount appears, failing which Client waives all rights to dispute such Disputed Amount and to file any claim. Company will review the Disputed Amount after its receipt of the relevant notice and if Company determines that Client was billed in error, a credit for the amount invoiced incorrectly will be made to the next invoice. If Company determines that the amount was invoiced correctly, Client will pay the amount by the due date of the next invoice. For clarity, Client shall promptly pay all undisputed amounts.

c. All amounts payable to Company under this Agreement exclude applicable taxes. Client is responsible for (i) taxes related to its activities and the ownership and operation of Client Equipment; and (ii) taxes imposed, levied or assessed thereon by any governmental or other authorities. If Client is required to make any deduction, withholding or payment for taxes in any jurisdiction on amounts payable to Company, such amounts will be increased such that after making such deduction, Company receives an amount equal to what it would have received if such deduction, withholding or payment had not been made.

4. TERM, TERMINATION, MODIFICATION AND SUSPENSION

a. This Agreement commences on the Effective Date and continues until terminated as permitted by this Agreement. Each Order commences on the effective date set forth in the Order, has the initial term (“Initial Term”) set forth in the Order, and thereafter automatically renews for the additional periods set forth in the Order, or if no renewal period is set forth then one (1) year periods, (each, a “Renewal term” and collectively, the “Term”) unless Client notifies Company in writing not less than ninety (90) calendar days before such renewal of its desire for the order not to renew.

b. Either party may terminate an Order upon written notice to the other party and take such other action identified in Section 4 d. below if the other party materially breaches such Order or this Agreement and fails to cure such breach within thirty (30) calendar days (5 days in the case of failure to pay an Unpaid Balance (as defined below) or 2 days in the case of failure to pay an Unpaid Balance two or more times during any twelve month period) . If the breach (other than Client failure to pay amounts when due) cannot be cured within thirty (30) calendar days, the breaching party shall be given a reasonable period of time, but not to exceed sixty (60) calendar days after receipt of the notice, to cure the breach, provided that the breaching party acts promptly and diligently to cure such breach.

c. Either party may terminate this Agreement upon written notice to the other party if there have been no Orders in effect for twelve (12) consecutive months.

d. In addition to the remedy set forth in Section 4 b. above if Client fails to pay all invoiced amounts when due (an “Unpaid Balance”), or otherwise fails to perform any of its obligations under this Agreement after opportunity to cure as provided in Section 4 b above Company may, in its sole discretion, take certain actions including, without limitation, the following actions, at Client’s sole risk and expense:

- (i) suspend the provision of the Services;
- (ii) disconnect Client Equipment and store it;
- (iii) declare all amounts due under the applicable Order through the balance of the Term to be immediately due and payable;
- (iv) operate Client Equipment for cryptocurrency mining and other activities at Company’s sole discretion and direct all resulting proceeds to Company’s own account until Company has recovered all amounts due, including, without limitation, any reinstatement, disconnection or storage fees or costs;
- (v) terminate this Agreement and all Orders; and
- (vi) exercise all other rights under this Agreement, at law, in equity or otherwise.

Unless Company has terminated this Agreement, Company will reverse the suspension of the provision of the Company Facility and Services and disconnection of Client Equipment as soon as reasonably practical after it is satisfied Client has cured the acts or omissions giving rise to the suspension and disconnection. In connection with the foregoing, Company may charge a reinstatement fee. Thereafter, Company may, at its sole discretion, require an advance payment equal to the amount of one billing invoice.

e. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, Company may suspend its provision of all or a portion of the Services and disconnect all of a portion of Client Equipment immediately if Company determines in its sole discretion that: Client's use of the Services or Client Equipment (i) may adversely impact or pose a security risk to Company's operation or maintenance of the Company Facility or Company's other clients; (ii) may subject Company to liability; or (iii) is not in compliance with this Agreement or Company's policies. Company will use commercially reasonable efforts to notify Client, which may be via email or telephone, of such suspension or disconnection. Company will use commercially reasonable efforts to reverse such suspension or disconnection as soon as reasonably practical after it is satisfied that Client has cured the acts or omissions giving rise to such suspension and disconnection. In connection with the foregoing, Company may charge a reinstatement fee as set forth in the applicable Order. Further, Company may terminate this Agreement and all Orders if such suspension or disconnection continues for at least two (2) calendar days or occurs more than three (3) times in any twelve (12) month period. For clarity, during the period of suspension or disconnection, Client remains responsible for all fees and charges Client incurs during such period. Further, after the Effective Date, if Company determines in its sole and absolute discretion that as a result of any change in, or interpretation, introduction or administration of, any laws, regulations, statutes, treaties, rules, guidelines, ordinances, codes or the like, or any proposed or anticipated changes in, or interpretations, introduction or administration of the foregoing (a "Change in Law"), has resulted in an increase in Company's cost of compliance with such Change in Law then Company may, in its commercially reasonable discretion, take certain actions, including, without limitation, the following actions, at Client's sole risk and expense: (i) terminate this Agreement, any or all Orders; and/or (ii) modify the Services as may be necessary to account for such Change in Law. Company will use commercially reasonable efforts to notify Client of such Company actions and the effective date of such actions.

f. Further, and notwithstanding the Change in Law related costs above, after the Effective Date, if there are any increases, changes in, or introduction or administration of, any new taxes, levies, tariffs or governmental fees and charges with respect to the provision of Services, Company may, in its sole and absolute discretion, pass through all such amounts to Client ("Increased Costs") and Client shall pay all Increased Costs in accordance with the payment and invoicing procedures as set forth in this Agreement.

g. Company shall not be liable for any Client loss or damage whatsoever as a result of the exercise of its rights under this Agreement. Upon termination of this Agreement or an Order by Company, Company is entitled to recover from Client all loss or damages incurred by Company as a result of such termination, outstanding fees, costs, charges, assessments, reimbursements, and expenses (including, without limitation, costs of collection and reasonable attorneys' fees).

h. In addition to Section 4(f), the Company may terminate or suspend all or a portion of the Services if necessary to be in compliance with applicable law, rules, regulations, administrative or judicial orders or decree. Company will use commercially reasonable efforts to notify Client, which may be via email or telephone, of such suspension. Client agrees that the Company shall have no liability whatsoever to Client for any damage, loss, expense or cost as a result of such termination or suspension.

5. WARRANTIES, LIMITATION OF LIABILITY, INDEMNITY

a. Each party represents, warrants, and covenants that it has full legal capacity, right, power and authority to execute and perform its obligations under this Agreement. Company represents, warrants, and covenants that it will provide Company Facility and perform the Services in a professional and workmanlike manner. Client represents, warrants, and covenants (i) Client owns and has good title to Client Equipment, free and clear of any mortgage, pledge, lien, charge, security interest, claim or other encumbrance or has interest in Client Equipment as part of a financing or other arrangement disclosed and approved by Company; (ii) Client Equipment has no defects, is in good condition and is adequate for the purpose it will be used, and is not in need of maintenance or repair except for ordinary, routine maintenance and repairs that are not material in nature or cost; (iii) Client Equipment has not experienced any failure or outage and has not been modified in any way from its original manufactured condition; (iv) Client Equipment is in a condition suitable for continued optimal cryptocurrency mining operations, including, without limitation, in the same manner as conducted prior to the Effective Date; (v) Client Equipment has been operated at all times indoors in an appropriate temperature-controlled environment and consistent with the manufacturer's recommended temperatures and operating conditions; (vi) Client Equipment has always been transported and/or handled in a protected manner normally expected when transporting and/or handling sensitive computer hardware; (vii) Client will use the Services only for lawful purposes, and Client will not transmit, retransmit or store material with or in Client Equipment or with or in Company Facility in violation of any federal or state law or regulations or local code, rule, regulation or ordinance; and (viii) Client will comply with applicable laws and regulations in connection with this Agreement. Without limiting the foregoing, Client further represents, warrants, and covenants neither Client, any officer, director, employee, partner, controlling shareholder, affiliated entity nor anyone acting on Client's behalf (A) has used or disclosed or will use or disclose non-public information obtained from Company, (B) has violated or will violate applicable anti-bribery or anti-corruption laws, including the U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act and the U.K. Bribery Act 2010, (C) has violated or will violate applicable anti-money laundering statutes, or (D) is a Denied Party or subject to any U.S. sanction imposed by the Office of Foreign Assets Control of the U.S. Department of the Treasury.

b. EXCEPT AS OTHERWISE SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT, COMPANY DOES NOT MAKE AND HEREBY DISCLAIMS ALL WARRANTIES, INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, EXPRESS, IMPLIED AND STATUTORY WARRANTIES THAT COMPANY FACILITY OR SERVICES WILL BE UNINTERRUPTED, ERROR-FREE, OR COMPLETELY SECURE, AND THE IMPLIED WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY OR SATISFACTORY QUALITY, FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE AND NONINFRINGEMENT OF ANY THIRD PARTY'S INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS. ALL COMPANY FACILITY AND SERVICES ARE PROVIDED OR PERFORMED ON AN "AS IS", "AS AVAILABLE" BASIS, AND CLIENT'S USE OF THE COMPANY FACILITY AND SERVICES IS SOLELY AT ITS OWN RISK. CLIENT ACKNOWLEDGES AND AGREES THAT COMPANY DOES NOT AND CANNOT CONTROL THE FLOW OF DATA OR POWER TO OR FROM COMPANY'S NETWORK AND/OR THE INTERNET OR POWER GRID, WHICH ARE PROVIDED OR CONTROLLED BY THIRD PARTIES, AND THAT ACTIONS OR INACTIONS OF THIRD PARTIES CAN IMPAIR OR DISRUPT COMPANY'S CONNECTIONS TO THE INTERNET OR POWER GRID (OR PORTIONS THEREOF) INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, INTERRUPTIONS IN SERVICE CAUSED BY GOVERNMENT REGULATIONS OR ORDERS, SYSTEM CAPACITY LIMITATIONS OR LIMITATIONS IMPOSED BY, OR FAILURES OF, AN UNDERLYING COMMUNICATIONS CARRIER. COMPANY WILL ENDEAVOR TO TAKE ACTIONS IT DEEMS APPROPRIATE IN ITS SOLE DISCRETION TO REMEDY AND AVOID SUCH EVENTS. HOWEVER, COMPANY CANNOT AND DOES NOT GUARANTEE THAT SUCH EVENTS WILL NOT OCCUR, AND COMPANY DISCLAIMS ANY AND ALL LIABILITY RESULTING FROM OR RELATED TO SUCH EVENTS. COMPANY HEREBY DISCLAIMS ALL RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE ACTS OR OMISSIONS BY COMPANY'S OTHER CUSTOMERS AND CLIENTS AND OTHER THIRD PARTIES.

c. NOTWITHSTANDING ANYTHING TO THE CONTRARY IN THIS AGREEMENT, IN NO EVENT WILL EITHER PARTY BE LIABLE TO THE OTHER PARTY FOR (I) LOST PROFITS; (II) LOSS OF BUSINESS; (III) LOSS OF REVENUES (EXCEPT THAT CLIENT SHALL BE LIABLE FOR ANY FEES OR OTHER AMOUNTS OWED TO COMPANY UNDER THIS AGREEMENT); (IV) LOSS, INTERRUPTION OR USE OF DATA OR LOSS OF USE OF CLIENT EQUIPMENT; (V) ANY CONSEQUENTIAL OR INDIRECT DAMAGES; OR (VI) COST OF COVER, ANY INCIDENTAL, SPECIAL, RELIANCE, EXEMPLARY OR PUNITIVE DAMAGES (IF APPLICABLE), EVEN IF ADVISED OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGES.

d. NOTWITHSTANDING ANYTHING TO THE CONTRARY IN THIS AGREEMENT,

COMPANY'S TOTAL LIABILITY TO CLIENT IN THE AGGREGATE FOR THE ENTIRE TERM (REGARDLESS OF WHETHER THE CLAIMS ARE BROUGHT DURING OR AFTER THE TERM) WITH RESPECT TO ALL CLAIMS ARISING FROM OR RELATED TO THE SUBJECT MATTER OF THIS AGREEMENT (INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, ATTORNEYS' FEES) WILL NOT EXCEED AN AMOUNT EQUAL TO ONE (1) MONTHS FEE PAYABLE TO COMPANY PURSUANT TO THE APPLICABLE ORDER.

e. EXCEPT FOR CLIENT'S BREACH OF ITS OBLIGATIONS UNDER SECTIONS 4, 5 a, 5 h AND 6, AND LOSS OR DAMAGE ARISING OUT OF CLIENT'S GROSS NEGLIGENCE, BAD FAITH OR WILLFUL MISCONDUCT, THE LIMITATIONS SET FORTH IN SECTIONS 5 c AND 5 d WILL APPLY TO ALL CLAIMS AND CAUSES OF ACTION, REGARDLESS OF WHETHER IN CONTRACT, TORT, STRICT LIABILITY OR OTHER THEORY.

f. Client hereby waives the right to bring any claim against Company arising out of or in any way relating to an Order more than one (1) year after the date such Order expires or is terminated. Each party recognizes and agrees that the warranty disclaimers, limitations of liability and remedy limitations in this Agreement are materially bargained for by the parties.

g. Client acknowledges that cryptocurrency price movement, cryptocurrency difficulty, and legal and regulatory risks could have a material adverse impact on cryptocurrencies, cryptocurrency mining, Client Equipment, Services, and this Agreement. Client assumes responsibility for all such risks, and Company disclaims all types of liabilities or loss of funds that may arise as a result.

h. Client shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless Company and its affiliates, stockholders, directors, officers, employees, subcontractors and invitees from and against any losses, liabilities, damages, costs and expenses (including, without limitation, reasonable attorneys' fees) arising from or relating to (i) death, personal injury, bodily injury or property damage caused by Client or Client's customers or clients or Client Equipment; (ii) breach of Client's representations, warranties, or covenants in this Agreement or in an Order or Sections 2 or 6; (iii) fraud, bad faith, negligence or willful or reckless conduct of or by Client or Client's customers or clients; (iv) Client's or Client's customers' or clients' use of the Company Facility, Services, or Client Equipment; (v) any claim whatsoever by Client's customers or clients, or any third party related to the Services or Client Equipment; or (vi) any change in, or interpretation or administration of, any laws, regulations, statutes, treaties, rules, guidelines, ordinances, codes or the like, or any proposed or anticipated changes in, or interpretations or administration of the foregoing.

6. CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION

a. Each party acknowledges that it and its employees or agents may, in the course of performing its responsibilities under this Agreement, be exposed to or acquire information which is proprietary to or confidential to the other party, including, without limitation, business plans, strategies, forecasts and projections and information about business structures, operations, systems, finances, assets, investments, investment strategies, software and other technology systems, and personnel, customers and suppliers (collectively, "Confidential Information"). Company's Confidential Information also includes the design, address and location of the Company Facilities (which is deemed to be not publicly known), the Services provided, equipment used at the Company Facilities, the configuration of cables, networks and services at the Company Facilities and the terms of this Agreement. Neither party may use or copy any Confidential Information except to the limited extent necessary to perform its obligations under this Agreement and will not disclose any Confidential Information to any person or entity other than to its employees who have a need to know the Confidential Information or as otherwise expressly permitted by this Agreement. Each party shall use the same measures that it uses to protect its own most confidential and proprietary information to protect the Confidential Information from use or disclosure in violation of this Agreement, but in no event less than commercially reasonable measures.

b. The restrictions on use of Confidential Information do not apply to information if it (i) is known to the receiving party prior to receipt from the disclosing party directly or indirectly from a source other than one having an obligation of confidentiality to the disclosing party; (ii) becomes known (independently of disclosure by the disclosing party) to the receiving party directly or indirectly from a source other than one having an obligation of confidentiality to the disclosing party; (iii) becomes publicly known or otherwise ceases to be confidential, except through a breach of this Agreement by the receiving party; or (iv) is independently developed by the receiving party. For the avoidance of doubt, the mere placement of materials or equipment containing information at a Company Facility does not constitute disclosure of such information to Company.

c. Upon termination or expiration of this Agreement, or at any other time at the request of the other party, each party shall return to the other party, or destroy and delete, as applicable, all Confidential Information and any copies thereof in its possession or control.

d. Neither party may use the other party's trademarks, service marks, trade names, copyrights, other intellectual property rights or other designations in any promotion, publication or press release without the prior written consent of the other party in each case, which consent may be given in an Order.

7. INSURANCE

a. Client agrees to maintain the following insurance, at its expense, during the Term, with insurers having a minimum AM Best rating of A- VII or S&P rating of A: (i) Commercial General Liability or Public Liability Insurance with a limit of US $2,000,000 per occurrence, US $4,000,000 in the aggregate (or the local currency equivalent), provided these limits may be achieved through a combination of primary and excess policies and such insurance will include coverage for bodily injury and property damage.

b. Client will furnish Company with certificates of insurance upon request that evidence the minimum levels of insurance set forth herein, list Company as an additional insured or interested party on the Commercial General Liability or Public Liability Insurance and designate that Client's insurance is primary and non-contributory. Client will provide at least thirty (30) days' prior written notice to Company of any non-renewal or cancellation of the policies referenced above.

8. MISCELLANEOUS

a. Notice. Except where expressly provided in this Agreement or an Order, all notices, consents, or approvals required by this Agreement will only be in writing and sent by overnight courier, certified or registered mail, overnight delivery requiring a signature upon receipt, or delivery by hand to the parties at the respective addresses set forth on the first page of this Agreement. Notice is effective when received.

b. Entire Agreement. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter of this Agreement, and supersedes and replaces all prior or contemporaneous discussions, negotiations, proposals, understandings and agreements, written or oral, as well as any industry custom. Each party acknowledges that, in entering into this Agreement, it has not relied on, and shall have no right or remedy in respect of, any statement, representation, assurance or warranty other than as expressly set out in this Agreement. This Agreement may be executed in two (2) or more counterparts (and the signature pages may be delivered with ink or electronic signature or by e-mail), each will be deemed an original, but all together will constitute one and the same instrument. Except where otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement, this Agreement may be amended only by the written agreement of both parties.

c. Survival. Any provision of this Agreement, which, by its nature, would survive termination or expiration of this Agreement will survive any such termination or expiration, including, without limitation, those provisions concerning confidentiality, indemnification and limitation of liability.

d. Subcontracting and Assignment. Company may permit any affiliate, independent contractor or other third party to perform any of Company's obligations hereunder provided that Company remains primarily liable for the performance of its obligations. Company may assign, delegate, or transfer this Agreement or any of its rights and obligations hereunder without notice to or prior written consent of Client. Client may not assign, delegate or transfer this Agreement or any of its rights and obligations hereunder without the prior written consent of Company. Any assignment or transfer in violation of this Agreement is void. This Agreement will be binding upon and inure to the benefit of all permitted successors and assigns. Nothing in this Agreement is intended to or will confer upon any third party any right, benefit or remedy of any nature whatsoever under or by reason of this Agreement

e. Force Majeure. Except for Client's obligation to pay amounts owed under this Agreement, neither party will be responsible or in any way liable to the other party, and neither party will have any termination or other rights, arising out of or relating to a Force Majeure Event. A 'Force Majeure Event' is a failure by the other party to perform any of its obligations under this Agreement if such failure is caused by events or circumstances beyond its reasonable control, including, without limitation, acts of God, war, labor strike, terrorist act, fire, flood, earthquake, landslide, hurricane, typhoon, tsunami, volcanic eruption, inclement weather, health epidemic or any law, order, regulation or other action of any governing authority or agency.

f. Governing Law and Arbitration. This Agreement and all claims arising out of or related to this Agreement are governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware without giving effect to any choice or conflict of law provision or rule that would cause the application of the laws of any jurisdiction other than the State of Delaware. Any dispute, claim or controversy arising out of or relating to this Agreement or the breach, termination, enforcement, interpretation or validity thereof, including, without limitation, the determination of the scope or applicability of this Agreement to arbitrate, shall be determined exclusively by arbitration in King County, Washington before three (3) arbitrators. The arbitration shall be administered by JAMS pursuant to its Comprehensive Arbitration Rules & Procedures. Any award, order or judgment pursuant to arbitration ("Award") is final and may be entered and enforced in any court of competent jurisdiction, and each party shall submit to any court of competent jurisdiction for purposes of the enforcement of any Award. The arbitrator may, in the Award, allocate all or part of the costs of the arbitration, including, without limitation, the fees of the arbitrator and the reasonable attorneys' fees of the prevailing party.

g. General. The rights and remedies provided for herein are cumulative and not exclusive of any rights or remedies that a party would otherwise have. The parties are independent contractors, and this Agreement does not establish any relationship of partnership, joint venture, employment, franchise or agency between them. Neither party may bind the other or incur obligations on the other's behalf without the other's prior written consent. There are no third-party beneficiaries to this Agreement. Christy, Yes, that's fine. Please include Russell and Taras.

We were going to reach out to you as well to validate the dates in the contract. I think we all need to understand manufacturing month vs deployment month. In between is shipping method and timing and customs processing and timing.
 On a related note, did you see Cathay Pacific grounded their cargo fleet for 7 days? Add to that the surging COVID numbers, non-existent commercial flights to/from Asia, and customs overload, we are also trying to clearly understand manufacturing, arrival, and deployment schedules.

We are still on holiday until tomorrow but let's get something on the books for Friday.

Thanks,
 Jeff

Quinn,

Thanks for sending us the detail. What I am seeing is 19 different miner types vs the two in the original contract. We will need to get these all set up in Minder and then we will need to create the order and billing groups to receive units and asset tag them correctly.

This is not a small amount of work and we are closed from 11/25 to 11/28. We can commit to energizing the units, if the units received match this detail, by December 3rd.

We will also work with you in the future so that we can get this detail on future shipments before they start to arrive. Future deployments, even with this many miner types will be faster but this time we need and ask your patience as we create and define these miner types in Minder.

Hi Lesa,

I wanted to let you know we tried to push for better days and they are still trying, but as of right now this is the best we have. The world is a disaster currently in trying to secure product.

I am sure all gear manufactures are in the same boat or worse – We will continue to push for better dates..

Harsh – I was also hoping to discuss further on tomorrows call. As you can see below, Greenheck is standing by these dates. Evidently they had an aluminum shortage around the same time the PO was given to them.

We are currently framing in the openings and Custome Aire will proceed with installing the hoods and birdscreens. We are removing all the spray insulation, making most of the cuts of the siding but leaving it in place while we do the damper opening framing. This way we are keeping the building as enclosed as possible. The siding can come off quickly.

The dampers, as they arrive, can be installed from the inside. So, Custom Aire will also continue ahead of the dampers with installing the hoods and birdscreens.

If we need to temporary enclose any openings due to weather conditions, we will do so with either poly or plywood.

Does this plan seem acceptable?

Shawn;

I got some updated shipping info this afternoon from Greenheck. They say they will try to get dedicated trucks to try to speed up the 'in transit' time. In the meantime, Custom Aire will work on getting the hoods and birdscreens installed so you can proceed with getting the wall openings done.

I have to admit, I don't fully understand what happened with this order. Greenheck is saying that the size of the order caught them without enough aluminum extrusions, then an aluminum shortage is causing them delays. Somehow this doesn't seem to ring true. I thought Harsh had talked to them enough so that they understood the magnitude of the future order. We sent our purchase order to the supplier on July 13th, so they had it long ago. We may never know the truth.

I apologize but I don't know what else we can do. At least the exterior work can proceed. If we get terribly severe weather before all the dampers get installed, maybe the uncompleted openings can be covered with poly to at least keep the wind out.

Karina,

My understanding is that the AntBoxes are separate from the actual building permit. Can you please release the Building permit so that our trades can call for inspection on all of our UG as agreed yesterday on the Precon? All parties agreed that this project is approved and the only pending item was the final Public Works fee which is being submitted this morning.

Thank you!

Good Afternoon –

It looks like we can issue a temporary permit for the ANT boxes while Building A is being constructed.. However, the location proposed appears to conflict with required landscape plantings. Since the temporary facilities have the potential to remain between the phasing of each building, we are requesting that the Landscape Plan be altered for the Southern site to move proposed tree plantings around to accommodate the location of the ANT boxes. I've copied the Project Engineer and Landscape Architect for this project so they are aware of the change.

This will not hold up the already approved applications as we can resolve this with the final permits. Jeff & Joe, you're welcome to give me a call or I can set one up at a time that works best to go over the requested changes. Let me know what works best for y'all.

City of Denton,

Good afternoon. Not sure if I have the correct individual(s) on this correspondence with the City of Denton (CoD), but I wanted to reach out to get the conversation going and if I am not contacting the correct individual, could you guide me in that direction? Ownership on the Core Scientific Data Center is looking into having 36 to 39 temporary data computer's operating during the timeline of construction and with that being said, I wanted to see if the CoD has any permitting requirements on this? Attached is a preliminary layout of the temporary operation to give you some insight, but with this engaging quickly, wanted to reach out to see what requirements you hold from a permitting standpoint.

Addition to this, wanted to see if it would be beneficial for us all to hold a call to get to know one another, understand all individuals at play/communication requirements, inspection list/requirements, etc. If this sounds reasonable, let me know your thoughts and we can get something scheduled.

Thanks in advance.

Re: Core Scientific - Denton Data Center
Transformer Failure Investigation
MEP Engineering Review

Mr. Gallagher:

I met with members of Core Scientific's construction and operations teams on-site at the Denton Data Center on the morning of August 16, 2022. At that time, Shermco Industries had technicians on-site actively testing a number of the Building D transformers. We walked the site and reviewed the installation of the electrical equipment and associated feeders. We also spoke to Shermco technicians about the results of their testing.

I was able to review the site conditions compared to the electrical engineering design. The following items were found to be installed correctly as designed and without visible defects:

- The 35 kV primary feeders and their associated terminations appeared to be properly sized, installed, and grounded at the pad mounted transformers.
- The 2,500 kVA pad mounted transformers appeared to be properly installed and adequately grounded.
- The secondary electrical feeders appeared to be properly sized, installed, and terminated at the transformers and at the associated switchboards
- The switchboards appeared to be properly grounded and their neutral to ground disconnect links appeared to be properly sized and installed.
- The adjustable trip settings on the switchboard main circuits breakers appeared to be properly set to coordinated device settings provided by K&A Engineering.
- The switchboard equipment electrical loading appeared to be well balanced and below the limits of the transformers.

It is our understanding that there has been no reported substation power surge or switching events that occurred during the time of the latest transformer failures. This information can be further confirmed by contacting Denton Municipal Electric and requesting their event logs.

When reviewing the potential transformer failure scenarios, it is our understanding that the initial transformer defects and deficiencies found during an initial transformer walk and inspection were repaired by Maddox and their subcontractor before Shermco's initial transformer testing. We have reviewed Shermco's testing report dated August 8, 2022. It was noted that there appeared to be a consistent "A phase Winding Resistance is out of tolerance on the Low Voltage windings" deficiency found on four (4) of the transformers tested. It is our understanding that all cable and transformer deficiencies found in the testing report were corrected before

Building D was re-energized. We have also reviewed Shermco's testing report dated August 17, 2022. This additional round of testing was performed after the latest transformer failure. The test results again showed a consistent low voltage winding deficiency with a substantial level of winding resistance failure in a very short period of time.

After review of the site conditions, transformer loading, and Shermco testing results, it is our belief that there is a consistent manufacturing defect that is causing transformer failures. The defect appears to be on the A phase windings on the secondary side of the transformers. We recommend that the 35 kV transformers be replaced with similar transformers provided by a different manufacturer.

Please let me know if you have any questions or need any additional information.

[EXTERNAL] Use caution when opening attachments or links.

NOTICE TYPE: W-A032522-01 Operations

SHORT DESCRIPTION: Interim Large Load Interconnection Process

DAYS AFFECTED: March 25, 2022

LONG DESCRIPTION: ERCOT has established an interim process to ensure compliance with existing NERC requirements and for the reliable interconnection of large loads to the ERCOT system. Transmission Service Providers (TSPs) should submit interconnection studies that meet the requirements of NERC Reliability Standard FAC-002-2 for each applicable large load proposing to interconnect to the ERCOT system. ERCOT will review these studies and identify any issues that must be resolved prior to allowing applicable loads to be included in ERCOT’s Network Operations Model, register as Load Resources, and/or receive approval to energize.

The interim process is effective immediately and applies to load interconnection requests that have not been modeled and studied in a completed ERCOT planning assessment (e.g., Regional Transmission Plan, Full Interconnection Study, or Regional Planning Group review) and meet the following applicability requirements:

- New loads not co-located with a Resource with total demand within the next two years of 75 MW or greater;
- Existing loads not co-located with a Resource increasing total demand by 75 MW or greater within the next two years;
- New loads co-located with a Resource with total demand within the next two years of 20 MW or greater; or
- Existing loads co-located with a Resource increasing total demand by 20 MW or greater within the next two years.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION: ERCOT provided a presentation on existing load interconnection requirements at the March 3rd, 2022 Reliability and Operations Subcommittee (ROS) meeting.

CONTACT: If you have any questions, please contact your ERCOT Account Manager. You may also call the general ERCOT Client Services phone number at (512) 248-3900 or contact ERCOT Client Services via email at ClientServices@ercot.com.

Transmission/Substation Facility Extension Agreement

This Agreement is made between Core Scientific, Inc., hereinafter called "Customer" and Texas New Mexico Power Company, hereinafter called "Company" for the extension of Company Delivery System transmission/substation facilities, as hereinafter described. As used herein, the term "extension" shall mean the construction of new facilities or modification of existing facilities.

Customer has requested that Company construct the following Company-owned Delivery System facilities: A new service terminal to be constructed at Cedarvale Substation and operated at a nominal 138,000 volts or higher. The service terminal is to consist of poles, conductors, breakers, switches and associated protection and metering equipment and communication devices and a single line terminal position for the Customer's transmission line, ("Company Facilities") to serve the following Customer-Owned Facilities located at 31°30'44.30"N, 103°27'13.78"W ("Customer Facilities"): A substation operated at a nominal 138,000 volts or higher. Customer substation will consist of multiple transformers rated at approximately 250MVA each with primary and secondary circuit breakers and relays compatible with TNMP's relays and protective schemes at Company service meter station.

ARTICLE I - PAYMENT BY CUSTOMER

1. As payment for Customer's portion of the cost of the extension of the Company Facilities in accordance with this Agreement, Customer will pay to Company the amount(s) shown below, such payment(s) to be and remain the property of the Company.

Customer will not be required to pay an upfront contribution in aid of construction as set forth on Exhibit A.

2. If the Customer Facilities have not achieved the level of operation specified below by the date specified below, then Customer shall pay to Company those costs as described below to compensate Company for costs it has incurred associated with the Company Facilities. The following will also address any security required associated with such payment obligation.

At the end of thirty-six (36) monthly billing cycles following the date the Company Facilities are completed, if the actual revenue is below the Minimum Facilities Revenue, Customer shall pay to TNMP an amount equal to the Minimum Facilities Revenue less the Actual Revenue, grossed up for federal, state and local taxes. In addition, Customer shall deliver to TNMP a surety bond or irrevocable letter of credit, issued by a surety company or banking institution authorized to do business in the State of Texas and reasonably acceptable to TNMP, on or before the Effective Date of this Agreement. The surety bond or irrevocable letter of credit shall have a face value equal to the Minimum Facilities Revenue and a 40-month term from the date the Company Facilities are completed. The surety bond or irrevocable letter of credit shall secure all duties and obligations of customer hereunder and ensure same are done and performed at the time and in the manner specified in this Agreement.

Company shall provide an accounting of the Minimum Facilities Revenue balance to Customer no more frequently than annually upon request from Customer.

3. Upon termination pursuant to the provisions of Article III, Paragraph 2 below, Customer shall pay to Company all of: (a) the costs that Company has incurred prior to the date of termination for engineering, procuring equipment and materials, construction, and any other costs related to the Company Facilities; (b) the costs that Company has committed to incur prior to the date of termination that it is unable to avoid using commercially reasonable steps; and (c) such costs incurred by Company after the date of termination to return the Delivery System to a condition consistent with Company's construction standards and Company's Tariff for Retail Delivery Service. Any cost obligations incurred by Customer under this paragraph will be reduced by any payments made by Customer under Paragraph 1 above. The provisions of this paragraph shall survive termination of this Agreement.
4. In calculating the costs Company has incurred (or committed to be incurred), such costs shall include the normal loadings Company applies to construction projects of this nature and shall be increased by an adder to cover the effects of a Customer payment on the Company's tax liability and shall include an amount to recover franchise fees where applicable.

ARTICLE II - TITLE AND OWNERSHIP

Company at all times shall have title to and complete ownership and control over the Company Facilities extended under this Agreement.

ARTICLE III - TERM AND TERMINATION

1. This Agreement becomes effective on the date of execution by both parties and may be executed in two or more counterparts, each of which is deemed an original, but all constitute one and the same instrument.
2. Customer may terminate this Agreement at any time prior to completion of the Company Facilities by providing Company with seven (7) days advanced written notice.

ARTICLE IV - GENERAL CONDITIONS

1. Customer understands that, as a result of the installation provided for in this Agreement, the Delivery of Electric Power and Energy by Company to the specified location will be provided in accordance with Transmission Service Rate Schedule, which may from time to time be amended or succeeded.
2. This Agreement supersedes all previous agreements or representations, either written or oral, between Company and Customer made with respect to the matters herein contained, and when duly executed constitutes the agreement between the parties hereto and is not binding upon Company unless and until signed by one of its duly authorized representatives.

3. The services covered by this Agreement will be provided by Company, and accepted by Customer, in accordance with applicable Public Utility Commission of Texas ("PUCT") Substantive Rules and Company's Tariff for Retail Delivery Service (including the Service Regulations contained therein), as it may from time to time be fixed and approved by the PUCT ("Company's Retail Delivery Tariff"). Company's Retail Delivery Tariff is part of this Agreement to the same extent as if fully set out herein. Unless otherwise expressly stated in this Agreement, the terms used herein have the meanings ascribed thereto in Company's Retail Delivery Tariff.
4. This Agreement may be amended only upon mutual agreement of the parties, which amendment will not be effective until reduced to writing and executed by the parties. Changes to applicable PUCT Substantive Rules and Company's Retail Delivery Tariff are applicable to this Agreement upon their effective date and do not require an amendment of this Agreement.
5. The failure of a party to this Agreement to insist, on any occasion, upon strict performance of any provision of this Agreement will not be considered to waive the obligations, rights, or duties imposed upon the parties.
6. Customer may not assign the Agreement without Company's prior written consent.
7. This Agreement was executed in the State of Texas and must in all respects be governed by, interpreted, construed, and enforced in accordance with the laws thereof. This Agreement is subject to all valid, applicable federal, state, and local laws, ordinances, and rules and regulations of duly constituted regulatory authorities having jurisdiction.

ARTICLE V - OTHER SPECIAL CONDITIONS

1. TNMP shall use reasonable efforts to construct the TNMP Facilities by a target completion date of 12 months from the effective date of this agreement.
2. A Facility Schedule outlining TNMP and Customer facility responsibilities and including a one-line diagram of the TNMP and Customer-Owned Facilities is attached as Exhibit B.
3. Customer agrees to maintain a Power Factor of ninety-five percent (95%) lagging or greater as measured at the TNMP service tap station meter. If Customer does not maintain a Power Factor of ninety-five percent (95%), and Customer does not correct its Power Factor within 30 days of receipt of notice from TNMP, Company may install equipment on the Delivery System necessary to correct the Customer Power Factor. In the event TNMP installs such equipment, Customer shall reimburse TNMP for all reasonable costs and expenses related to the procurement and installation of such equipment within thirty (30) days after receipt of TNMP's invoice therefor.
4. The Customer shall design, install, construct, operate and maintain the Customer Facilities and its other electrical equipment in compliance with the TNMP Tariff and Applicable Legal and Electrical Requirements.
5. This Agreement does not provide for interconnection of generation to TNMP's system or interconnection for any purpose other than for TNMP to provide retail delivery service.
6. Subject to any necessary ERCOT approval, each Party shall provide necessary equipment outages to allow the other Party to perform periodic testing, maintenance, repair or replacement of its facilities. Such outages shall be scheduled at mutually agreeable times, unless conditions exist which a Party believes, in accordance with Good Utility Practice, may endanger person or property.
7. Customer understands and agrees that certain contingencies could affect delivery service to the CSI POD due to the system curtailment plans of the TNMP 138kV transmission loop system serving the area and therefore delivery service to the CSI POD may be interrupted.
8. Customer's full connected future load is estimated to be 700 MVA by 2026 and will coordinate load additions in excess with Company.
9. TNMP requires a detailed load ramp schedule to ensure the necessary shunt capacitance is available in the timeframe Customer requires load support. The cost to serve and security required will be revised upon determination of the final load ramp timing and shunt capacitor bank need.

Customer will pay a Contribution-In-Aid-Of-Construction (CIAC) to Company of $0.00 as payment for Customer's portion of the facility extension, installation, or modification costs in accordance with Company's Tariff. Per the Tariff the CIAC was calculated based on the following: $CIAC = (\text{Project Investment of } 450,000.00 \text{ minus Standard Allowance of } $450,000.00) \text{ plus Applicable Taxes of } \0.00 . The Customer assumes all responsibility for the electric current upon the Customer's side of the point of delivery, and for the wires, apparatus, and appurtenances used in connection therewith. In addition to the terms of the Tariff, Customer will protect and save the Company harmless from all claims for injury or damage to persons or property occurring upon the Customer's side of such point of delivery, occasioned by such electric current or said wire and apparatus, except where said injury or damage shall be shown to have been occasioned solely by the negligence of the Company. In no event shall the Company be responsible for consequential damages whether or not found to have negligently caused injury to Customer.

ARTICLE III. TERM

This Agreement shall expire three (3) years (the "Term") from the date agreement is executed. The Initial Date is the date this agreement is executed. Customer's payment obligations shall survive expiration of this Agreement.

ARTICLE IV. UNDER UTILIZATION CHARGE

A. Based on estimated information provided by the Customer, Company calculated the CIAC amount referenced in Article II above. Such estimated information included, but was not limited to, the Threshold kW and the number of lots or businesses to be built, sold, and occupied. Company will review actual load or the number of lots or businesses at the pertinent location to evaluate the accuracy of the information supplied by Customer. At the end of the Term, the Company will recalculate the CIAC amount if the estimated Threshold kW billing demand for the designated location has not been realized or the estimated number of lots or businesses have not been built, sold, and occupied. The CIAC amount, including applicable taxes, will be recalculated based on the actual kW billing demand achieved or the actual number of lots or businesses built, sold, and occupied at the time of the recalculation. Company may also make such recalculation in the event of a breach during the Term.

B. If Customer does not realize the estimated Threshold kW or the number of estimated lots or businesses are not built, sold, and occupied, Customer will pay Company an amount (the "Under Utilization Charge") equal to the difference between the CIAC amount paid under Article I and the amount of any recalculated CIAC, including any applicable taxes, determined under the preceding Subparagraph A of Article IV. Customer shall pay any such Under Utilization Charge within 15 days after Company deposits an invoice for such amount, addressed to Customer, in the U.S. mail.

C. Article IV only applies to standard electrical facilities.

ARTICLE V. GENERAL PROVISION

Customer understands and agrees that Company shall retain title to, own, and control all electric facilities up to the point of delivery that are extended, installed, or modified under this Agreement. Company may use any such facilities to serve other customers when Company Determines that it is feasible to do so. Customer also understands that the delivery of service is not governed by this Agreement, but the delivery of electricity procured by customer will be provided in accordance with Company's Tariff and any subsequent amendments thereto. Customer understands that Company is not a generator, power marketer, or retail electric provider and therefore Company will not procure, generate, or supply power to Customer. Customer accepts responsibility for selecting, enrolling and contracting with a retail electric provider of Customer's choice. The Company does not assume any responsibility associated with Customer's equipment used or the methods employed for the installation and/or maintenance thereof.

This Agreement supersedes all prior agreements between the Company and the Customer for service mentioned herein and all representations, promises or other inducements, written or verbal, made with respect to the matters herein contained. This Agreement shall not be assignable by Customer without the written consent of the Company. This Agreement is not binding upon Company until executed by one of its authorized representatives.

Such surety instrument must be for a term of 48 months (the "Security Term") from the Initial Date. Company may, but is not required to, accept a LOC of a shorter term provided that such LOC is renewed annually for the length of the Security Term. If a LOC or other security instrument is terminated, canceled or withdrawn, or if Company receives notice that the LOC or other security instrument will not be renewed, the Customer will be considered to be in immediate breach. In addition to any other remedies permitted at law, Company may recalculate the CIAC amount, including applicable taxes, as set forth in Article IV as of the date of breach. Any difference between the initial CIAC and the revised CIAC, including applicable taxes, will be due within 15 days of Company's mailing of an invoice to Customer as described in Article IV. Thereafter, Company may execute or draw on said LOC or other surety prior to the expiration of such LOC/surety and/or the Agreement. Any surety instrument/LOC shall be non-cancelable; however, the face amount of the instrument may be reduced each year when approved by the Company. The surety instrument/LOC may not be replaced with other surety without consent of the Company.

ARTICLE VII. FORCE MAJEURE

The Company shall not be liable for damages occasioned by interruptions or failure to commence delivery or unsatisfactory service caused by an Act of God or the public enemy, inevitable accidents, fire, explosions, strikes, riots, war, delay in receiving shipments of required material, order of any court or judge granted in any bona fide adverse legal proceedings or action, or any order of any commission or tribunal having jurisdiction in the premises; or, without limitation by the preceding enumeration, any other act or thing reasonably beyond its control or incident to interruptions necessary for repairs or changes in the Company's generating equipment, lines or other electric facilities.

Hi Chris,

It's nice to meet you. Our CEO will be reaching out to set up a call with Mr. Walker. In the meantime, I am hoping to schedule a call with you or whoever you deem appropriate for our working team to better understanding the timelines associated with our Cedarvale and Cottonwood projects. We have equipment and construction materials showing up to our job sites every day and are unsure how to proceed given the current environment.

Do you have time for a call tomorrow?

Greetings Carol,

The attached Cedarvale study was submitted to the ERCOT Large Load Group early this morning and Cottonwood will be submitted before COB today. We will let you know as soon as we have ERCOTs review back.

There is no issue serving the PME load amounts from the transmission point of delivery before the capacitor banks are installed and in-service at both Cedarvale and Cottonwood.

Let me know if you have any further questions.

Thanks
Chris

Hi Chris, Keith and Tony,

I am still looking for clarity on the questions below.

Do we need to wait for the cap bank work to be completed to move the PME load over to transmission?

Can we please get an update on the restudy and information being submitted to ERCOT? Has this been resubmitted and if so, when? We have buildings fully erected with power to them and units ready to turn on. We need to know when we will be able to ramp up. Every day we go without answers from you costs us a great deal of money with construction and lost revenue. We have customer obligations to fulfill and are unable to even provide them with a timeline at this point.

Thanks,

Do we need to wait for the cap bank work to be completed to move the PME load over to transmission?

Good Morning Carol,

With regard to the timing of the transmission terminals at Cedarvale and Cottonwood, TNMP has those scheduled to be energized on 6/28 and 7/13 respectively. The cap banks for both yards will follow in July and August. I am not able to provide an exact or specific date because we are having trouble with the manufacturers of the banks and switching devices giving accurate delivery timing. We are continuing to push them for the soonest delivery possible.

There is no facility issue with moving the PME load over to the transmission service upon energization.

Tony, will need to comment on status of resubmission of the study for ERCOT's review.

Thanks

Chris

Chris, Tony and Keith,

We need an update on the restudy and information being submitted to ERCOT. Has this been resubmitted and if so, when? Also, can you please answer the question below. We have buildings fully erected with power to them and units ready to turn on. We need to know when we will be able to ramp up. Every day we go without answers from you costs us a great deal of money with construction and lost revenue. We have customer obligations to fulfill and are unable to even provide them with a timeline at this point.

Thanks,

Subject: Question on PME's vs Distribution

Importance: High

Hi Tony,

We are planning to have our first Cedarvale transmission transformer in service by the end of July. Are we able to move the PME load over to distribution as soon as the distribution is available?

Thanks,

1 Executive Summary

In June 2021, Priority Power Management, LLC entered into an agreement with TNMP to study the impact of providing transmission service to their proposed bitcoin mine data center facility in Ward County, TX (Project). The Customer has estimated the electrical demand of the Project to be 700 MW. The Customer's proposed location for the Project is adjacent to TNMP's Cedarvale substation, so the transmission point of delivery (POD) for the Project will be located at Cedarvale substation. The customer has requested a July 2022 in-service date for the POD.

TNMP processed one other request for transmission service to a large load just prior to receiving the request for the Project and processed two other requests for transmission service to large loads in parallel with the Project, totaling 730 MW not including the Project, planned within the same general area of TNMP's West Texas transmission system as that of the proposed location for the Project. Therefore, it was required for this study to consider a total new load of 1.621 GW (921 MW load studied either just prior to or in parallel with the Project + 700 MW proposed Project load).

The steady state results indicate a total of 480 MVAR static reactive support, in four blocks of 120 MVAR, will be needed at the POD to maintain healthy transmission voltages.

The steady state results indicate numerous transmission system upgrades are needed to accommodate the Project along with the other three large loads included in the study. Corresponding load limits have been identified as part of the study process. It is important to note the limits presented in this study are based on a snapshot in time simulations and do not intend to provide any insight into the hourly performance of the proposed load and the congestion/curtailment risks therein.

System improvements needed within TNMP's transmission system to accommodate all proposed end-user facilities considered in this study, estimated timing of those projects, and associated most constraining Project load limit are summarized below in Table 8-1.

Table 8-1: TNMP System Improvements Identified

| System Improvement | Estimated Timing | Project Load Limit (MW) | Day/Night Constraint |
|---|------------------|-------------------------|----------------------|
| Cut Wink – Bone Springs 138 kV line into Cholla station | 12/1/22 | 170 | Day |

TNMP performed stability simulations of (1) load reject scenario involving the Project load and (2) the critical most contingency identified from the steady state analysis to result in post-contingency voltage collapse within the far West Texas system at higher load levels than were simulated in this study. The stability simulations were performed for the peak and off-peak scenarios with all minor system upgrades but none of the RPG level system upgrades identified from the steady state analysis. The Project load was set at 397 MW (aggregate of all proposed end-user facilities operating at 1318 MW) in the 2024 summer peak case and at a load level of 234 MW (aggregate of all proposed end-user facilities set at 1023 MW) in the 2025 HWLL case. UVLS was simulated at each of the four PODs serving the proposed end-user facilities. Conclusions from the stability analysis are as follows:

1. No angular stability issues were observed.
2. The simulations indicate introduction of large load data centers within the study area significantly worsen system low voltages that occur post-fault due to stalling of native industrial motors and will require installation of UVLS at the POD of each large load data center.
3. Significant over-voltages can occur depending on the timing of tripping stalled motors at the various industrial load sites within TNMP's West Texas systems during undervoltage conditions versus the timing of UVLS tripping for large data center loads. However, the simulations indicate these over-voltages can be rapidly mitigated through the use of over-voltage tripping of capacitor banks specified for installation at the various PODs for large data center loads.
4. There are no voltage stability or real power oscillation issues involved with Redacted, which is thought to be the worst case P7 contingency within the study area.
5. There are no expected frequency response issues associated with load rejection. Frequency remains well within the 60.4 Hz criteria utilized within the ERCOT Interconnection with loss up to 397 MW during summer peak and loss up to 234 MW during off-peak at the Project site.
6. It will be necessary to conduct similar stability simulations at higher aggregate data center load levels, ultimately at the total requested load level, as TNMP and other TSPs develop system upgrade projects that allow for operation at load levels beyond the limits identified in this study.

2 Introduction

In June 2021, Priority Power Management, LLC (Customer) entered into an agreement with TNMP to study the impact of providing transmission service to their proposed bitcoin mine data center facility in Ward County, TX (referred to herein as Project). The Customer has estimated the electrical demand of the Project to be 700 MW (Load Addition). The Customer's proposed location for the Project is adjacent to TNMP's Cedarvale substation, so the transmission point of delivery (POD) for the Project will be located at Cedarvale substation. The Customer has requested a July 2022 in-service date for the POD.

TNMP processed one other request for transmission service to a large load just prior to receiving the request for the Load Addition and processed two other requests for transmission service to large loads in parallel with the Load Addition, totaling 730 MW not including the Load Addition, planned within the same general area of TNMP's West Texas transmission system as that of the proposed location for the Load Addition. The ramp schedule provided by the customer for the Load Addition in the context of the aggregate of ramp schedules provided for the other three requests for transmission service as well as aggregate of commitments to serve new distribution load within the area is detailed in Table 2-1.

2.1 Study Purpose, Composition, and Scope

It was required for this study to consider a total new load of 1.621 GW (921 MW load studied either just prior to or in parallel with the Load Addition¹ + 700 MW Load Addition) (herein referred to as Total Load Addition).

2.1.1 Study Purpose

The first purpose of this study is to evaluate the reliability impact of the Total Load Addition on the interconnected transmission system. In that regard, the focus is on the following:

1. Recommend solutions to address loading and voltage problems within the TNMP-owned transmission network that are identified to be attributed to or compounded by the Total Load Addition.
2. Provide supporting documentation for coordinating and communicating with other transmission owners on any loading and voltage problems external to the TNMP-owned transmission network that are identified to be attributed to or compounded by the Total Load Addition.

The second purpose of this study is to identify load ramp limits associated with the Load Addition that are applicable in the interim before system improvement projects are in place to accommodate the full Load Addition.

2.1.2 Study Composition

To identify loading and voltage problems attributed to or compounded by the Total Load Addition and load ramp limits associated with the Load Addition, steady state studies were conducted with the Total Load Addition at projected ramp schedules to evaluate system performance under both normal and contingency conditions.

2.1.3 Study Scope

The normal methodology for conducting a steady state study for a new end-user load request is to simulate the full set of pertinent NERC TPL-001 planning events, pertinent ERCOT-1 contingencies, and pertinent contingencies defined in Section 4 of the ERCOT Planning Guide using benchmark cases (cases without the Load Addition and only planned system upgrades that have previously been tested through simulation and previously committed for capital expenditure) and change cases (case with the Load Addition and, again, only planned system upgrades that have previously been tested through simulation and previously committed for capital expenditure). TNMP's West Texas transmission system and the wider area currently has a fair amount of available capacity, and the few currently planned system upgrades enhance that available capacity. However, the Total Load Addition far outstrips available capacity (both current and planned capacity). As a consequence, there are three aspects of the normal study methodology that make it unworkable for this large load study:

1. First, plugging 1.621 GW into a relatively small part of the system in a power flow case is guaranteed to result in an unsolved case when attempting to solve for contingencies, if not when attempting to solve for normal system conditions, making it indiscernible what specific loading and voltage problems are occurring because of the Total Load Addition. Therefore, the study approach must be to break the total load being studied into manageable portions that will yield coherent load flow solutions, study each portion sequentially in a sequence that makes sense (e.g., pursuant to the priority established by the request queue), and develop/test viable system upgrades as needed along the way that allow for coherent load flow solutions throughout the sequence of adding load portions.

2. Second, even with the approach described above for incrementally adding load to the cases and developing/testing system upgrades as needed to maintain coherent load flow solutions as more load portions are added, it is not practical to simulate the full set of pertinent NERC TPL-001 planning events during this portion of the study process. Doing so would unnecessarily slow the study process down to an unacceptable pace. To keep the study moving forward as fast as possible while producing study results that are critical for identifying both system upgrade projects and interim end-user load limits applicable before upgrade projects are constructed, the set of contingencies used for this portion of the study are limited to those contingencies where non-consequential load loss is not allowed either by the NERC TPL-001 standard or by ERCOT requirements. The set of contingencies used in this portion of the study are therefore:
 - a. P0
 - b. P1
 - c. P3
 - d. P7/ERCOT-1
 - e. The set of contingencies outlined in Section 4 of the ERCOT Planning Guide
3. Third, the normal study methodology does not generally require any special mechanism outside of simple manual load scaling with manual AC solutions to identify interim end-user load limits applicable prior to construction of system upgrade projects. Due to the magnitude of the load being analyzed in this study and the large quantity of system upgrades needed at intermediate points in time as the load ramps up, a more sophisticated approach is required such as use of tools that calculate incremental transfer limits to shorten the study time to a reasonable timeframe.

Considering the aspects of this study described above, the scope of this study includes the following steady state components:

1. Identify system upgrades needed to serve the Total Load Addition while maintaining a secure system for P0, P1, P3, P7/ERCOT-1, and ERCOT PG4 operating conditions. The goal here is to identify:
 - a. System upgrade projects necessary to accommodate the Total Load Addition that could feasibly be completed within a two-year timeframe. These are more likely to be projects that are limited in scope to TNMP-owned facilities and do not require ERCOT Regional Planning Group (RPG) endorsement (i.e., neutral and Tier 4 projects as defined in Section 3.11.4 of the ERCOT Protocols).
 - b. Preliminary indications for system upgrade projects necessary to accommodate the Total Load Addition that would likely take more than two years to complete. These are less straight-forward system upgrade concepts that require further study outside the scope of this study and will likely be larger scale and longer lead projects that require RPG endorsement.
2. Identify interim load limits applicable to the Load Addition associated with P0, P1, P3, P7/ERCOT-1, and ERCOT PG4 operating conditions before the system upgrades identified above in Item #1 are implemented.

3. Screen for potential cascading events that would be triggered by selected P2/P4, P5, and P6 events within the timeframe before the large-scale projects identified above in Item 1a are implemented (years 2022 and 2023) and at the interim load limits identified above in item #2.

Because TNMP anticipates the Total Load Addition will have an impact on the performance of the far West Texas system from a stability perspective (i.e., voltage stability, frequency overshoot, and/or power system swings), the scope of this study also includes stability simulations at load levels consistent with the interim load limits identified from the steady state portion of this study. The goal of these simulations is to identify any stability concerns assuming the following about the study system:

1. All system upgrades identified above in Item #1a are in place.
2. None of the conceptual projects identified above in Item #1b are in place.

The following are not within the scope of this study:

1. Studying system response to P2/P4, P5, and P6 events in longer range time-frames where large scale/long lead projects are expected to be identified to address system performance issues. These operating scenarios will be studied during TNMP's annual system assessment processes.
2. Confirming acceptable system stability performance at the Total Load Addition load level is not within the scope of this study. This level of study will be conducted at a later time as TNMP and neighboring transmission owners further develop larger scale system upgrade projects that allow for full accommodation of the Total Load Addition under the operating conditions simulated in this study.

3 Model Data

3.1 Steady State Data

3.1.1 Steady State Starting Cases

TNMP used the following ERCOT SSWG base cases, all dated February 2022, as a starting point for the most recent steady state simulations conducted for this study.

1. 2022 summer peak
2. 2022 summer off-peak
3. 2023 summer peak
4. 2024 summer peak
5. 2025 summer peak
6. 2025 minimum load

3.1.2 Steady State Benchmark Cases

Notable revisions applied to the starting cases to derive the benchmark cases include the following²:

1. Applied all off-cycle IDEVs dated through 5/4/22.
2. Various circuit impedance and rating corrections.

² Note – All battery energy storage facilities modeled within the study area were left out-of-service within all cases used for this study.

3. Various load adjustments to maintain consistency with latest load forecasting.

3.1.3 Steady State Change Cases

Notable revisions applied to the benchmark cases to derive the change cases include addition of the following for each of the nine end-user load requests comprising the Total Load Addition.

1. A new 138 kV bitcoin customer bus
2. A load set at 0.0 MW and 0.0 MVAR
3. A continuously controlled switched shunt set to control voltage at the benchmark P0 voltage of the corresponding TNMP POD station.
4. A zero-impedance branch between the bitcoin customer bus and corresponding TNMP POD station.

Numerous change cases were created to determine both (1) system upgrades needed to accommodate the eight end-user load requests and (2) load ramp limits that would be applicable on an interim basis before system upgrades are in place.

For all change cases, generation outside of the study area was scaled up to maintain the swing generator within its real power limit.

3.2 Stability Data

3.2.1 Stability Starting Case

TNMP used the 2024 summer peak and 2025 HWLL cases from the DWG 2022 flat start set dated 1/28/22 as a starting point for the most recent stability simulations conducted for this study.

3.2.2 Stability Benchmark Case

Notable revisions applied to both the 2024 summer peak and 2025 HWLL starting cases to derive the benchmark cases include the following:

1. Added four Tier 4 projects identified from the steady state study to be necessary for accommodating the Total Load Addition. These include:
 - a. Upgrade the TNMP Wink – All American – Monument Draw – Cholla 138 kV line sections to 3000 Ampere.
 - b. Cut the TNMP Wink – Bone Springs Tap 138 kV line section into the TNMP Cholla 138 kV station.
 - c. Upgrade the TNMP Wink – Cholla 138 kV line to 3000 Ampere.
 - d. Upgrade TNMP Wink – Oncor Wink 138 kV line #2 to 3000 Ampere.
2. Added the currently planned TNMP 138 kV stations Girvin, Holiday, and Alamo Street stations that will be within the study area.
3. Closed the Leon Creek – Tarbush 138 kV line.
4. TNMP utilized its own dynamic load models for the stability analysis (all PSSE CMLD models).

3.2.3 Stability Change Case

Notable revisions applied to the benchmark cases to derive the change cases include addition of the following for each of the four end-user load requests comprising the Total Load Addition.

1. A new 138 kV bitcoin customer bus
2. A load set at the limit identified in the steady state study to correspond with the applicable stability case (2024 summer peak and 2025 HWLL).
3. A discrete controlled switched shunt located at the POD and set at a susceptance capability identified from the steady state study.
4. A zero-impedance branch between the bitcoin customer bus and corresponding TNMP POD station.
5. UVLS relay modeled at the corresponding POD.
6. Overvoltage tripping relay for the switched shunt listed above in Item 3.
7. CMLD model representing a data center load

1. 397 MW (Total Load Addition set at 1318 MW) in the 2024 summer peak case.
2. 234 MW (Total Load Addition set at 1023 MW) in the 2025 HWLL case.

For all change case versions, generation outside of the study area was scaled up to maintain the swing generator within its real power limit.

4.1 Steady State Study Methodology

TNMP performed steady state simulations using the cases described in Section 3. For the first part of the study designed to identify upgrade projects and associated interim Project load limits, these simulations include the following operating scenarios within and adjacent to TNMP's West Texas North system.

1. P0
2. P1
3. P3
4. P7/ERCOT-1
5. The set of contingencies outlined in Section 4 of the ERCOT Planning Guide

Circuit loading within TNMP's West Texas North system and the surrounding ONCOR and AEP transmission systems were monitored and assessed according to the steady state planning criteria outlined in Section 5. Bus voltages within the TNMP West Texas North system were monitored and assessed according to the steady state planning criteria outlined in Section 5.

During the steady state study process, TNMP tested various system upgrade solutions for resolving thermal loading constraints observed within the TNMP transmission system. Additionally, TNMP tested the stage 2 Upgrade project (345-kV double circuit line from Bearkat to North McCamey to Sand Lake) identified from the ERCOT Delaware Basin Load Integration study against numerous constraints identified external to TNMP affecting Oncor-owned transmission lines.

Lastly, TNMP simulated selected P2/P4, P5, and P6 events to test system performance at the various interim Project load limits. The specific P2/P4, P5, and P6 events that were simulated along with the selection rationale are documented below in Table 4-1.

Table 4-1: P2/P4, P5, and P6 Events Simulated at Various Project Load Limits

| Category | Event Description | Selection Rationale |
| P2/P4 | Internal fault or failure of IH20 breaker 138-187, which takes out (a) IH20 – Elm Street 138 kV and (b) IH20 – Salt Draw – Saddleback 138 kV. | IH20 is one of the two “hub” stations within the immediate study area where multiple network elements terminate. This event is thought to be the worst P2/P4 at IH20 station. |
| P2/P4 | Internal fault or failure of Cedarvale breaker 139-257, which takes out (a) Cedarvale – Sand Lake 138 kV line #1 and (b) Cedarvale - Pecos 138 kV line #1. | Cedarvale is one of the two “hub” stations within the immediate study area where multiple network elements terminate. This event is thought to be the worst P2/P4 at Cedarvale station. |
| P5 | Failure of a non-redundant relay protecting one of the two 138 kV buses at AEP Pig Creek station. Results in remote tripping all 138 kV lines terminated at Pig Creek. | The only known P5 within the immediate study area. |
| P6 | All N-1-1 permutations of the following list of 138 kV circuits: (1) Wink – All American Pipeline – Monument Draw – Fishhook (2) Wink – Fishhook (3) Cedarvale – Sand Lake #1 (4) Cedarvale – Sand Lake #2 (5) Wickett – Staghorn (6) Flat Top - Foxtail | All listed lines are network feeds into the study area. Previous steady state studies show these lines to be loaded the heaviest when combinations of two other circuits in the list are out of service and the worst-case P6 conditions to consider. |

4.2 Stability Study Methodology

To identify any adverse impacts to study area voltage stability, power system swings, and system frequency overshoot, TNMP performed stability simulations of the events listed below in Table 4-2.

Table 4-2: Events for Stability Simulations

| Category | Fault Type | Event Description | Selection Rationale |
|----------|------------|-------------------|---------------------|
| Redacted | | | |

The following output channels were monitored and assessed according to the stability planning criteria outlined in Section 5:

1. Rotor angles for all online synchronous machines within the ERCOT Interconnection.
2. Bus voltages for all TNMP far West Texas transmission buses.
3. Bus voltages for key far West Texas 345 kV stations.
4. Real power flows on the following 345 kV lines (for the P7.1 event only):
 - a. Redacted
 - b. Redacted
 - c. Redacted
5. Frequency at the Comanche Peak 345 kV bus.

5.2 Stability Planning Criteria

The following stability planning criteria were applied in the analysis:

1. Bus voltages should recover to at least 90% of pre-disturbance voltage within five (5) seconds after clearing the fault, or after inception of the event for the scenario where no fault occurs.
2. Post-disturbance frequency should remain below 60.4 Hz.
3. Power oscillations should decay with a minimum of 3% damping ratio.

6 Assumptions

1. All battery energy storage facilities within the study area are offline.
2. All proposed bitcoin end-user facilities will ramp at the schedules provided to TNMP.

³ ERCOT-1 events are defined in Table 1 of Section 4 in the ERCOT Planning Guide.

⁴ The NERC Category P7.1 event is equivalent to the ERCOT-1 event defined in Table 1 of Section 4 of the ERCOT Planning Guide, which does not allow for non-consequential load loss.

3. Although the data center loads considered in this study will likely operate at a power factor somewhat better than 0.95 lagging, the conservative approach taken in this study assumes all new data center loads will operate at worst case 0.95 lagging power factor.
4. Adequate resources within the ERCOT Interconnection will be available to meet data center ramp schedules as forecasted in Table 2-1.
5. No other significantly large loads are planned within the Oncor or AEP transmission systems within the study area.
6. Application of UVLS at bitcoin sites will utilize a trip delay of 30 seconds.
7. Existing industrial motor loads within TNMP's West Texas transmission system have protection settings such that motor load trips on undervoltage conditions after the 30 second timeframe for UVLS protection, which is the most conservative assumption.

7 Study Results

7.1 Summary of Steady State Results

7.1.1 Identified System Upgrades and Project Load Limits

The steady state results indicate a total of 480 MVAR static reactive support will be needed at the POD to maintain healthy transmission voltages in the study area. The reactive support will need to be divided into multiple stages to provide for acceptable post-switching voltage differential. Simulations indicate switching 120 MVAR at the POD with the Load Addition interconnected results in 1% post-switching voltage delta during peak load conditions and 1.19% post-contingency voltage delta for off-peak conditions. Therefore, four blocks of 120 MVAR will suffice.

System improvement projects needed to serve the Load Addition and corresponding load limits are summarized below in Table 7-1. It is important to note the limits are based on a snapshot in time simulations and do not intend to provide any insight into the hourly performance of the proposed load and the congestion/curtailment risks therein.

 The reason this limit is significantly higher than zero in the 2025 Off-Peak case (a zero limit was observed in the 2022 Off-Peak case as shown in this table) is believed to be the presence of Oncor's Consavvy 345-138 kV switching station that loops several 345 kV and 138 kV lines together in the Odessa area. The in-service date for this project is currently set at December 2022. See the RPG submittal "Oncor Consavvy 345/138 kV Switch Project" for detailed information.

7.2 Steady State Results Discussion

Local TNMP Area Thermal Loading Issues

The Project contributes to post-contingency overload of the following 138 kV lines between Cedarvale and Wink stations:

1. Wink – All American – Monument Draw – Cholla
2. Cedarvale – Mi Vida
3. Mi Vida – Cholla

TNMP's plan to address these issues is to:

1. Cut the Wink – Bone Springs 138 kV line section into the Cholla station. Estimated in-service date of 12/1/22.
2. Upgrade the Wink – All American – Monument Draw – Cholla 138 kV line to 3000 Ampere. Estimated in-service date of 6/1/23.
3. Upgrade the Wink – Cholla section of the cut-in from item 2 above to 3000 Ampere. Estimated in-service date of 3/1/23.

In the interim before a system upgrade project is in place, the Project is subject to a limit as low as 170 MW in anticipation of the next X-1, ERCOT-1 contingency.

As the Total Load Addition ramps upward, the Project is the primary contributor to significant constraints associated with the interconnection between Oncor Sand Lake station and TNMP Cedarvale station. These constraints appear as P1.2/P2.1 overloads of the two Cedarvale – Sand Lake 138 kV lines and P1.3 overloads of the two Sand Lake 345-138 kV transformers as the Total Load Addition ramps higher. TNMP's plan to address these issues is to implement a 345 kV interconnection at the TNMP Cedarvale station. Two options for accomplishing this are:

1. Construct a double circuit 345 kV line from Oncor Sand Lake to a new 345 kV Cedarvale switchyard, or
2. For the future double circuit North McCamey – Sand Lake 345 kV component of the proposed Stage 2 upgrade identified in the Delaware Basin Load Integration study, cut both North McCamey – Sand Lake 345 kV lines into a new 345 kV Cedarvale switchyard.

With either of the above two options, TNMP's studies indicate two 345-138 kV transformers will be needed at Cedarvale to accommodate the full build out of the Total Load Addition. This is a major system upgrade that will require RPG review and endorsement. TNMP estimates the earliest this project can be implemented is late 2024. In the interim before a system upgrade project is in place, the Project is subject to a limit as low as 397 MW in anticipation of the next X-1, ERCOT-1 contingency.

Local TNMP Area Voltage Issues

To maintain P0 voltages at benchmark levels, simulations indicate a total of 480 MVAR reactive support will be needed at the POD in four stages of 120 MVAR.

Wide Area Thermal Loading Issues

The three 345-138 kV transformers at Oncor's Odessa switching station are post-contingency overloaded in the 2022 Off-Peak benchmark case, meaning the Project will be limited to zero in the Off-Peak scenarios (at night when local solar plants are unavailable) until the appropriate upgrade project is put in place to address the post-contingency overloads. The specific contingencies that result in the overloads are X-1 loss of one Odessa 345-138 kV transformer followed by ERCOT-1 loss of Odessa – Moss 345 kV and Odessa – Wolf 345 kV.

This set of post-contingency overloads will apparently be resolved by Oncor's planned Consavvy 345-138 kV switching station project, currently projected to be in-service by December 2022.

Even with the Consavvy 345-138 kV switching station project, the Project imposes post-contingency overloads of 345-138 kV transformer #2 at Oncor's Odessa switching station and underlying 138 kV network as the Project ramps above 234 MW during the Off-Peak scenario when local solar plants are unavailable. The specific contingencies that result in the overloads are X-1 loss of Odessa 345-138 kV transformer #1 or #3 followed by ERCOT-1 loss of Odessa – Moss 345 kV and Odessa – Wolf 345 kV.

This set of constraints are remedied by the Stage 2 Upgrade identified from the Delaware Basin Load Integration study, currently slated for an in-service date of June 2026.

Post-contingency overload of Oncor's Wolf – Moss 138 kV line is expected during peak loading conditions as the Project ramps above 397 MW toward the end of summer 2023. This constraint will be resolved after Oncor rebuilds the Wolf – Moss 138 kV line, currently slated to be completed in December 2023.

Lastly, the Project imposes post-contingency overloads of 345-138 kV transformer #2 at Oncor's Odessa switching station and underlying 138 kV network as the Project ramps above 397 MW during peak loading conditions. The specific contingencies that result in the overloads are X-1 loss of Odessa 345-138 kV transformer #1 or #3 followed by ERCOT-1 loss of Odessa – Moss 345 kV and Odessa – Wolf 345 kV.

This set of constraints are remedied by the Stage 2 Upgrade identified from the Delaware Basin Load Integration study, currently slated for an in-service date of June 2026.

7.3 Stability Results Summary

The following stability simulation plots are provided in the appendices of this report:

1. Appendix A – Rotor angle, bus voltage, and frequency response for Redacted. 2024 summer peak case.
2. Appendix B – Rotor angle, bus voltage, real power swings across Redacted, and frequency response for Redacted. 2024 summer peak case.

3. Appendix C – Rotor angle, bus voltage, and frequency response for Redacted. 2025 high wind/low load case.
4. Appendix D – Rotor angle, bus voltage, real power swings across Redacted, and frequency response for Redacted. 2025 high wind/low load case.

7.4 Stability Results Discussion

None of the stability simulations indicate any system performance issues with the Project operating at a load level of 397 MW (Total Load Addition operating at 1318 MW) in the 2024 summer peak case nor with the Project operating at a load level of 234 MW (Total Load Addition set at 1023 MW) in the 2025 HWLL case. Key takeaways are:

1. No angular stability issues were observed.
2. The simulations indicate introduction of large load data centers within the study area significantly worsen system low voltages that occur post-fault due to stalling of native industrial motors and will require installation of UVLS at the POD of each large load data center.
3. Due to the large amount of static reactive support required at the Project POD and at the other eight large load PODs included in this study, over-voltages within the study area can occur during load rejection scenarios depending on the magnitude of load loss. The magnitude of the load loss is a function of the transmission voltages during a system event and the timing of tripping native industrial motor load during undervoltage/stalled motor conditions versus timing of UVLS tripping of large data center loads during those events.

The simulations conducted in this study indicate a more favorable scenario, at least at the load levels simulated in this study, is when native industrial motor load trips faster than the 35 cycle timeframe TNMP would need to use for UVLS tripping of large data center loads (30 cycle delay plus 3 to 5 cycle breaker time). In this scenario, the simulations indicate fast tripping of stalled motors corrects transmission voltages enough to preclude UVLS tripping of some or all large data center loads.

On the other hand, the simulations indicate the worst-case scenario for maximum load loss would be where large data center loads trip offline via UVLS before or concurrently with motor protection significantly removing stalled motors from the system. The simulations show these over-voltages can get very high. Nonetheless, the simulations indicate these over-voltages can be mitigated in an automatic manner with over-voltage tripping of the static reactive support. This is demonstrated in the voltage plots provided in Appendices A and C.

4. There are no voltage stability or real power oscillation issues involved with Redacted, which is thought to be the worst case P7 contingency within the study area.
5. There are no expected frequency response issues associated with load rejection. Frequency remains well within the 60.4 Hz criteria utilized within the ERCOT Interconnection with loss up to 397 MW during summer peak and loss up to 234 MW during off-peak at the Project site.
6. It will be necessary to conduct similar stability simulations at higher aggregate data center load levels, ultimately at the Total Load Addition, as TNMP and other TSPs develop system upgrade projects that allow for operation at load levels beyond the limits identified in this study.

8 Conclusions

The steady state results indicate a total of 480 MVAR static reactive support, in four blocks of 120 MVAR, will be needed at the POD to maintain healthy transmission voltages.

The steady state results indicate numerous transmission system upgrades are needed to accommodate the Total Load Addition. Corresponding load limits have been identified as part of the study process. It is important to note the limits presented in this study are based on a snapshot in time simulations and do not intend to provide any insight into the hourly performance of the proposed load and the congestion/curtailment risks therein.

System improvements needed within TNMP's transmission system to accommodate the Total Load Addition, estimated timing of those projects, and associated most constraining Project load limit are summarized below in Table 8-1.

| System Improvement | Estimated Timing | Project Load Limit (MW) | Day/Night Constraint |
|---|------------------|-------------------------|----------------------|
| Cut Wink – Bone Springs 138 kV line into Cholla station | 12/1/22 | 170 | Day |

| Cut Wink – Bone Springs 138 kV line into Cholla station | 12/1/22 | 173 | Night |
| Upgrade Wink – All American – Monument Draw – Cholla 138 kV line to 3000 Ampere | 6/1/23 | 237 | Both |
| Oncor to upgrade Wolf – Moss 138 kV line | Dec 2023 | 397 | Day |
| 345 kV interconnection at Cedarvale | Mid 2025 | 397 | Both |
| Bearkat – North McCamey – Cedarvale/Sand Lake 345 kV double circuit line | Jun 2026 | 397 | Day |
| Bearkat – North McCamey – Cedarvale/Sand Lake 345 kV double circuit line | Jun 2026 | 234 | Night |

TNMP performed stability simulations of (1) load reject scenario involving the Project load and (2) the critical most contingency identified from previous steady state analyses to result in post-contingency voltage collapse within the far West Texas system at higher load levels than were simulated in this study. The stability simulations were performed for the peak and off-peak scenarios with all minor system upgrades but none of the RPG level system upgrades identified from the steady state analysis. The Project load was set at 397 MW (Total Load Addition operating at 1318 MW) in the 2024 summer peak case and at a load level of 234 MW (Total Load Addition set at 1023 MW) in the 2025 HWLL case. UVLS was simulated at each of the four PODs serving the proposed end-user facilities. Conclusions from the stability analysis are as follows:

1. No angular stability issues were observed.
2. The simulations indicate introduction of large load data centers within the study area significantly worsen system low voltages that occur post-fault due to stalling of native industrial motors and will require installation of UVLS at the POD of each large load data center.
3. Significant over-voltages can occur depending on the timing of tripping stalled motors at the various industrial load sites within TNMP's West Texas systems during undervoltage conditions versus the timing of UVLS tripping for large data center loads. However, the simulations indicate these over-voltages can be rapidly mitigated through the use of over-voltage tripping of capacitor banks specified for installation at the various PODs for large data center loads.

4. There are no voltage stability or real power oscillation issues involved with Redacted, which is thought to be the worst case P7 contingency within the study area.
5. There are no expected frequency response issues associated with load rejection. Frequency remains well within the 60.4 Hz criteria utilized within the ERCOT Interconnection with loss up to 397 MW during summer peak and loss up to 234 MW during off-peak at the Project site.
6. It will be necessary to conduct similar stability simulations at higher aggregate data center load levels, ultimately at the Total Load Addition, as TNMP and other TSPs develop system upgrade projects that allow for operation at load levels beyond the limits identified in this study.

The first cap bank is ready and is being prepared to be switched in this evening.

Vincent is following up with ercot on their study review. Seems like everyone was tied up in the LFLTF meeting today so it may be tomorrow before we get their latest feedback.

We were not.

The remaining issue is Ercot's reluctance to TSPs using Under Voltage Load Shedding (UVLS) for large load customers to solve voltage collapse upon contingency like we would with all other loads across the system.

Because they wont allow the use of UVLS for the time being, we are having to re-run load limits to ensure we can solve contingencies without the use of UVLS which has become tedious.

We are pushing to wrap up that analysis today and get the supporting documentation over to ERCOT so they can finalize their review.

As a follow up to Tyler's email below I also want to check in on the status of the cap bank project. Just looking for a status update. Are you still on track for the first cap bank to be complete by 9/19?

Thanks
Carol

Chris,

ERCOT indicated that they are waiting on TNMP to update the ramp schedule in Section 8.1 of the studies that were submitted for Core so that they can approve capacity. Can you please send them that today? If not today, when can you commit to having this over to them as it seems to be a pretty straight forward ask per Bill Belvins.

We are at the cusp of capacity approvals, and are begging for TNMP's support in getting them the info they need to finalize. Thank you in advance.

Thank you,

- 3.3 The Parties understand and agree that the applicable prices of the Product(s) are inclusive of applicable bank transaction fee, but are exclusive of any and all applicable import duties, taxes and governmental charges. The Purchaser shall pay or reimburse Bitmain for all taxes levied on or assessed against the amounts payable hereunder. If any payment is subject to withholding, the Purchaser shall pay such additional amounts as necessary, to ensure that Bitmain receives the full amount it would have received had payment not been subject to such withholding.

4.1. Discount amount.

- 4.1.1. The Products under this Agreement consists of 12 batches and the discount amount of each batch shall be calculated separately.

The number of months prepaid shall be calculated from the month of payment without counting the month of delivery. The prepayment date shall be the date as evidenced in the remittance copy of such payment. Discount amount shall be calculated when the respective amounts have been received by Bitmain in full according to the agreed payment schedule. Different clients may have different payment schedules. No discount amount shall be calculated on the remaining amount.

- 4.1.3. If the Purchaser fails to make the payments on time, the discount applicable to such batch shall be cancelled.

4.2. Application of discount amount.

The discount amount shall be applied in terms of the delivery of more rated hashrate, which shall be calculated with reference to the price/T of such batch of Products.

5. Shipping of Product(s)

- 5.1. Bitmain shall deliver the Products in accordance with the shipping schedule to the first carrier or the carrier designated by the Purchaser.

- 5.2. Once the Product(s) have been delivered to the carrier, Bitmain shall have fulfilled its obligation to supply the Product(s) to the Purchaser, and the title and risk of loss or damage to the Product(s) shall pass to the Purchaser.

In the event of any discrepancy between this Agreement and Bitmain's cargo insurance policy regarding the insurance coverage, the then effective Bitmain cargo insurance policy shall prevail, and Bitmain shall be required to provide the then effective insurance coverage to the Purchaser.

- 5.3. If Bitmain fails to deliver the Products after 30 days after the prescribed deadline, the Purchaser shall be entitled to cancel the Order of such batch of Products and request Bitmain to refund the price of such undelivered batch of Products together with an interest at 0.0333% per day for the period from the next day of the full payment of the price of such batch of Products to the date immediately prior to the request. In the event that the Purchaser does not cancel the Order of the undelivered batch of Products and requests Bitmain to perform its delivery obligation, Bitmain shall continue to perform its delivery obligation and compensate the Purchaser in accordance with Article 5.4 of this Agreement.
- 5.4. If Bitmain postpones the shipping schedule of the Products and the Purchaser does not cancel the Order, Bitmain shall make a compensation to the Purchaser, the amount of which shall equal to 0.0333% of the price of such undelivered batch of Products, which compensation shall be made in the form of delivery of more rated hashrate. Amount less than one unit of Product shall be credited to the balance of the Purchaser in the user system on Bitmain's official website, which shall be viewable by the Purchaser.
- 5.5. There are 12 batches of Products under this Agreement and each batch shall constitute independent legal obligations of and shall be performed separately by the Parties. The delay of a particular batch shall not constitute waiver of the payment obligation of the Purchaser in respect of other batches. The Purchaser shall not be entitled to terminate this Agreement solely on the ground of delay of delivery of a single batch of Products.
- 5.6. Logistics costs shall be borne by the Purchaser. Bitmain may collect payments on behalf of the service providers and issue service invoices.
- 5.7. Bitmain shall not be responsible for any delivery delay caused by the Purchaser or any third party, including but not limited to the carrier, the customs, and the import brokers, nor shall it be liable for damages, whether direct, indirect, incidental, consequential, or otherwise, for any failure, delay or error in delivery of any Product(s) for any reason whatsoever.
- 5.8. Bitmain shall not be responsible and the Purchaser shall be fully and exclusively responsible for any loss of Product(s), personal injury, property damage, other damage or liability caused by the Product(s) or the transportation of the Product(s) either to the Purchaser or any third party, or theft of the Product(s) during transportation from Bitmain to the Purchaser.
- 5.9. Bitmain has the right to discontinue the sale of the Product(s) and to make changes to its Product(s) at any time, without prior approval from or notice to the Purchaser.

- 5.10. If the Product(s) is rejected and/or returned back to Bitmain because of any reason and regardless of the cause of such delivery failure, the Purchaser shall be solely and exclusively liable for and shall defend, fully indemnify and hold harmless Bitmain against any and all related expenses, fees, charges and costs incurred, arising out of or incidental to such rejection and/or return (the "Return Expense"). Furthermore, if the Purchaser would like to ask for Bitmain's assistance in redelivering such Product(s) or assist in any other manner, and if Bitmain at its sole discretion decides to provide this assistance, then in addition to the Return Expense, the Purchaser shall also pay Bitmain an administrative fee in accordance with Bitmain's then applicable internal policy.
- 5.11. If the Purchaser fails to provide Bitmain with the delivery place or the delivery place provided by the Purchaser is a false address or does not exist, any related costs occurred (including storage costs, warehousing charge and labor costs) shall be borne by the Purchaser. Bitmain may issue the Purchaser a notice of self-pick-up and ask the Purchaser to pick up the Products itself. Bitmain shall be deemed to have completed the delivery obligation under this Agreement after two (2) business days following the issue of the self-pick-up notice. After 30 days of the self-pick-up notice, the Purchaser shall be entitled to deal with the Products in any manner as it deems appropriate.

6. Customs

- 6.1. Bitmain shall obtain in due time and maintain throughout the term of this Agreement (if applicable), any and all approvals, permits, authorizations, licenses and clearances for the export of the Product(s) that are required to be obtained by Bitmain or the carrier under Applicable Laws.
- 6.2. 7. Warranty

- 7.1. The Warranty Period shall start on the Warranty Start Date and end on the 365th day after the Warranty Start Date. - (ii) damage resulting from accident, abuse, misuse, neglect, improper handling or improper installation;
- (iii) damage or loss of the Product(s) caused by undue physical or electrical stress, including but not limited to moisture, corrosive environments, high voltage surges, extreme temperatures, shipping, or abnormal working conditions;

- 3.3 The Total Purchase Price set forth in this Agreement is merely an estimate of the price and not the actual price. The actual price will be determined [one] month before the current batch is shipped and with reference to the market circumstances, provided that the actual price shall not be higher than the estimated price.
- 3.4 Upon receipt of notification of the actual price provided by Bitmain, the Purchaser shall be entitled to three options:

- 3.5 The Parties understand and agree that the applicable prices of the Product(s) are inclusive of applicable bank transaction fee, but are exclusive of any and all applicable import duties, taxes and governmental charges. The Purchaser shall pay or reimburse Bitmain for all taxes levied on or assessed against the amounts payable hereunder. If any payment is subject to withholding, the Purchaser shall pay such additional amounts as necessary, to ensure that Bitmain receives the full amount it would have received had payment not been subject to such withholding.

- 3.3 The Total Purchase Price set forth in this Agreement is merely an estimate of the price and not the actual price. The actual price will be determined [one] month before the current batch is shipped and with reference to the market circumstances, provided that the actual price shall not be higher than the estimated price.
- 3.4 Upon receipt of notification of the actual price provided by Bitmain, the Purchaser shall be entitled to three options:

- 3.5 The Parties understand and agree that the applicable prices of the Product(s) are inclusive of applicable bank transaction fee, but are exclusive of any and all applicable import duties, taxes and governmental charges. The Purchaser shall pay or reimburse Bitmain for all taxes levied on or assessed against the amounts payable hereunder. Adjustment

The base demand and energy charges shall be increased or decreased in accordance with the current Adjustment Addendum published by TVA. A resource cost allocation (RCA) methodology based on historical sales and fuel cost data will be applied to allocate amounts calculated under any Fuel Cost Adjustment (FCA) in the Adjustment Addendum in the manner described below.

The RCA methodology allocates a different percentage of total eligible fuel costs to (a) all distributor-served and directly served customers with contract demands greater than 5,000 kW served under manufacturing-designated rate schedules (LMS Customers), (b) all distributor-served and directly served customers with contract demands greater than 5,000 kW not served under manufacturing-designated rate schedules (LGS Customers), and (c) all other customers (All Other Customers).

The RCA methodology allocates total fuel costs in proportion to the average hourly load of LMS Customers, LGS Customers, and All Other Customers, weighted by the dispatch cost of TVA's Top 100 MW of incremental cost, in each hour, using the following formula:

$$RCA_j = \left(\frac{\sum_i h_{ij} C_i}{\sum_i \sum_j h_{ij} C_i} \right) \times FA$$

where RCA_j is the RCA allocation for customer group: LMS Customers, LGS Customers, or All Other Customers

h_{ij} is the hourly energy of each customer group

C_i is the Top Cost (dispatch cost for the top 100 MW)

i is the hourly interval of the billing month,

j is the customer group : LMS Customers, LGS Customers, or All Other Customers

FA is the actual monthly fuel and purchased power expenses as used in any FCA as reflected in the Adjustment Addendum

Any FCA included in the Adjustment Addendum shall provide for TVA's estimated monthly fuel costs (estimated actual total fuel and purchased power expenses/estimated actual energy sales) to be adjusted based on the application of Seasonal Amounts set out below. To determine the Seasonal Amounts, using the above formula, TVA calculated an RCA allocation percentage for the Seasonal Periods set out in these rate schedules based on data from August 2011 through July 2017 (excluding the month of January 2014). The resulting percentage was applied to actual monthly fuel costs during each of the Seasonal Periods and divided by actual energy sales to obtain the following amounts:

|-----------------|------------------|------------------|---------------------|
| Summer | -0.096 ¢ per kWh | -0.062 ¢ per kWh | 0.027 ¢ per kWh |
| Winter | -0.046 ¢ per kWh | -0.038 ¢ per kWh | 0.014 ¢ per kWh |
| Transition | -0.044 ¢ per kWh | -0.022 ¢ per kWh | 0.015 ¢ per kWh |

TVA may recalculate the Seasonal Amounts annually based on changes in sales and underlying fuel and purchased power costs within the latest 12-month period ending June 30 or to reflect projected changes in sales and fuel and purchased power costs in the next 12-month period ending June 30, or both. If the recalculated Seasonal Amounts increase or decrease by more than 10%, TVA will change the Seasonal Amounts by providing not less than 60 days' notice to customer. The changed Seasonal Amounts shall be included in any FCA that is included as part of the next effective Adjustment Addendum.

Any FCA included in the Adjustment Addendum shall provide for the RCA formula to be used to reconcile the estimated fuel costs applied to LMS Customers, LGS Customers, or All Other Customers to actual fuel costs and sales.

Loss adjustments are made to the monthly FCA adjustment under the Adjustment Addendum to recognize additional distribution cost of providing service to the retail customers. The loss factors applied to customers that own the transformation facilities and take service at the bulk transmission of 161 kV or higher shall be set to 0%.

In addition, base demand and energy charges shall be increased or decreased to (a) correspond to increases or decreases determined by TVA in the value of the hydro-generation benefit allocated to residential consumers or (b) ensure that (i) TVA does not pay out more in hydro-allocation credits for sales to residential consumers than it receives in hydro-allocation debits for sales to other consumers or (ii) TVA does not receive more in such debits for sales to other consumers than it pays out in such credits for sales to residential consumers. Facilities rental charges and reactive demand charges may also be increased or decreased by TVA, effective with the effective date of any such Adjustment Addendum, to reflect changes in the cost of providing for delivery at voltage levels below 161 kV and of providing reactive power, respectively.

Facilities Rental Charge

There shall be no facilities rental charge under these rate schedules for delivery at bulk transmission voltage levels of 161 kV or higher. For delivery at less than 161 kV, there shall be added to the customer's bill a facilities rental charge. This charge shall be 36¢ per kW per month except for delivery at voltages below 46 kV, in which case the charge shall be 93¢ per kW per month for the first 10,000 kW and 73¢ per kW per month for the excess over 10,000 kW. Such charge shall be applied to the higher of (1) the highest billing demand established during the latest 12-consecutive-month period and (2) the customer's currently effective onpeak or offpeak contract demand, whichever is higher, and shall be in addition to all other charges under these rate schedules, including minimum bill charges.

Reactive Demand Charges

If the reactive demand (in kVAR) is lagging during the 30-consecutive-minute period beginning or ending on a clock hour of the month in which the customer's highest metered demand occurs, there shall be added to the customer's bill a reactive charge of $1.46 per kVAR of the amount, if any, by which the reactive demand exceeds 33 percent of such metered demand. If the reactive demand (in kVAR) is leading during the 30-consecutive-minute period beginning or ending on a clock hour of the month in which the customer's lowest metered demand (excluding any metered demands which are less than 25 percent of the highest metered demand) occurs, there shall be added to the customer's bill a reactive charge of $1.14 per kVAR of the amount of reactive demand. Such charges shall be in addition to all other charges under these rate schedules, including minimum bill charges.

Determination of Seasonal Periods

Summer Period shall mean the June, July, August, and September billing months. Winter Period shall mean the December, January, February, and March billing months. Transition Period shall mean the April, May, October, and November billing months.

Determination of Onpeak and Offpeak Hours

Except for Saturdays, Sundays, November 1, and the weekdays that are observed as Federal holidays for New Year's Day, Memorial Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, Thanksgiving Day, and Christmas Day, Onpeak hours for each day shall for purposes of these rate schedules be from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m. during the months of April, May, June, July, August, September and October and from 4 a.m. to 10 a.m. during the months of January, February, March, November, and December. For all other hours of each day and all hours of such excepted days shall be offpeak hours. Such times shall be Central Standard Time or Central Daylight Time, whichever is then in effect. Said onpeak and offpeak hours are subject to change by TVA. In the event TVA determines that such changed onpeak and offpeak hours are appropriate, it shall so notify customer at least 12 months prior to the effective date of such changed hours.

Determination of Onpeak and Offpeak Demands, Maximum Metered Demand, and Energy Amounts

The onpeak and offpeak kWh for any month shall be the energy amounts taken during the respective hours of the month designated under these rate schedules as onpeak and offpeak hours; provided, however, that notwithstanding the metered energy amount, the offpeak energy for any month shall in no case be less than the product of (1) the offpeak billing demand as calculated in the last paragraph below and (2) 110 hours (reflecting a 15 percent load factor applied to the average number of hours in a month).

TVA shall meter the onpeak and offpeak demands in kW of all customers taking service under these rate schedules. The onpeak metered demand and offpeak metered demand for any month shall be determined separately for the respective hours of the month designated under these rate schedules as onpeak and offpeak hours and, in each case, shall be the highest average during any 30-consecutive-minute period beginning or ending on a clock hour.

Except as provided below, (1) the onpeak billing demand shall be the highest onpeak metered demand in the month, (2) the offpeak billing demand shall be the highest offpeak metered demand in the month, and (3) the maximum billing demand shall be the higher of the onpeak billing demand or offpeak billing demand in the month.

The onpeak billing demand shall in no case be less than the sum of (1) 30 percent of the first 5,000 kW, (2) 40 percent of the next 20,000 kW, (3) 50 percent of the next 25,000 kW, (4) 60 percent of the next 50,000 kW, (5) 70 percent of the next 100,000 kW, (6) 80 percent of the next 150,000 kW, and (7) 85 percent of all kW in excess of 350,000 kW of the higher of the currently effective onpeak contract demand and the highest onpeak billing demand established during the preceding 12 months.

The offpeak billing demand shall in no case be less than the sum of (1) 30 percent of the first 5,000 kW, (2) 40 percent of the next 20,000 kW, (3) 50 percent of the next 25,000 kW, (4) 60 percent of the next 50,000 kW, (5) 70 percent of the next 100,000 kW, (6) 80 percent of the next 150,000 kW, and (7) 85 percent of all kW in excess of 350,000 kW of the higher of the currently effective offpeak contract demand and the highest offpeak billing demand established during the preceding 12 months.

Minimum Bill

The monthly bill under these rate schedules, excluding any facilities rental charges and any reactive charges, shall not be less than the sum of (1) the base customer charge and administrative charge, (2) the portion of the base demand charge, as adjusted, applicable to onpeak billing demand applied to the customer's onpeak billing demand, (3) the portion of the base demand charge, as adjusted, applicable to maximum billing demand applied to the to the customer's maximum billing demand, (4) the base onpeak energy charge, as adjusted, applied to the customer's onpeak energy takings, and (5) the base offpeak energy charge, as adjusted, applied to the higher of customer's actual offpeak energy takings or the minimum offpeak energy takings amount provided for in the first paragraph of the section of these rate schedules entitled "Determination of Onpeak and Offpeak Demands, Maximum Metered Demand, and Energy Amounts". Notwithstanding the foregoing, amounts calculated under any fuel cost adjustment that is included in the Adjustment Addendum shall not be applied to any billed offpeak energy that exceeds the metered offpeak energy.

Single-Point Delivery

The charges under these rate schedules are based upon the supply of service through a single delivery and metering point, and at a single voltage. If service is supplied to the same customer through more than one point of delivery or at different voltages, the supply of service at each delivery and metering point and at each different voltage shall be separately metered and billed.

The amounts applicable for A_m under column (3) in this Adjustment Addendum shall be determined each month by applying data from TVA's forecasts of TVA's actual operations, as well as actual data when it becomes available in accordance with the formula below. TVA will endeavor to publish the calculated amounts 20 days in advance of the month of application (but shall in no event publish these calculated amounts any later than 15 days in advance of the month of application), and such amounts will be applicable to bills rendered from meter readings taken for TVA monthly billing cycles beginning on and after the first day of each month beginning October 1, 2018.

$$A_{mj} = \frac{CF_{mj} + DAR_{mj}}{95\%}$$

j = the particular customer group of LMS Customers, LGS Customers, or All Other Customers as those categories are defined in the Wholesale Power Rate Schedule.

CF_{mj} = The Core FCA adjustment for a particular month. $CF_{mj} = (FF_m / SF_m) + AD_{mj}$

FF = TVA's estimate of FA (as described below) for month m , based on the latest TVA Financial Forecast.

SF = TVA's estimate of SA (as described below) for month m , based on the latest TVA Financial Forecast.

Seasonal Adjustments (AD) are as follows:

| Seasonal Period | LMS Customers | LGS Customers | All Other Customers |
|-----------------|------------------|------------------|---------------------|
| Summer | -0.096 ¢ per kWh | -0.062 ¢ per kWh | 0.027 ¢ per kWh |
| Winter | -0.046 ¢ per kWh | -0.038 ¢ per kWh | 0.014 ¢ per kWh |
| Transition | -0.044 ¢ per kWh | -0.022 ¢ per kWh | 0.015 ¢ per kWh |

$$DAR_{mj} = R \times DA_{mj} / FISF_{mj}$$

R = The collection ratio of 50%.

$FISF$ = TVA's estimate of FISA (as described below) for month m and customer group j , based on the latest TVA Financial Forecast

DA = The deferred account that provides the true-up adjustment necessary to reconcile prior estimates to actual data, which shall be computed with the formulas below.

$$DA_{mj} = \text{General Ledger DA Balance} - \text{Estimate of DAR collections prior months}$$

$$DA_{mj} = GLDA_{(m-2,j)} - DAR_{(m-1,j)} \times FISF_{(m-1,j)}$$

LMS Customers - 85%
LGS Customers - 11%,
All Other Customers - 4%

These allocations shall be made based on class specific adjustments to the deferred accounts of LMS Customers, LGS Customers, and All Other Customers for the October 2018 and November 2018 fuel cost adjustments. These adjustments are intended to properly allocate the costs based on how they were incurred prior to October 1, 2018.

$FISA$ = Actual TVA energy sales subject to the FCA (in kWh) for month m and customer class j , as recorded in TVA's General Ledger with specific accounts 442000, 445000, 447000, 447100, and 448000 (or such similar or successor accounts as may be prescribed by FERC in the future).

GLDA = The general ledger deferred account balance that flows through to the balance sheet.

$$GLDA_{mj} = \overbrace{GLDA_{(m-1,j)}}^{\text{Accumulated General Ledger DA Balance}} + \overbrace{TU_{mj}}^{\text{Core FCA True-Up}} + \overbrace{GLD_{mj}}^{\text{DA Amortization}}$$

TU = The core true-up amount.

$$TU_{mj} = (FISA_{mj}/SA_{mj}) \times RCA_{mj} - GLR_{mj}$$

RCA = The RCA methodology allocates total fuel costs in proportion to the average hourly load of each customer group j, weighted by the dispatch cost of TVA's Top 100 MW of incremental cost in each hour.

$$RCA_{mj} = \left(\frac{\sum_i h_{ij} c_{ti}}{\sum_i \sum_j h_{ij} c_{ti}} \right) \times FA_m$$ i = the hourly interval of the billing month

h = the hourly energy of each customer group

C = Top Cost (dispatch cost for the top 100 MW)

FA = Actual total fuel and purchased power expenses (in cents) under the framework and accounts provided below (or such similar or successor accounts as may be prescribed by FERC in the future).

- (1) Fossil Fuel Expense - Account 501 - Direct cost of fuel burned in TVA coal plants, including transportation and fuel treatments. Costs to be excluded are lease payments for rail cars, maintenance on rail cars, sampling and fuel analysis, and fuel handling expenses in unloading fuel from shipping media and the handling of fuel up to the point where fuel enters the bunker or other boiler-house structure.
- (2) Reagents Expense - Account 502 - Cost of emission reagents such as limestone and ammonia that are directly related to the level of generation output.
- (3) Allowances Expense - Account 509 - Cost of emission allowance expense such as SO₂ and NO_x that are directly related to the level of generation output.
- (4) Nuclear Fuel Expense - Account 518 - Cost of nuclear fuel amortization expense dependent upon burn, including DOE spent fuel disposal charges.
- (5) Gas Turbine Fuel Expense - Account 547 - Direct cost of gas and oil burned in TVA plants, including transportation. Costs to be excluded are costs of gas storage facilities and sampling and fuel analysis that do not vary with changes in generation volume.
- (6) Purchased Power Expense - Account 555 - Energy cost of purchased power to serve native load demand or to displace higher cost generation. Costs to be excluded are fixed demand or capacity payments in tolling agreements and purchased power agreements that do not vary with volume and costs of purchased power linked to off-system sales transactions.
- (7) Audit Expenses - TVA's actual expenses incurred as the result of third party expenses for FCA audits.

SA = Actual total TVA energy sales (in kWh) for month m, as recorded in TVA's General Ledger with specific accounts 442000, 445000, 447000, 447100, and 448000 (or such similar or successor accounts as may be prescribed by FERC in the future), excluding any displacement sales reflected in account 447100.

GLD_{mj} = Actual TVA DAR revenue (DA amortization) for month m and customer group j, for firm-based energy sales, as recorded in TVA's General Ledger with specific accounts 442000, 445000, 447000, 447100, and 448000 (or such similar or successor accounts as may be prescribed by FERC in the future).

GLR_{mj} = Actual TVA Core FCA Revenue for month m and customer group j, for firm-based energy sales, as recorded in TVA's General Ledger with specific accounts 442000, 445000, 447000, 447100, and 448000 (or such similar or successor accounts as may be prescribed by FERC in the future).

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. Conditions of Delivery. The power delivered under the contract shall be 3-phase alternating current at a frequency of approximately 60 hertz and at the nominal voltage specified in the contract. Except for temporary periods of abnormal operating conditions, voltage variations shall not exceed 7 percent up or down from a normal voltage to be determined from operating experience.

Company shall exercise all reasonable precautions and install all equipment necessary to limit its Total Demand to the amount to which it is entitled under the contract. If the Total Demand for any interval exceeds the amount to which Company is so entitled, Company shall not be entitled to continue such excess takings, whether or not it is obligated to pay for them.

Maintenance by TVA at the point of delivery of voltage within the above stated limits and the frequency contracted for will constitute availability of power for purposes of the contract.

TVA shall not be obligated to install protective equipment, but may install such equipment as TVA deems necessary for the protection of its own property and operations. The electrical equipment installed by Company shall be capable of satisfactory coordination with TVA's protective equipment.

The power and energy taken under the contract shall not be used in such a manner as to cause unusual fluctuations or disturbances on TVA's system. Company shall provide, at its expense, suitable apparatus which will reasonably limit such fluctuations. In the event that unreasonable fluctuations or disturbances, including, without limitation, harmonic currents resulting in interference with communication systems or in harmonic resonance of now-existing facilities, are caused by Company's facilities, TVA shall immediately notify Company's designated representative of the circumstances, and TVA shall then have the right, after reasonable notice, to discontinue the delivery of power and energy under this contract until the condition causing such fluctuations or disturbances is corrected by Company. TVA shall give Company written notice of these circumstances in addition to the above-mentioned notice, but the requirement of providing such written notice shall not limit or delay TVA's right to discontinue service to Company. Despite such discontinuance of service, Company shall be obligated to pay TVA the amounts due for power and energy under the contract, including the minimum bills for such power.

2. Billing.

(a) Definitions. As used in this section 2,

(i) "day" shall mean a calendar day;

(ii) "business day" shall mean any day except Saturday, Sunday, or a weekday that is observed by TVA as a Federal holiday (Federal holidays currently include New Year's Day, Martin Luther King, Jr.'s Birthday, Presidents' Day, Memorial Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, Columbus Day, Veteran's Day, Thanksgiving Day, and Christmas Day); and

(iii) "Average Short Term Interest Rate" shall mean (a) the average of the interest rates payable on TVA's short-term borrowings (having maturities of less than one year) made during the calendar month preceding the month of the date of a bill, or (b) in the event that TVA made no short-term borrowings during such preceding calendar month, the Average Short Term Interest Rate shall be deemed to be the average effective interest rate on 91-day United States Treasury bills (based on the average of the closing bid and asked prices) during such preceding calendar month, plus 1/8 of one percent.

(b) General provisions. TVA will bill Company for all charges applicable under the contract for each Billing Month as soon as practicable. Payment of such bill by Company shall become due 10 days after the date of bill. To any amount remaining unpaid 10 days after the due date, there shall be added a charge equal to the sum of (1) $150 and (2) an amount calculated by applying the Average Short Term Interest Rate on a daily basis to the unpaid portion of the bill for each day of the period from and after the due date to and including the date of payment in full. TVA will prepare and send to Company appropriate invoices for such added charge, which shall be due and payable upon receipt. All payments shall be made to TVA at 400 West Summit Hill Drive, Knoxville, Tennessee 37902-1499, or at such other place as TVA may from time to time designate by notice to Company.

Hi Patrick,

Thanks for reaching out. Of course – the increased hosting rates for Marble 2 units’ power consumption for certain days were due to increased power fees in October.

The increase in hosting rates result from the power curtailment in Marble. Moses shared your approval of turning your rigs back on with me.

Attached file shows the impacted hours and days with higher power price and how the $0.0834/kWh rate is calculated.

Feel free to let us know if you have more questions or concerns.

Have a great rest of your weekend!

Thank you,
Monica

Hi Monica:

I would appreciate it if you could explain why our hosting rate over 10/8 to 10/19 is much higher than our contracted rate.

Thanks,

Patrick

Hi Patrick and Christy,

Hope you are doing well! Please see attached invoices INV42116 and INV42118 and associated support for your Hosting Services.

Please note –

1. Hosting rate for the usage from 10/8 to 10/19 (12 days) is $0.0834/kWh.
2. Since the dedicated premium support technician has not been assigned, we would like to terminate the Service and Repair Order (attached) and credit back the $6,000 + $5,714.29 = $11,714.29 previously paid. You could locate the credits on INV42116.

Feel free to reach out if you have any questions or concerns.

Regards,

|--|--|

DECLARATION OF MONICA XIA IN SUPPORT OF CORE SCIENTIFIC, INC.’S
AND FOR CIVIL CONTEMPT

¹ The Debtors in these chapter 11 cases, along with the last four digits of each Debtor’s federal tax identification number, are: Celsius Network LLC (2148); Celsius KeyFi LLC (4414); Celsius Lending LLC (8417); Celsius LLC (1387); Celsius Network Inc. (1219); Celsius Network Limited (8554); Celsius Networks Lending LLC (3390); and Celsius US Holding LLC (7956). The location of Debtor Celsius Network LLC’s principal place of business and the Debtors’ service address in these chapter 11 cases is 121 River Street, PH05, Hoboken, New Jersey 07030.

I, Monica Xia, declare:

1. I am the Accounting Manager for Core Scientific, Inc. (“Core”). I submit this Declaration in support of Core’s Opposition to Celsius Mining LLC’s (“Celsius”) Motion to Enforce the Automatic Stay and for Civil Contempt. The facts set forth in this declaration are based on my own personal knowledge, and my review of relevant documents and Core’s books and records that are maintained and used in the ordinary course of Core’s business.

2. As Core’s Accounting Manager, I am responsible for accounting and billing and in that capacity I am generally familiar with Core’s contractual relationship with Celsius, including the Master Services Agreement between Core and Celsius executed on December 18, 2020 (the “MSA”) and Order #10, executed under the MSA on September 27, 2021. I am also familiar with Celsius’ payments to Core, the general terms of Core’s contracts with its customers, and the types of payments that Core customers must make under those contracts.

I. POWER COST PASS-THROUGHS

3. Section 4(f) of the MSA is a standard clause included in the master services agreements between Core and its customers. Section 4(f) gives Core discretion to pass through increases in tariffs to its customers, including Celsius. Specifically, Section 4(f) provides in relevant part, “[A]fter the Effective Date, if there are any increases, changes in, or introduction or administration of, any new taxes, levies, tariffs or governmental fees and charges with respect to the provision of Services, [Core] may, in its sole and absolute discretion, pass through all such amounts to [Celsius] (“Increased Costs”) and [Celsius] shall pay all Increased Costs in accordance with the payment and invoicing procedures as set forth in this Agreement.”

4. My understanding is that, as used in Section 4(f), “tariffs” includes the rates charged by utility companies.

5. On September 27, 2021, Core and Celsius executed MSA Order #10. Order #10 states that it incorporates the MSA's Terms by reference, including Section 4(f) quoted above. See Order #10 at 1.

6. Mr. Lawlor states in paragraph 7 of his declaration that "Celsius' fees will be determined 'by reference to the Assumed power consumption per Unit of each deployed Unit, multiplied by the Hosting Services Rate (each as set forth above in this Order)," and implies that this somehow means Core agreed to charge Celsius a "fixed rate." Not so, and Mr. Lawlor is incorrect. First, as noted above, section 4(f) of the MSA permits Core to pass-through increases in tariffs, among other things. Moreover, set forth below is what the clause actually provides.

Fees. [Celsius] shall pay the fees provided for in this Order. The Fees for Services will be determined initially by reference to the Assumed power consumption per Unit of each deployed Unit, multiplied by the Hosting Services Rate (each as set forth above in this Order). Subsequent invoices will contain any additional charges incurred by [Celsius] and adjustments resulting from any differences between the Fees for Services invoiced in the preceding month and the Fee for Services based on [Core's] determination of power utilized by [Celsius] during that month, as well as any adjustments to [Core's] estimate of power to be utilized by [Celsius] in the upcoming month. Fees for Services for each month shall be paid in advance, in accordance with Section 3 of the Agreement.

See Order #10 at 4 (emphasis added).

7. Prior to filing for bankruptcy, Celsius paid power cost pass-throughs to Core. Celsius' objection to paying these increased tariffs only began after Celsius filed for bankruptcy.

8. As a general matter, Core is in frequent communications with its customers regarding deployment of machines, expected charges, and power prices. In October 2021, Core informed Celsius that due to curtailment, the energy costs charged by utilities would go up. Curtailment can occur when demand for electrical energy exceeds available supply and a utility instructs energy users like Core to use less power or face significant additional energy tariffs to avoid overloading transmission lines. Core turned off Celsius's and its other customers' machines in response to the curtailment but offered Celsius and each of its other customers the option of turning them back on if they agreed to pay the increased tariffs. On October 6, 2021, Mr. Lawlor sent an email to Core “authoriz[ing] Core to turn our rigs back on in light of the unexpected economic power curtailment in Marble.” A true and correct copy of Mr. Lawlor’s email is attached as Exhibit A.

9. Between October 2021 and April 2022, Core passed through the increased tariffs due to curtailment and Celsius paid those increased tariffs without objection.

10. Core’s invoices specifically informed Celsius of the increased tariff. For example, my email attaching the December 2021 invoice stated, “Please note – For power consumption in Marble 2 sites, the hosting rate from 11/16 to 11/28 (13 days) is $0.0721/kWh due to increased power costs.” Attached as Exhibit B is a true and correct copy of an email sent to Celsius on December 15, 2021 attaching an invoice reflecting the increased power costs due to curtailment. Celsius paid this invoice without objection.

11. In addition, on November 20, 2021, Celsius’s Chief Operating Officer, Patrick Holert, reached out to me by email seeking an explanation for the increase in hosting rate in October 2021. In response, I explained that “the increased hosting rates for Marble 2 units’ power consumption for certain days were due to increased power fees in October.” Mr. Holert then responded, “Thanks Monica. This makes sense.” Attached as Exhibit C is a true and correct copy of this email exchange between Mr. Holert and me.

12. As I discuss in more detail below, Celsius also paid the increased power costs that are now in dispute prior to filing for bankruptcy.

13. Core began imposing power cost pass-throughs to all of its customers in June 2022 due to the latest increased tariffs from utility companies.

14. These increased energy costs were included in the tariffs imposed by utility companies that Core had to pay to acquire the necessary power to provide services to its customers. Given these sharp tariff increases on power purchases, Core determined that it would exercise its discretion under section 4(f) of the MSA and pass through these increased tariffs to its customers beginning on its June 2022 invoices.

15. On June 17, 2022, Core sent Celsius INV 42520, which included Order #10, for May 2022 hosting services of $4,165,140.58, and a total amount owed of $4,195,599.19. Core's cover email enclosing this invoice stated in italics that, "Core Scientific has incurred continuing significant tariff increases since the implementation of our Master Services Agreement – Core Scientific has been notified by its electrical utility suppliers of significant tariff increases due to rising fuel costs. As an Increased Costs under the Master Services Agreement (Section 4f), Core will be passing through such tariff increases without markup. Hosting rate for May 2022 usage at Dalton, GA sites is the old rate plus $0.0214/kWh. You could also expect to see the tariff surcharges for your May usage in Calvert City and Marble 1 in your future invoice." Attached as Exhibit D is a true and correct copy of the June 2022 invoice.

16. Accordingly, INV 42520 included power cost pass-throughs for usage at the Dalton, GA sites of $440,179.34. Attached as Exhibit E is a true and correct copy of the Celsius mining data associated with INV 42520.

17. Celsius paid the invoice, which included the power cost pass-throughs for the Dalton, GA site, without objection. Attached as Exhibit F is a true and correct copy of a screenshot of a wire confirmation showing that Celsius paid the full June 2022 invoice.

18. Core likewise invoiced Celsius for power cost pass-throughs on July 15, August 16, and September 15. These invoices were sent in the ordinary course of billing, consistent with Core's routine billing cycle that applies to all customers. True and correct copies of those invoices are attached as Exhibit G. Celsius did not pay the prepetition power cost pass-throughs that Core invoiced in July and August, but initially paid the postpetition power cost pass-through that Core invoiced in August, paying a pro-rated amount of $598,743.20 for power cost pass-through amounts that accrued postpetition. The next month, however, Celsius offset its postpetition payment as a credit against its payment of the September invoice, stating that Celsius is "not responsible for bearing the cost of increased energy prices." Attached as Exhibit H is a true and correct copy of my email exchange with Celsius concerning the September 2022 invoice. On October 17, 2022, consistent with our routine billing cycle, Core sent Celsius an invoice for $4,986,605.08. This amount includes $1,505,940.08 for the September 2022 power cost pass-through. A true and correct copy of this invoice is attached as Exhibit I.

19. Of Core's 33 customers, with one exception, every other customer has paid the increased tariffs passed through by Core. The one exception is a very small customer with only 60 units where Core had previously provided notice that Core was ending its relationship with that customer.

II. AUTOMATED BILLING EMAILS

20. Core uses an accounting system called NetSuite that can generate template-based automatic email messages to customers who are past due on their invoiced payments. Core began using automatic email messages to remind customers about their invoices in approximately November 2020, nearly two years ago. An automatic message is sent to each customer (i) seven (7) days before a payment is due, (ii) one day (1) before a payment is due, (iii) one (1) day after a payment is due, (iv) three (3) days after a payment is due, and (v) five (5) days after a payment is due. True and correct copies of certain of the automatically generated email reminders are attached as Exhibit J.

21. Mr. Lawlor states in paragraph 18 that Core threatened to terminate the Agreement in writing and points to the automatically generated email that Core's system sent to Celsius on August 29, 2022. Mr. Lawlor must know this is incorrect given that Celsius has received other automatically generated emails from Core and never once previously suggested or raised concerns that Core was threatening to terminate the Agreement. Attached as Exhibit K are true and correct copies of examples of other automatically generated emails that Core's system sent to Celsius between February 2021 – June 2022.

22. On September 12, 2022, I disabled the NetSuite automatic messaging for Celsius. However, three additional automatic emails were inadvertently sent to Celsius after that date due to a system limitation issue. The last one was sent on October 1, 2022.

Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746, I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct. Executed on October 19, 2022, at Kirkland, Washington.

Hi Patrick,

Thanks for reaching out. Of course – the increased hosting rates for Marble 2 units’ power consumption for certain days were due to increased power fees in October.

The increase in hosting rates result from the power curtailment in Marble. Moses shared your approval of turning your rigs back on with me.

Attached file shows the impacted hours and days with higher power price and how the $0.0834/kWh rate is calculated.

Feel free to let us know if you have more questions or concerns.

Have a great rest of your weekend!

Thank you,
Monica

Hi Monica:

I would appreciate it if you could explain why our hosting rate over 10/8 to 10/19 is much higher than our contracted rate.

Thanks,

Patrick

Hi Patrick and Christy,

Hope you are doing well! Please see attached invoices INV42116 and INV42118 and associated support for your Hosting Services.

Please note –

1. Hosting rate for the usage from 10/8 to 10/19 (12 days) is $0.0834/kWh.
2. Since the dedicated premium support technician has not been assigned, we would like to terminate the Service and Repair Order (attached) and credit back the $6,000 + $5,714.29 = $11,714.29 previously paid. You could locate the credits on INV42116.

Feel free to reach out if you have any questions or concerns.

Regards,

Monica

Subject: RE: Core Scientific Inc. September 2022 Hosting Invoice - Celsius Mining LLC

Dear Monica,

Please be advised that Celsius has wired $3,668,892.32 in satisfaction of INV42672.

Celsius has set off the $1,740,896.00 invoiced on INV42672 for August 2022 "Power Costs Pass-through." Celsius has also set off the $598,743.20, which is the total amount Celsius paid on INV42658 for July 2022 "Power Costs Pass-through." As you recall, on September 20, 2022, Celsius advised Core Scientific that it disputes the "Power Costs Pass-through" surcharges that appear on INV42672 and on any prior invoices, including INV42583 and INV42658. The "Power Costs Pass-through" surcharges, which only began to appear on Celsius's invoices after it filed its Chapter 11 petitions, appear to reflect the increased power costs that Core Scientific is being charged by its energy providers. Celsius believes that these amounts have been charged to Celsius in error. Under Celsius's Orders with Core Scientific, Celsius is entitled to a fixed Hosting-Services Rate at the prices "set forth . . . in this Order." See, e.g., Order #10 at 4. Celsius is not responsible for bearing the cost of increased energy prices, nor are energy price fluctuations "new . . . tariffs" subject to pass through under the Master Services Agreement.

In addition to the above, Celsius has set off $680,973.21 because, according to the past three invoices, Celsius's actual usage was less than the pre-paid amount, resulting in a credit balance for Celsius. This assumes, and is consistent with our understanding, that the "Power Costs Pass-through" should not be included/billed as part of the monthly expense. Below is the detail for the actual usage setoff:

| INV42672 Aug prepayment vs actual true-up | (208,489.91) |
| INV42658 July prepayment vs actual true-up | (301,186.25) |
| INV42583 June prepayment vs actual true-up | (171,297.05) |

Please contact Celsius's counsel, Judson Brown, at Judson.Brown@kirkland.com or (202)389-5082, with any questions or concerns.

Thanks,
 Jenny

Hi Monica,

We are in receipt of the invoice (INV42672) for August actual hosting cost. Your email indicates that Core Scientific has been notified of "significant tariff increases due to rising fuel costs," and that, as a result, "surcharges" have been added to the invoice pursuant to Section 4(f) of the Master Services Agreement ("MSA"). Pursuant to section 3(b) of the MSA, Celsius hereby disputes these surcharges as they appear in the invoice (INV42672) and any prior invoices, including the invoice (INV42658) for July actual hosting cost. While we dispute these surcharges, we do wish to work cooperatively in an effort to understand these charges and resolve this issue. To that end, please provide to Celsius any documents and materials reflecting both the "tariff increases" that Core Scientific claims it has incurred and the payment of those charges by Core Scientific, in each of the relevant jurisdictions (namely, Georgia, Kentucky, and Texas).

Thank you for your prompt attention to this matter.
Jenny

Hi Jenny and Praveena,

Hope you are doing well! Please see attached invoice INV42672 and associated support for your Hosting Services.

Kindly note that Core Scientific has incurred continuing significant tariff increases since the implementation of our Master Services Agreement – Core Scientific has been notified by its electrical utility suppliers of significant tariff increases due to rising fuel costs. As an Increased Costs under the Master Services Agreement (Section 4f), Core will be passing through such tariff increases without markup. The tariff surcharges for your August 2022 usages in GA, KY and/or Marble 1, and TX sites have been added to this invoice.

Thank you, we appreciate your business and trust in Core Scientific!

Regards,
Monica

I. QUALIFICATIONS

1. I am the President and CEO of MegaWatt Consulting, Inc. (“MegaWatt”), where I provide leadership in data center strategy, development and operations for data center operators and customers. Through my consulting at MegaWatt, I have worked for large data center providers/colocation companies, with large data center users, major customers of important data center operators, and major data center operators themselves. I have worked with several of the largest (aka “hyperscale”) builder-owner-operators and providers of data centers and Internet cloud services including Digital Realty, Equinix, Google, Facebook, Apple, Yahoo, NTT, Baidu, Rackspace, and others, as well as other large government, financial, travel industry and corporate data center operators. I have also worked on the design of several supercomputing data center projects, and the design, development, and energy procurement strategies for several large crypto-mining data centers throughout the US for bitcoin and blockchain companies. In short, I have worked with the builders and operators of a major portion of the global data center footprint. I have evaluated both the business and technical sides of data centers, including identifying the best location for clients to build out data centers, the design and operations of data centers, exploring and implementing new technologies to use in data centers and negotiating data center leases and other data center-related contracts.
2. In March 2021, I became Director of Industry Strategy for Data Centers at CPower Energy Management, a leading demand-side energy management solutions provider that helps commercial, industrial, educational, healthcare, and government organizations save on energy costs. I led the development of the data center industry vertical, which includes the development and sales of energy efficiency, energy curtailment and generation solutions, and optimization products and services to large data center operators, in which we contracted with over 1,500 MWs of data center energy solutions specifically for data center service providers and crypto-mining companies.
3. Before my time at MegaWatt, I worked for data center operators and customers to select, acquire, and negotiate wholesale and retail data center leases. For example, as CTO of Unique Infrastructure Group, I helped develop the 2,200-acre Reno Technology Park, a dedicated data center campus sold to Apple as its largest data center campus anywhere in the world with a variety of unique large-scale power solutions. At Yahoo!, I led all data center and energy procurement, acquisitions, development, and global strategy with teams in 20 countries across six continents. While working under contracted work for Google in 2004 thru 2005, I led operations and expansion strategies for the company’s first data centers and energy initiatives, as well as the analysis to acquire the main data center hub and network interconnection point in New York, and data center operations, efficiency and related work on the build of custom computing hardware. I also developed over 60 data centers worth more than $4 billion around the globe at Exodus Communications—at the time the world’s largest co-location data center provider supporting over one-third of global Internet traffic, and also developed the energy procurement. I am currently a partner in the development of a new $550 million undersea fiber cable that will interconnect 11 countries between Asia and North America with a new route, new landing stations, and considered by the US government one of the “blue star” projects, meaning one of the most important new infrastructure projects.

4. Over the course of my career, I have led the design or development of more than $10 billion in data center projects and energy procurement in more than 25 countries and have led the site selection, acquisition, and evaluation of data centers and energy strategies in nearly 30 countries. In the United States alone, I have led the design, development, construction, or operation of data centers and energy procurement for data centers in nearly every state. I have consulted for leading providers of cloud computing services; leading financial and news firms; and government entities, including the U.S. Department of Energy (“DoE”) and U.S. intelligence and national defense organizations. I have also led a data center industry initiative over many years for the US DoE while working for Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory and led energy technology advancements for data centers with nearly every large technology company and large data center provider or operator.
5. In my 20+ year career, I have presented at dozens of industry conferences, including the Datacenter & Cloud Management Conference (Zurich 2017); the Silicon Valley Leadership Group Data Center Efficiency Summit (2009–2014); Data Center Infrastructure (Sao Paulo 2014); The Green Data Center Conference (San Diego 2010–2014, 2017; New York 2010; Dallas 2013); Data Center Dynamics (Chicago 2012); and Information Management Network, Financing, Investing & Real Estate Investment for Data Centers (Los Angeles 2011). I have provided extensive training on three continents about cutting-edge solutions for data centers and technology and have been interviewed on world TV news and national radio and for several publications, including CIO Magazine. I was the first person to be featured on the cover story for the main data center industry magazine, Data Center Dynamics Magazine, in June 2012. I was also a co-author of the definitive paper discussing data centers and other information technology infrastructure use of energy demand response: “Demand Response and Open Automated Demand Response Opportunities for Data Centers”, published in 2009.
6. I have received other awards and recognition for my work, including being named the 2017 Technologist of the Year by Nevada’s Center for Entrepreneurship and Technology, twice receiving the U.S. EPA’s EnergyStar Partner of the Year Award for innovative energy-efficiency solutions, and receiving congressional recognition from U.S. Senators Catherine Cortez Masto and Dean Heller, and Congressperson Mark Amodei. I have also led several data center industry initiatives and working groups, including chairing the 60-person Silicon Valley Leadership Group's Energy Committee, and I served on the Advisory Board of the University of Nevada Reno's College of Engineering.

7. I am being compensated at a rate of $500 per hour for preparation of this report. The opinions expressed in this report are my own, and my compensation is not dependent upon the substance of these opinions or the outcome of the litigation.
8. My curriculum vitae and a list of my trial and deposition testimony within the last four years can be found in the Appendix. I have had no publications in the past 10 years.

II. ASSIGNMENT

9. Core Scientific, Inc. ("Core Scientific") is a blockchain infrastructure company and Celsius Mining LLC ("Celsius") is the mining arm of a cryptocurrency lending company. On December 18, 2020, Core Scientific executed a Master Services Agreement ("MSA") with Celsius that covered certain services in connection with Celsius' digital asset mining rigs, including services relating to colocation, hosting, monitoring, maintenance and repair, technical support, and heat and thermal management.²
10. In the present litigation, Celsius alleges that Core Scientific refused to perform the contractual obligations owed to Celsius under the terms of the MSA.³ Celsius alleges that Core Scientific violated Order#10 of the MSA through (i) delaying the deployment of the mining rigs that Celsius supplied them, (ii) failing to notify Celsius of additional hosting capacity when it became available and (iii) adding improper surcharges called 'power costs pass-throughs' to its invoices following the petition date.
11. Counsel for Core Scientific, Weil Gotshal & Manges LLP, has asked me to assess the claims made by Celsius using my knowledge of the general practices observed in the cryptocurrency mining industry. I have developed such knowledge through years of work in providing advisory related to cryptocurrency mining infrastructure development. In addition to my industry experience, I have also relied on certain case specific documents shared with me by Counsel in reaching my conclusions.⁴

III. CRYPTOCURRENCY MINING, ELECTRICITY COSTS AND CAPACITY

A. Cryptocurrency mining

12. A cryptocurrency is a digital currency based on the blockchain technology.⁵ Examples of cryptocurrencies include Bitcoin and Ethereum.⁶ A blockchain is an immutable, chronological record of transactions (a type of digital ledger) where each transaction (or block) is securely verified and recorded into a network of computers through defined consensus mechanisms.⁷
13. Cryptocurrencies use two major consensus mechanisms by which all participants on a cryptocurrency network can agree on which blocks are legitimate.⁸ Proof of Stake requires network participants to stake cryptocurrency as collateral in favor of the new block they believe should be added to the blockchain.⁹ Proof of Work requires network participants to solve complex mathematical equations in order to secure the transactions and add them to the blockchain – a process requiring large amounts of computational resources and energy. One of the most well-known cryptocurrencies, Bitcoin, follows a Proof of Work consensus mechanism.
14. The process of participating in the verification of blockchain transactions during which new cryptocurrency is also generated as a reward is called “cryptocurrency mining”. Cryptocurrency mining is a cycle - the miners maintain and secure the blockchain, the blockchain rewards them with coins, the usefulness of coins as traded commodities or as currency for purchasing goods (mostly on internet marketplaces) provides an incentive for the miners to maintain the blockchain.
15. Proof of Work cryptocurrency mining involves vast networks of computers around the world and a tremendous amount of computing power to solve these increasingly complicated equations. Such cryptocurrency mining is typically done using specialized, high performance computer hardware known as mining rigs.¹⁰

16. Cryptocurrency mining computers operate nearly non-stop and consume tremendous amounts of electricity, which is converted into heat. A powerful mining server can have an electrical demand of 1,400 W or more, dissipating the equivalent quantity of heat to the data center.¹¹ A typical rack full of cryptocurrency mining servers today, the size of a standard home refrigerator, will consume between 25 and 75 KW of power¹², which is equivalent to power usage of about five to ten typical US homes, yet in the space similar to a home refrigerator. Larger cryptocurrency mining facilities have thousands of these computer racks and total power capacities exceeding entire cities and grid power plants.¹³ Most of the electricity consumed by each rack converts into heat, and this heat must be immediately removed using cool air and/or water, otherwise the servers can overheat within a few minutes. Therefore, cryptocurrency mining infrastructure is an extensive and large investment, comprising massive industrial power delivery and cooling systems, backup power systems, personnel, and services.¹⁴
17. Instead of making these heavy investments in cryptocurrency mining infrastructure and personnel themselves, mining firms typically contract with infrastructure providers to scale their computational capacity. Infrastructure providers typically offer the following services: Colocation/Hosting: The infrastructure providers (often data centers) have facilities where businesses can lease space with a set power capacity for servers and computing hardware.¹⁵ Monitoring: These can include video surveillance or software that enables business owners to monitor the performance of their equipment as well as provide security.¹⁶ Heat and thermal management: Servers can be cooled using three common methods: air cooling, a process that uses large arrays of industrial cooling equipment and multiple systems with precise temperature and humidity control of rack level airflow movement; immersion cooling, a process which utilizes circulation pumps and special liquids designed to work with electronics in lieu of air;¹⁷ and liquid-cooling, where liquid is pumped through the rack using small tubes connected to heat exchangers on each processor and other heat producing components within each server, cooling them directly with a liquid, and usually some supplemental air cooling for the remaining components and residual heat.¹⁸ Maintenance and Technical Support: Infrastructure providers offer onsite technical staff that can support operations of these sophisticated power and cooling systems, as well as remote access, data monitoring, etc. They also offer cleaning services to increase the lifespan of the equipment.¹⁹ Insurance: Most colocation facilities have insurance which covers all operations and equipment, excluding the specific cryptocurrency mining equipment owned by the customer.²⁰

B. Electricity costs for cryptocurrency mining infrastructure providers

18. Cryptocurrency mining and other data center facilities' operational costs are predominantly driven by the cost of electricity.²¹ In fact, the electricity costs can vary from about 60% to more than 75% of the total operational costs.²²
19. Utility companies serve electricity to consumers in the US and nearly all parts of the world. Electricity prices are highly regulated. In the US, regulators in each state review, amend, negotiate and eventually approve the prices that the utility companies want to charge their customers.²³ These prices, or "tariffs", include the utility company's cost of service and an agreed to return or profit on their sales. The tariff is typically expressed as cents per kilowatt hour ("kWh") and varies widely by region, the underlying sources of power generation, costs of fuel source, power demand and associated charges, or time of day or year. In the United States the total tariff for each kWh can vary by a factor of as much as 10:1 ratio (2.5 – 25 cents per kWh), affected primarily by geographic location.²⁴ Tariffs also vary for different sizes or classes of users (i.e., residential, commercial, and industrial users).²⁵ Tariffs for the generation of electricity are often adjusted each month or season.²⁶ And recently, fuel price adjustments have been monthly and rapidly escalating tariffs due to increase in prices and volatility of fuel procurement costs due to geopolitical and demand change.²⁷

20. The electricity price, or tariff, contains several key components. Typically, it includes demand charges for peak power demand during the billing period, fees for transmission and distribution of electricity, fuel costs and/or market costs for the procurement of energy, fees for financing, debt repayment (especially with nuclear and hydroelectricity), maintaining the utility company's infrastructure that is needed to deliver electricity to the customers, and other regulated fees.²⁸ The tariff also includes energy charges reflecting the actual energy consumed by the customer.²⁹ Prices can vary based on time of day (on or off-peak rates) and season (summer vs winter-time rates).³⁰ Another component to the tariff is a Fuel Cost Adjustment ("FCA") that accounts for the fuel prices. FCAs allow utility companies to automatically adjust monthly costs based on fluctuations in market prices for fuel most commonly natural gas and coal, and for electricity generated by the utility and procured from other sources.³¹ There can also be other components that factor into the price, such as metering fees, financing charges, public program charges, and energy efficiency surcharges.³² Finally, local, state and regional taxes or charges are often also an added pass-through charge on utility energy bills to customers, which also vary over time.
21. The balance between demand and supply of electricity is very delicate, since electricity is not stored in any significant capacity at the wholesale grid-level and needs to be consumed as it is generated.³³ Utility companies continuously monitor and must balance the demand and supply of electricity. During peak usage times, utility companies offer financial incentives to customers to reduce or temporarily curtail their energy use.³⁴ This ensures that there is balance in the demand and supply of electricity, which maintains the stability and operation of the electrical grid for all consumers – for if supply and demand are even slightly out of balance, the electrical grid will fail or have to shut down until balance is regained. These temporary reductions are called curtailments. Curtailment periods usually last about two to three hours and vary from a one or two to a few dozen per year.³⁵ Data centers (especially those focused on cryptocurrency mining) often take part in curtailment programs since they are large consumers of electricity who understand the sensitivity of electricity prices and have the ability to voluntarily and temporarily shut down the servers to reduce energy usage fairly rapidly for short durations.³⁶ Therefore, during curtailments, customers have the option to either reduce their use of power or pay the energy tariff charged by the utility company to continue using power. I have guided several crypto-mining and other data center operators in their participation in demand-response curtailment programs that have resulted in significant cost savings and operational choice to manage costs and provide other benefits.

C. Hosting capacity for cryptocurrency mining infrastructure providers

22. An infrastructure provider's hosting capacity primarily depends on power capacity, infrastructure and the ability to procure electricity. Power capacity refers to the maximum power available for the mining rigs to operate computational equipment to mine cryptocurrency. Power capacity is delivered to each computer rack by power infrastructure which includes transformers, substations, transmission line interconnections, switchgear, uninterruptible power supplies, generators, power distribution units, cables, wires, conduits, circuit breakers, fuses, and other equipment.³⁷ Most of the energy consumed by servers and other computing equipment converts into heat. Therefore, data centers are designed with cooling system capacity to match their power capacity. Cooling equipment varies by cooling systems used within the data center, the climate zone, and operational requirements. Typically, they can consist of chillers, cooling towers, air conditioning compressors, heat exchangers, pumps, motors, fans, fan arrays, valves, pipes, tubing, cooling fluids and gasses, air exchangers, evaporators, condensers, dampers, air ducts, filters, and many other components to transfer the heat from the computing and memory chips, power supplies, storage drives and other electronic equipment to outside of the building while maintaining precise temperature and humidity controls in different stages of the cooling system.³⁸ Core cooling is largely fluid dynamics—moving hot air up and out and cooler air through the facility.

23. The COVID-19 pandemic created supply chain issues and unanticipated delays for cryptocurrency miners and data center operators across the globe. Procurement of data center and cryptocurrency mining equipment, especially computers, processors, transformers, generators, switchgear, chillers, and other equipment was severely delayed due to supply chain disruptions.³⁹ In larger data centers, IT equipment is generally continually added and replaced or upgraded—known as equipment refresh—and data center space, electrical and cooling capacity are also continually added in phases. The ability to increase hosting capacity, refresh or replace existing equipment and provide repair and maintenance services was also restricted due to labor restrictions and supply chain issues.⁴⁰ Third-party manufacturers, suppliers, sub-contractors and customers were disrupted by worker absenteeism, quarantines, restrictions on employees' ability to work, office and factory closures, disruptions to ports and other shipping infrastructure, border closures, or other travel or health-related restrictions.⁴¹

IV. CORE SCIENTIFIC S ADJUSTMENTS TO PRICING IN CONSIDERATION OF CHANGES IN ELECTRIC POWER COSTS IS IN ACCORDANCE WITH GENERAL INDUSTRY PRACTICES

24. Core Scientific's pricing agreement with the Tennessee Valley Authority ("TVA")⁴² is a standard pricing agreement, consistent with the thousands that I have negotiated between utility companies and data centers in the past 20 years. The power tariff includes base power demand and energy charges, with varying rates for time of day and season. The tariff also includes adjustments to account for fuel and other variable costs. The utility company provides detailed formulas and information on how it uses the FCAs to adjust the price that they charge their customers for the electric power consumed.⁴³

25. Core Scientific and Celsius's MSA states that any increases, changes in, or introduction or administration of, any new taxes, levies, tariffs or governmental fees and charges with respect to the provision of services ("Increased Costs") could be passed through to Celsius at Core Scientific's "sole and absolute discretion", and Celsius was to pay all Increased Costs in accordance with the payment and invoicing procedures as set forth in the agreement.⁴⁴ I have negotiated thousands of service agreements between data centers and their customers during my career and conclude that it is standard practice to include such clauses that permit pass-through of increased tariffs along to the customer.
26. Evidence from the record shows that Core Scientific added Fuel Cost Adjustments ("FCA") to their invoices to Celsius in the form of "power costs pass-throughs". For example, an invoice dated September 15, 2022, included $1,740,896.00 in power costs pass-throughs for August 2022.⁴⁵
27. These were based on FCAs implemented by the utility companies. Core Scientific included notices from utility companies along with the invoices to Celsius that discussed the FCAs. For example, a letter dated September 13, 2022 from the Murphy Electric Power Board to Core Scientific showed the FCAs for "MSD class customers with Murphy Power Board."⁴⁶ A letter dated September 6, 2022 from the Tennessee Valley Authority showed the FCAs for rates at "Core Scientific's Calvert City location."⁴⁷ Core Scientific included information from the Energy Reliability Counsel of Texas's ("ERCOT") "Historical RTM Settlement Point Prices" for "Hubs and Load Zones".⁴⁸ These letters include a monthly FCA adjustment number expressed in cents per kWh, which is passed on to Celsius.
28. For example, the FCA numbers shared by Tennessee Valley Authority are as follows:

29. Therefore, Fuel Cost Adjustments are part of the tariffs charged by the utility companies, and Core Scientific passed the increase in tariffs along to Celsius consistent with standard industry practices.

⁴⁹ Lawlor Declaration, Exhibit J, p. 186.

V. CONCLUSION

30. Cryptocurrency mining requires a vast datacenter infrastructure consisting of specialized, high-performance computers, cooling systems and personnel. Cryptocurrency mining firms such as Celsius typically contract with infrastructure service providers to scale their computational capacity. Operational costs of such cryptocurrency mining infrastructure providers are predominantly driven by the price of electricity (or tariff) charged by utility companies, which can change frequently due to a variety of factors. Therefore, it is a common practice for large cryptocurrency infrastructure providers such as Core Scientific to pass along any increases in tariffs from utility companies to their customers.

Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746, I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

FILED BY CORE SCIENTIFIC OPERATING CO.

¹ The Debtors in these chapter 11 cases, along with the last four digits of each Debtor's federal tax identification number, are: Celsius Network LLC (2148); Celsius KeyFi LLC (4414); Celsius Lending LLC (8417); Celsius Mining LLC (1387); Celsius Network, Inc. (1219); Celsius Network Limited (8554); Celsius Networks Lending LLC (3390); and Celsius US Holding LLC. The location of Debtor Celsius Network LLC's principal place of business and the Debtors' service address in these chapter 11 cases is 121 River Street, PH05, Hoboken, New Jersey 07030.

1. Core Scientific Operating Company (formerly known as Core Scientific, Inc.) and on behalf of its affiliates, and each of their respective officers, directors, employees, managers, members, shareholders, partners, agents, representatives, successors and assigns (in their capacity as such) (collectively, “Core”) hereby submits this addendum to its amended proof of claim (the “Amended Proof of Claim”) on its own behalf against Celsius Mining, LLC (1387) (Case No. 22-10968-mg) and each of its affiliated debtors (collectively, the “Debtors”) in the above-captioned chapter 11 cases (the “Chapter 11 Cases”). By submitting this Amended Proof of Claim, Core does not waive or modify any claims that it may hold against any of the Debtors, regardless of whether such claims are included on any of the Debtors’ Schedules of Assets and Liabilities or Statements of Financial Affairs (defined below), and any such claims by Core are expressly preserved and incorporated herein.

2. On July 13, 2022 (the “Petition Date”), each of the Debtors filed voluntary petitions for relief under chapter 11 of title 11 of the United States Code (the “Bankruptcy Code”) in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York (the “Court”).

3. On November 16, 2022, the Court entered an order, Docket No. 1368, (the “Bar Date Order”) establishing certain dates by which parties holding prepetition claims against the Debtors must file proofs of claim, including requests for payment pursuant to section 503(b)(9) of the Bankruptcy Code.

4. Pursuant to the Bar Date Order, the Court originally established January 3, 2023 at 5:00 p.m. (Eastern Time) as the deadline for non-governmental creditors to assert any claims against the Debtors that arose prior to the Petition Date.

5. On December 21, 2022, Core and other Core entities (the “Core Debtors”) filed voluntary petitions for relief under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of Texas (the “Core Bankruptcy”).

6. On December 28, 2022, the Core Debtors filed an emergency motion to reject the Hosting Agreements (defined below) in the Core Bankruptcy, which was granted on January 4, 2023 (the “Rejection Order”).

7. On December 30, 2022, the Debtors filed a motion to extend the bar date. Docket No. 1803. On January 3, 2023, Core timely filed an initial proof of claim, consistent with the then-current bar date (the “Initial Proof of Claim”), and reserved all rights in that regard.

8. On January 10, 2023, the Court entered an order, Docket No. 1846, (the “Extended Bar Date Order”) extending the dates by which parties holding prepetition claims against the Debtors must file proofs of claim to February 9, 2023 at 5:00 p.m. (Eastern Time).

9. Core hereby submits its Amended Proof of Claim, which amends and supersedes its Initial Proof of Claim in all respects.

BASIS FOR CLAIM

10. Core is one of the largest blockchain infrastructure, hosting provider, and digital asset mining companies in North America, with fully operational data centers in Texas, Kentucky, North Carolina, North Dakota, and Georgia. Core provides hosting solutions for third parties, including, formerly, the Debtors, and also hosts its own cryptocurrency mining machines.

11. On December 18, 2020, the Debtors and Core entered into a Master Services Agreement (the “2020 MSA”), for Core to host the Debtors’ cryptocurrency mining equipment at Core’s data centers and provide certain related services to the Debtors. Pursuant to the 2020 MSA, Core and the Debtors executed ten separate related work orders that are generally governed by the MSA but also set forth certain terms specific to each purchase order (the “Orders”).² On December 3, 2021, the Debtors and Core entered into another Master Services Agreement pursuant to which Core agreed to provide services to the Debtors in connection with hosting additional cryptocurrency data mining machines for the Debtors (the “2021 MSA”). In connection with the 2021 MSA, Core and the Debtors executed Master Services Agreement Order #1-A, dated December 3, 2021 (“Order #1-A,” together with the 2020 MSA and Orders, and the 2021 MSA, the “Hosting Agreements”). The Hosting Agreements, which are governed by Delaware law, set forth the parties’ rights and obligations for Core’s provision of hosting services to the Debtors. Core’s Hosting Agreements with the Debtors, which have all been rejected in the Core Bankruptcy pursuant to the Rejection Order, are listed below:

| Date | Agreement | Core Entity | Celsius Entity |
| 12/18/2020 | 2020 MSA | Core Scientific, Inc. ³ | Celsius Core LLC ⁴ |
| 12/18/2020 | Order #1 | Core Scientific, Inc. | Celsius Core LLC |
| 12/18/2020 | Order #2 | Core Scientific, Inc. | Celsius Core LLC |
| 12/18/2020 | Order #3 | Core Scientific, Inc. | Celsius Core LLC |
| 12/18/2020 | Order #6 | Core Scientific, Inc. | Celsius Core LLC |
| 12/18/2020 | Order #7 | Core Scientific, Inc. | Celsius Core LLC |
| 8/22/2021 | Order #9 | Core Scientific, Inc. | Celsius Core LLC |
| 9/27/2021 | Order #10 | Core Scientific, Inc. | Celsius Core LLC |
| 12/3/2021 | 2021 MSA | Core Scientific, Inc. | Celsius Mining LLC |
| 12/3/2021 | Order #1-A | Core Scientific, Inc. | Celsius Mining LLC |

³ The entity that was known as Core Scientific, Inc. in 2020 and 2021 is now known as Core Scientific Operating Company.

⁴ Debtor Celsius Mining LLC was formerly known as Celsius Core LLC.

12. As discussed below, the Debtors had defaulted under the Hosting Agreements. Core reserves all rights to identify and raise additional claims and issues in connection with the Hosting Agreements or otherwise.

13. Under the Hosting Agreements, the Debtors were obligated to pay a hosting fee rate per miner, subject to Core's right to pass through increases in electricity costs as an additional cost to host the Debtors' miners. In addition, pursuant to the Order #10, the Debtors were required to prepay certain amounts in advance for hosting services in later months. In return, Core hosted the Debtors' cryptocurrency mining equipment at Core's data centers and provided certain related services to the Debtors.

14. The Debtors have refused to pay the increased electricity costs they owe Core, withholding millions of dollars in payment that were owed under the Hosting Agreements. Further, as of May 2022, the Debtors ceased making their contractual prepayments for hosting services, which were owed under Order #10.

15. On October 5, 2022, the Debtors filed their Schedule of Assets and Liabilities and Statements of Financial Affairs. See In re Celsius Networks LLC, et al, Case No. 22-10968-mg, Docket No. 5. In their Schedule of Assets and Liabilities and Statements of Financial Affairs, the Debtors scheduled a prepetition $1,100,563.45 unsecured claim for Core. The Debtors did not indicate that this claim was contingent, unliquidated, or disputed. As the Debtors do not contest this amount, at a minimum, Core is entitled to the $1,100,563.45 claim. Core's records, however, show that the correct amount the Debtors owe Core for unpaid hosting-related charges for the prepetition period is $3,886,169.41. The following chart details the minimum approximate amount of prepetition fees for hosting services owed to Core by the Debtors as of the date of the filing of this Amended Proof of Claim:

| 5/2/2022 | Contractual Prepayments for Order #10 | $1,244,002.50 |
| 6/6/2022 | Contractual Prepayments for Order #10 | $1,244,002.50 |
| 7/15/2022 and 8/16/2022 | Prepetition Power Pass Through Charges | $1,343,856.05 |
| 7/15/2022 and 8/16/2022 | Prepetition Hosting Charges | $54,308.36 |
| Total | | $3,886,169.41 |

16. In addition to the above amounts due to Core, Core also spent tens of millions of dollars building out the infrastructure to host the Debtors' machines. As a result of the Debtors' breaches of the Hosting Agreements, Core has suffered damages in an amount to be liquidated at a later date, but believed to be in excess of $30 million. Core reserves all rights to further amend its damages amounts. Core may also assert claims of equitable subordination of the Debtors' claims in the Core Bankruptcy based on Celsius's misconduct that caused harm to Core and its creditors.

17. Before the Hosting Agreements were rejected, Core had continued to perform under these prepetition Hosting Agreements with the Debtors in the ordinary course of business. The Debtors have not paid additional amounts for postpetition hosting prepayments and power pass through charges that have been due to Core. Additionally, in the event that the Debtors do not comply with the Rejection Order and timely and expeditiously remove their units from Core's facilities, Core will suffer further damages.

18. Core also has claims for the significant legal fees it has incurred as a result of defending itself against the Debtors' claims, which were incurred postpetition, and therefore are not included in this Amended Proof of Claim. Obligations performed or services rendered by Core to the Debtors pursuant to the Hosting Agreements, and other costs incurred after the Petition Date constitute claims entitled to administrative priority pursuant to section 503 of the Bankruptcy Code. Core reserves its right to amend its Proof of Claim and/or file a further claim for administrative expenses pursuant to any administrative claim procedures.

Reservation of Rights

11. Core does not waive or release, and expressly reserves, all rights and remedies at law or in equity that it has or may have against any Debtor, person, or entity. Core further reserves the right to collect any amounts owed by any of the Debtors from any third-party that may also be liable or to collect any such amounts from any escrow account available to Core.

12. Core expressly reserves all of its rights to assert any additional claims, defenses, remedies, and causes of action, including without limitation, claims for breach of contract, conversion, constructive trust, fraud, misrepresentation, or similar claims. Core further reserves all rights to amend, modify, supplement, reclassify, or otherwise revise its Proof of Claim at any time and in any respect, including, without limitation, as necessary or appropriate to amend, quantify or correct amounts, to provide additional detail regarding the claims set forth herein, to fix the amount of any contingent or unliquidated part of any claim, to assert additional grounds for any of the claims, to assert that any portion of the claims is entitled to administrative priority pursuant to sections 503 or 507 of the Bankruptcy Code, to seek reconsideration under section 502(j) of the Bankruptcy Code of any disallowance of any amounts claimed hereunder, or to reflect any and all additional claims of whatever kind or nature that Core has or may have against the Debtors, including, without limitation, any claims arising after the Petition Date.

13. To the extent any payment made by any Debtor prior to or after the Petition Date, is clawed back from Core, for any reason whatsoever, or Core is required to disgorge any of the payments, or any portion thereof (or a third-party is required to disgorge any such payment that results in a loss to Core), Core hereby reserves its rights to further amend this Proof of Claim accordingly.

14. The execution and filing of the Amended Proof of Claim is not and shall not be deemed any of the following: (i) a waiver of the right to withdraw the reference, or otherwise to challenge the jurisdiction of this Court, with respect to the subject matter of the claims asserted herein, any objection or other proceeding commenced with respect thereto, or any other proceeding commenced in these Chapter 11 Cases against or otherwise involving Core; (ii) an admission that any matter is a core matter or is a matter as to which this Court can enter a final judgment; (iii) the waiver of the right to have final orders entered in matters as to which the Court lacks the authority to enter final orders only after a de novo review by the district court; (iv) a consent to the entry by this Court of final judgment with respect to the claims asserted herein or any other matter; (v) a waiver or release of the claims or rights of Core against any other entity or person that may be liable for all or any part of the claims or any matters related to the claims; (vi) a waiver or election of any rights and remedies Core has or may have under the Hosting Agreements, or any other agreement(s) with any of the Debtors; (vii) a waiver of any right related to the confirmation of any plan of reorganization proposed in these Chapter 11 Cases; (viii) a waiver or agreement granting any party relief, including any lifting of the stay; and/or (ix) a waiver of any rights Core or any of the other Core Debtors may have in connection with the Core Bankruptcy or otherwise.

15. Neither the Amended Proof of Claim nor any of its contents, or this Addendum, shall be deemed or construed as an acknowledgment or admission of any liability or obligation on the part of Core. Core specifically reserves all of its defenses and rights, procedural and substantive, including, without limitation, its rights with respect to any claim that may be asserted against Core by any of the Debtors or any other person, or entity, and its rights to enforce the Hosting Agreements, or any other prepetition agreement with any of the Debtors.

Right of Setoff and Recoupment

16. Core reserves all rights and defenses with respect to setoff and recoupment that it may have. To the extent a Debtor asserts any claim against Core, Core shall have a secured claim to the extent of its right of setoff under section 553 of the Bankruptcy Code or right of recoupment against such claim with respect to the claims asserted herein and any amendments thereto.

Claims Arising on or After the Petition Date

17. The filing of the Amended Proof of Claim does not waive, alter, or otherwise affect any rights Core or any of the other Core Debtors may have with respect to any claims created or otherwise arising on or after the Petition Date. Core and each of the other Core Debtors expressly reserves their rights to file, assert, and enforce any and all such claims or similar claims at the appropriate time.
